. . . . let us welcome the future in a spirit of brotherhood and thus make a world in which, please God, all may dwell together in justice and in peace.

—KING GEORGE VI.
Christmas Day, 1942.

A Message
the President

IN SPITE OF THE FACT that some Faculties of the University have accelerated their courses, the majority of our students graduate in June. To all members of the graduating classes, I offer congratulations, and the wish that you may all have enthusiasm for your chosen career, great capacity for work, a constant striving to do your best, a recognition of the supremacy of duties over rights, and a deep trust in the victory of God, goodness, and right in the troubles of this present time. Easy and comfortable days do not produce or nourish strong characters. You are going into a world where the souls of men are being tried to the uttermost. Your university course should have given you, as equipment to meet the stern challenge of this hour, a well-disciplined mind, a reasonable store of knowledge, a power of discrimination, a broad outlook and a quickened imagination. You take away from the university, I trust, friendships that will last through life, a love of good literature, and a high sense of the obligation to serve.

You are dedicating this issue of Torontonensis to the United Nations. It is our prayer and our determination that these nations shall win a decisive victory. The length of the war will be largely dependent upon our will to win and the sacrifice and service with which we express that will. The universities have been called upon to make a great contribution to our war effort and they have nobly responded. Of graduates and undergraduates over 6,000 have entered the Active Service Forces; over 200 members of the staff have enlisted; and already over 90 of our number have given their lives for the Cause. Wherever you are placed, either in the university, or in the Services, or in industry, or in business or in the home or in the professions, do your immediate task with all your might. Kipling has well expressed this aspect of life:

"The wisest thing, we suppose, that a man can do for his land,
Is the work that lies under his nose, with the tools that lie under his hand."

You are needed at the moment, and you will be needed in the days of reconstruction. One of the most searching questions we can ask is, whether our United Nations will remain united, after the war is past and peace is to be established. Unless we do, the peace is already lost. The British Empire and the United States of America, the two great English-speaking democracies, are probably the leading powers who will after the war unite the command of great resources and a belief in liberal ideas. To them will gather the other great members of the United Nations, Russia and China, all lovers of freedom throughout the world, and the oppressed nations whose appalling sufferings will have led them to loathe tyranny. All those who believe in the same conception of the "good life", in the spiritual values which make democracy permanent and practicable, must surely also believe that our own freedom, happiness and safety depend on our continuing to work voluntarily together.

The university will have failed if it has not taught you that man does not live by bread alone. Bread he needs; but he needs something more. There is more to life than creature comforts. Man lives by the great words of God — by freedom, justice, goodness, truth, mercy, reverence. A famous engineer, Sir Louis Beale, lately said: "The engineer will not mechanize the human soul. He will realize that there is more to life than creature comforts. We need a new balance of values, a new order of ideals, a new standard of happiness. We shall never rest content until the whole world can enjoy these." This is a noble ideal to be realized.

Your Alma Mater wishes you well. May you have opportunities to work, to think and to help, in the stern days of war and in the difficult years of peace. In Kipling's words: "By the peace among our peoples, let men know we serve the Lord."

GREAT BRITAIN

Frank Watson, President of 4T5, passes the torch to Eastin Currey, Assistant Secretary of the "Lit" 4T6.

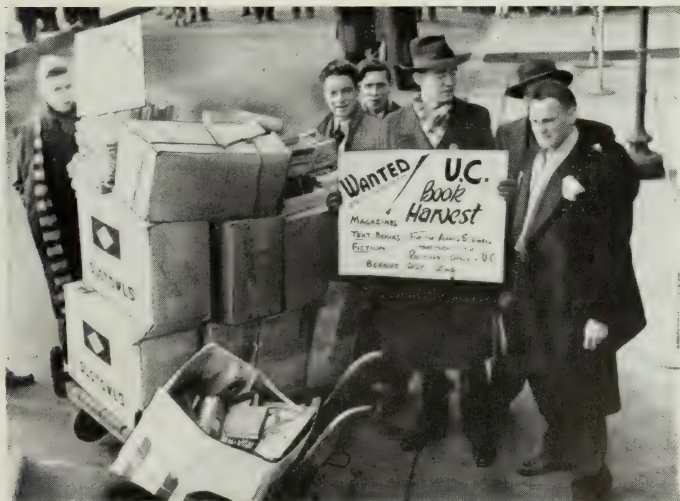

THE FALL OF 1942, and another class, perhaps a more sober group than their predecessors, entered University College, receiving the torch of endeavour from the wiser but sadder sophomores. They, too, looked forward to four valuable years of variety, but, under the threat of the impending draft, 4T6 discovered the library earlier than usual. After surviving initiation, which included compulsory brush-cuts completed in the Junior Common Room beneath the scissors of "barbarous" sophs, and experimentation in nail-polish painting by Whitney Hall-ites (calculated, of course, to make the lads more handsome for the scramble of the First Year Dance), the new-eds soon learned to skip lectures, evade P.T. classes and C.O.T.C. drills, and spend a leisurely hour in the Common Room. They discovered places of interest varying from Whitney Hall to the Hart House Billiard Room to Whitney Hall. Early in November came the call of the west and wheat, to which many responded. The year seemed hardly started, yet the first year elections had waited until nearly December, giving 4T6 its first glimpse of the Lit oil and back-slapping. The annual extravaganza, the U.C. Follies, the largest campus production, played to three enthusiastic audiences as usual, giving one of the best performances in years under the leadership of Sandy World and Harold Shuttleworth. 4T6 took its part in the show and also bolstered U.C. sports. The rugby team was in the finals; the volleyball in the semi-finals, and the basketball team won the championship. In track U.C. threatened S.P.S.'s supremacy with Phil Shackleton starring in every meet. Everyone was helping to make this one of U.C.'s greatest years.

THE YEAR moved swiftly on and 4T6 found interests other than academic. Friday afternoon was a chance to join in the petty politics of the U.C. Parliament. Prime Ministers changed as often as the weather. Here Governor-General Rowat reads the speech from the throne and Paul Reecke acts as clerk with Speaker Johnson in the background.

SOON IT WAS ALMOST CHRISTMAS and December brought with its snow Student Relief Day. "Tagresses," disguised as pretty co-eds, pinned on unwary students the blue and white I.S.S. ribbons and, after extracting another quarter, one's faculty colours. The Book Harvest was held in conjunction with the drive for funds, and here is the U.C. contribution with co-director Joe White in the foreground surrounded by eager U.C. helpers.

THE FIRST TERM was now nearly over and people worried about Elliot Little's remarks. The Staff-Student Conference brought the matter to the general attention of the undergraduates and this year U.C. eds and co-eds realized their responsibilities more and more as students. However, the normal activities were carried on and Whitney Hall and "73" held their annual Christmas parties under the auspices of Miss Ferguson and Dean Cochran. Here is a moment at the Men's Residence—one lone student matching bridge wits with three of the leading lights of the Faculty WHITNEY HALL, as always, provides solace for males of every faculty but especially for U.C. men. The coed's time was limited this year with the further promotion of women's war work. However, the experience of nursing, sewing and recreational leadership doubtless improved their ability to help the men by sewing on lost C.O.T.C. buttons. "Dr. Cody Carves" is the title given to this shot taken in "Dr. Cody's House". Madge Shear, head girl, looks on approvingly as the President essays his task.

MANY THINGS were changed this year under the stress of war conditions, but '73's time-honoured initiation was carried out again. Here the torch bearer of three pages back is seen in a new pose, "urged on" in his paper race by an enthusiastic upper year man.

DESPITE THE SERIOUSNESS with which we approached our studies, we still found time for relaxation. At U.C. Athletic Night—naturally the best one—we see a couple of square dancers slimming down slightly. The joint meetings of the Lit and the W.U.A. helped also to build up our morale. The tramp of C.O.T.C. shoes and the worry of polishing buttons did not prevent us from enjoying a quiet hour of music at the Record Club upstairs in U.C. The Arts Ball, bigger and better than ever, soon arrived with Bob Chester. Those of us who now receive our last pseudonym, do so regretfully. The rest of us look forward to another year of even fuller life and enjoyment.

MALCOLM W. WALLACE,

B.A., Ph.D.

NOW THAT ULTIMATE VICTORY seems assured to the Allied Nations, it is surprising how little impulse we have to rejoice in the fact. In the first place we know that terrible battles are still to be fought, and that when the Continent of Europe is invaded it is highly probable that the Canadian Forces will be the spear-head of the attack. As yet we have paid only a small part of the price of victory.

But perhaps our chastened mood is due even more to our instinctive shrinking from the problems that will confront us when the war has been won. Are we competent to undertake such giant tasks? Under the lash of war we have learned to co-operate with our allies, even to be generous in promoting the welfare of our common enterprise. But when the immediate danger has passed may we not relapse into our native isolationism? May we not devote our energies to playing our own hand, and savour again the delights that flow from successfully thwarting our political opponents, beggaring our neighbours, and indulging to the full all our national and class and religious prejudices? At any rate it is true to say that many wise and good men cannot to-day take a full look at the world of the near future without a sense of grim foreboding.

Man is certainly a creature inadequately equipped with reason and good-will and a disinterested love of his fellows, to organize the new and better world for which he longs. Nevertheless indulgence in pessimistic fears can avail him little. He is capable of reason and good-will and generosity. In the midst of these years of horror he has learned something about human values, and he knows that he must learn more and translate what he learns into deeds if he is ever to escape from the nightmare of recurring world wars. Every man and woman who can think clearly about our human problems, or who can make the voice of good-will and human kindness prevail, may make a contribution of inestimable importance to realizing the ideals of a better world. If you who have had the opportunity to spend some years pondering human problems, fail to make your positive contribution, men may well become skeptical as to the value of university training to fit our youth for wiser and more satisfying living.

Message From the Permanent Executive

IT'S BEEN ONLY FOUR YEARS—but what a wealth of friendship most of us have built up during this short time! You have all heard graduates say that the friendships sealed at college are the most cherished contacts one can make in life. As undergraduates we are too apt to forget this truth, and by the time we have gone on to other things, we may realize too late that we should have valued more highly the friendships made here.

It is for this reason—for the purpose of keeping the class of 4T3 welded together into a group—that the Permanent Executive has been set up. The first step to take in order to ensure your place among that great body of University College graduates is to join the Alumni Association; and the best indication of your desire to retain your membership of the Graduate Class of 4T3 would be to attend the graduate dinner to be held the day of graduation.

We hope that the Permanent Executive may become the focal point for your contacts with the College and with the other members of your year; and, therefore, that you will keep us informed of your whereabouts, so that we can give you news of your friends.

We, the first class of "War babies," may feel that we have missed much from the curtailment of study and activities during wartime. The war has had a sobering effect upon our thinking, and we feel that we must strive to retain as much as possible of the benefits of our college career. For this reason—and because none of us knows how far apart we all may be scattered in the next few years—it is all the more important that we should strive to maintain the unity of our Class.

With these thoughts in mind, then, we wish you every success as the gates are thrown open to the new fields that lie before you.

Victoria University — 1836-1943

FOR THE FIRST FIFTY-SIX YEARS of its history Victoria University was located in Cobourg. The Upper Canada Academy was opened in 1836 and on October 12th of the same year the Royal Charter was granted by King William IV. In 1841 the Charter was extended to include degree-conferring powers and the name was changed to Victoria College. The first degree in Arts in Ontario was conferred by Victoria College in 1845 on Oliver Springer. A Faculty of Medicine was added in 1854; a Faculty of Law in 1860, and a Faculty of Theology in 1871. A department of Science was organized, and in 1877 Faraday Hall was opened and had the unique distinction of being the first building in the province erected and devoted exclusively to scientific work. In 1884 the name was changed to Victoria University. Egerton Ryerson was responsible for securing the Royal Charter and he was the first Principal of Victoria College in 1841. In 1850 Samuel S. Nelles took charge of the College. Under his wise and far-sighted guidance the work of Victoria grew and expanded as additional faculties were added.

Federation
University
Toronto

THE FEDERATION of Victoria University with the University of Toronto became an accomplished fact in 1892. Victoria was a pioneer in setting up the system of education by which the provincial university and three independent denominational universities and colleges have, in the course of time through their federation agreements, established the Faculty of Arts of the University of Toronto as it exists to-day. Since 1892 Victoria University has conferred degrees in Divinity only and her power of conferring degrees in Arts, Medicine, Law and Science has remained in abeyance. From 1892 to 1928 the organization of Victoria University consisted of two faculties, Arts and Divinity. The task of translating the federation agreement into practice was accomplished by Chancellor Nathanael Burwash, who had succeeded Dr. Nelles in 1887 and held office until 1913. During the difficult war years and during the period of expansion in 1920-30 Chancellor R. P. Bowles guided the destinies of the institution

Growth and Reorganization

RESIDENCE ACCOMMODATION was provided in Cobourg, but for the first eleven years in Toronto, Victoria had no residence for students. The Annesley Hall Women's Residence was opened in 1903. The Birge-Carnegie Library was completed in 1910. Burwash Hall and the Victoria College Men's Residences, the gift of Mr. Chester D. Massey, were opened in 1913. In 1926 Victoria University received Wymilwood Women Students' Union and Residence, the gift of Mrs. E. R. Wood and Lady Flavelle. Emmanuel College and the Emmanuel College Men's Residences were first occupied in 1931. Victoria University now has residence accommodation for about 170 women students and about 235 men students. Church union in 1925 affected both the work and the organization of Victoria University. The Victoria University Act of 1928 provided for two colleges, Victoria College in Arts and Emmanuel College in Divinity. In 1930 Dr. E. W. Wallace succeeded Chancellor Bowles. The one hundredth anniversary of the granting of the Royal Charter was celebrated in 1936

Victoria in Wartime

IN FEBRUARY, 1941, Principal Walter T. Brown of Victoria College was appointed Chancellor and President of Victoria University, succeeding Dr. Wallace, who had resigned because of ill health. The Inauguration Service, at which the new Chancellor was formally installed, was held in Convocation Hall on October 15th, 1941. During the session 1942-43 there were 875 students in Victoria College and 103 students in Emmanuel College. There are approximately 575 names on the Victoria University Roll of Service, made up of men and women, graduates, undergraduates and former students of Victoria College and Emmanuel College and members of the staff. Of this number, ten have already made the supreme sacrifice. From May, 1941, until October, 1942, three houses of the Men's Residences were occupied by members of the R.C.A.F. taking the Radio Technicians' Course. Since October, 1942, the officers, N.C.O.'s and men of No. 1 Canadian Army Course have been quartered in Middle, Gate and South houses of the Victoria College Men's Residences, which are officially known as "Burwash Hall Barracks". Thus history repeats itself, as these same Residences were used by the Army and the Flying Corps during the first Great War.

WALTER T. BROWN,

M. A., F. D.

AS ONE LOOKS upon the magnificent funeral car of the Duke of Wellington, which is still preserved in the crypt of St. Paul's Cathedral, one realizes something of the significance for Britain of the defeat of Napoleon. And yet a modern writer says that the British carried on their war with Napoleon without enthusiasm. It has never been the custom of our race to be enthusiastic about war. The statement of Hitler "that he who wants to live must fight. . . . In eternal warfare man has become great, in eternal peace he would be ruined" seems to us the ravings of a maniac. We are believers in peace. Nevertheless, when war comes, we carry it on, not with enthusiasm, but with determination. Slowly we have built up a civilization which embodies the spirit of our race, its independence, its integrity, its love of fair play. It is our contribution to human welfare; we believe in it; we are determined that it shall not perish from the earth, and that we shall have the opportunity of making our contribution to it. In quietness and confidence is our strength.

You are the fourth class to graduate in the midst of this titanic struggle, and you step forth from college halls at a time when our faith and our determination will be put to a severe test. The indications are that this will be a difficult, critical, and perhaps decisive year, both in the theatre of war and on the home front. Many of you will go directly upon graduation into the armed forces; some will find it necessary to continue in civilian life. But whether you enter the combatant service or follow the humbler path, you have no choice, if you are to be worthy of your heritage—you must give yourself wholeheartedly to your nation and to your civilization. Your Alma Mater will follow your steps with sympathetic interest, confident that in the hour of trial you will not be found wanting.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

REVEREND F. H. COSGRAVE.

M.A., D.D., LL.D., D.C.L.

IT IS MY PRIVILEGE to send you on behalf of my colleagues and myself a brief message of congratulation and good wishes as you leave our halls for other tasks. Many members of the Year 1943 are already on Active Service, and others are planning to join the Armed Forces immediately after graduation. It is certain that every member of the Year will seek to contribute in some way to the great effort to overcome the evil forces which threaten to wreck our civilization and destroy everything we value. Wherever you go in the performance of this great task, our prayers and good wishes will follow you. It will always be difficult for us to express adequately our gratitude to you and all the other young men and women of the United Nations who resist the foe with courage and resolution.

There is great concern to-day for the character of the peace which should follow the war. We do not share the optimism of other days that Victory will necessarily bring a satisfactory and permanent peace. We shall need more than anything else an adequate supply of men and women of intelligence and integrity to contribute to the new order of life. Our Universities can justify themselves only by sending forth such persons. The present task of the United Nations, in which you are now so enthusiastically joining, is through Victory to secure the opportunity to build a better world. The task which lies ahead is to provide a fuller and fairer life for all men. It is our hope that you will show the same devotion and resolution in advancing toward that objective in the days which will follow the cessation of hostilities.

Ena McDowell Bliss
Port Arthur, Ont.

Household Economics. Four years at the corner of Avenue Rd. and Bloor have given no particular desire to be a teacher or a dietitian; am open for suggestions.

Eric Gordon Bruton
Orono, Ont.

Pass Arts. Entered Trinity from Orono Continuation School and resided for three years in Trinity's Henderson Tower. Intends to enter Divinity next year. Was a member of C.O.T.C. at Varsity and active in Church and Sunday School work. Among other things a self-styled punster, to the regret of his friends.

Francis Taylor Bryant
Toronto, Ont.

Pass Arts. A product of North Toronto and Jarvis Collegiates, "Frank" intends to proceed to Divinity. Lay Mission work in the Diocese of Brandon and a resumption of school work to prepare for the Ministry lie dimly in the future.

John R. C. Cartwright (ΦΚΠ)
High River, Alta.

Originally "Tape" of 4T2 with some scholarships. Thereafter more bridge and less work, with several more athletic sports thrown in. Notorious rather than well known. Still looking for a "one and only" or else bachelorhood with three other good bridge players.

Henry Bryan Farquhar Connacher
Jamaica, B.W.I.
General Arts.

Barbara D. Conway
Huntsville, Ont.

Fine Art. Matriculated from Branksome Hall School. Taught riding at girl's camp two summers. St. Hilda's Literary Executive I; St. Hilda's Athletic Executive II, III; University Women's Ski Executive II, III; Interfaculty Tennis III, IV; Interfaculty Badminton II; Interfaculty Ski Team III.

Zilda G. Cook
Picton, Ont.

Pass Arts. Always seemed to find long hours of conversation more stimulating than long hours of study. Result: College career — undistinguished. Future — undistinguished.

Jane Barbara Cory
Toronto (the good?)

Household Economics. Matriculated from St. Clement's School. Scholarships? Don't be funny! Activities included dancing, Active Service Canteen. Hopes for war work in lab for the duration. Later hopes there is a man left to try her cooking on. On Household Science Club Executive every year.

Thomas Donald Cotton
Toronto, Ont.

Pass Arts. Came to Trinity College from Bloor Collegiate, and unknown to most of his contemporaries, spent three years there obtaining an all-round education. Music is an outside interest but the army looms large in the future.

Robert Derrick Smith
Toronto, Ont.

Honour Law. Came to Varsity from Lawrence Park Collegiate, Toronto. Is six-foot-three of intellect, with few dislikes and many likes—like skiing and music and week-day matinees at Sheas.

Thomas Henry Smith
Toronto, Ont.

Modern History. Entered Trinity in 1939. Gathered sufficient momentum to carry me from "worm" and cadet to "guppy" at Gordon Head. Success owed to Trinity 4T3 quartet and History Club. Army future may be short and lively.

William L. N. Somerville
Collingwood, Ont. (ZΨ)

Honour Law. Four years of distilled wisdom have created a real thirst for knowledge. If a proper patron presented himself, would consider becoming the twentieth century's Omar Khayyam. Advice to undergraduate posterity: stay off committees and out of campus crusades.

Edith Stedman
Gananoque, Ont.

Better known as "Judy" around Trinity; inclined to worry and not to work.

Kathleen Alice Storey

Pass Arts. Lucky girl! comes from Brockville. Need we say more? Future plans—Brockville.

CANADA

REVEREND T. P. McLAUGHLIN,

B.A., J.C.D.

YOU OF THE GRADUATING CLASS of 1943 have made your entire University course while your country has been engaged in the greatest war in history. This fact is not without its importance. These have been arduous years for you as for everyone else. Though your curriculum has suffered many modifications I do not believe that you have failed to acquire the essentials of what a University aims at imparting to its students.

The privilege which you have enjoyed of pursuing higher studies while others were employed in the more immediate service of their country carries with it no stigma in the eyes of all right thinking people. But it does carry the very serious obligation of a dedication to future service of a kind which your studies have fitted you. The value of a liberal arts course has frequently been pointed out during these years. It is your duty to supply the proof for its claims.

It is incumbent upon you especially never to forget the twofold aim of winning this war and of establishing a stable peace based on justice. The qualities of leadership and of independent thought which you have developed, the vision, the moral and religious concepts, the understanding of justice and the knowledge of men and institutions which you have acquired, make of you highly skilled workers in this vast field. The habits of sacrifice, of lending and giving, of co-operation, of overlooking differences, of searching for points of agreement, all aimed at mutual understanding and friendship which you have formed during your years at College are also making the strength of the alliance of the United Nations and must when victory is achieved be applied to all nations. Lasting peace we shall never attain without continued individual and collective sacrifice.

If you will remain true to the religious, moral and intellectual ideals which you have learned during these years and if you will devote all your energies to the establishment of the Brotherhood of all men under the Fatherhood of God then your University and your College will inscribe your names among its great.

Joseph John Abend

Pass Arts. Came to Varsity from St. Andrew's School, Killaloe. Member of Newman Club I, Dramatic Club I-III, Loretto House Committee III. Favourite pastime—air mail letters.

Louise Marie Hart-Smith
Hamilton, Ont.

Music. Entered Varsity with musical aspirations and joined Newman Club I-IV, where she put them into practice. Enjoyed basketball, debating, and dramatics. Elected to S.A.C. III, IV, she found herself Head of the house in IV. Future—What next?

Marion Isobel Sirdevan
Toronto, Ont.

Moderns. Scholarship III. Other interests? Debating, dramatics. Clubs? Newman, chiefly I-IV. The Varsity?—certainly, and the proud possessor of a pin. . . . Future? That's right, just a question mark!

Rita Catherine Stortz
Arthur, Ont.

Pass Arts. From the A.H.S. she came to Varsity on a Loretto Scholarship. While not actively engaged in Pass Arts she took part in debating, dramatics, Varsity reporting, Red Cross work, and was a member of Newman Club, University Spanish Club, Loretto Social Committee, and S.A.C.

Mary-Ellen Taylor
Toronto, Ont.

Pass Arts. Came to Varsity from St. Joseph's Convent. Pursued a strictly intellectual path in I; Varsity and Newman Club I-III; Dramatics I, II; Secretary III; Debates President III. Life ambition: to write a novel. Future? I hope so!

Geraldine Frances Wilson
Hamilton, Ont.

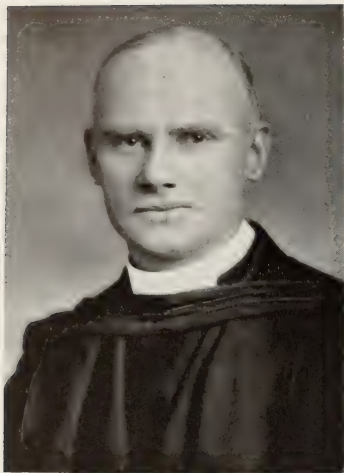

Pass Arts. Since graduating from Loretto Academy, Gerry has been wandering through Varsity. Found herself in dramatics, specializing in maid roles, and on the Intercollegiate Debating Team II. Was Newman Corresponding Secretary III; on The Varsity III. Is now wondering what will follow.

AUSTRALIA

REVEREND RAMSAY ARMITAGE.

M.C., M.A., D.D.

YOUR GRADUATION YEAR, 1943, marks the beginnings of victory for the United Nations.

The motif of this "Torontonensis", then, will not be accounted fortuitous and accidental but rather symbolic of your ministerial calling and election. It declares that there is a higher concept than nationalism and that there is a larger loyalty than our British allegiance, precious as that may be.

Nationalism almost eludes definite description yet Traquair says it well: "The only workable definition of a nation is that it is any body of people who have made up their minds to be a nation. They do not need to be of the same race as witness the United States and Great Britain; they do not need to speak the same language as witness Switzerland or Belgium; they do not need to live in the same country as witness the Jews; they only need to have made up their minds about it."

Only need to have made up their minds! But there can be darkened minds with crooked, and perverted thinking. There can be a nationalism cruelly ambitious and wantonly self-seeking. Did not the name "Nazi" come by way of National Socialism? Is it not significant that American isolationists of yesteryear are beginning to call themselves "Nationalists"?

"The United Nations" names a larger concept and ideal. Not one Master Race but all men of good will.

It is earnest of the Christian Evangel that the One God and Father of us all is concerned not with one people but with all nations.

Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation.

God would have all men to be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth.

We believe One Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church.

Go ye therefore and teach all nations.

This is your appointed task.

John Russell Flagler

Calgary, Alta.

Came to Wycliffe in '37 and graduated from U.C. in '40. Ran harrier and indoor track II-V, University Track Team V. Was on Hart House Music Committee IV, V. Ordained Deacon in Dec., 1942, and now assistant at Holy Trinity Church, Welland. Hopes to serve Christ and His Church, perhaps on the mission field.

NEW ZEALAND

REVEREND THOMAS EAKIN.

M.A., Ph.D., D.D.

YOU ARE GOING out to begin your career in one of the most critical and challenging times in all the history of the world. Changes in the world order are inevitable; the common phrase for this new day is "winning the peace". The new day has always been an ideal; the Bible is full of it; but if a new order is to be established what is to be the foundation of it and who are to be the heralds of it? To-day we hear the voice of the economist and the humanitarian, but fundamental to everything else is the contribution you can make; for behind the economist and the humanitarian there must be the moralist, and behind the moralist there must be the evangelist. No rule of thumb and no social programme can cure our ills; for "not without celestial observation can even terrestrial charts be accurately determined". That threadbare phrase "The world must be made safe for democracy" is good, but not good enough; for democracy itself will never be safe unless and until it is regenerated. King Demos must be made to see another King whose demands are inexorable and ineluctable, and a supreme allegiance beyond that of self-interest. If we cannot find a directive and dynamic force in the religion of Christ there is little use in talking of new days or new orders, and unless we discover and obey some compelling principle strife may disappear from one sphere only to appear in another.

My word to you is; go out to your task with confidence and determination: the world is sore in need of the prophet.

A. Ferguson Jardine Ban
St. Johns, Nfld.

Robert D. A. Currie, B.A.
Chatsworth, Ont.

Graduated from Owen Sound Collegiate and Stratford Normal before teaching in Grey County. Graduated from University College (Toronto) '40. MacArthur Scholarship I. Took part in sports for Knox—soccer and baseball.

Andrew Wm. Jos. McMullen
Markham, Ont.

Son of manse, Theological (course), (matriculated from) Renfrew C.I., won recognition in Athletics; Peterborough Normal School, Music and Dramatics. Came to Varsity to qualify for a position of service and concentrated on my studies. Ont. to a B.D.

Thomas Arthur Aubrey Duke
Port Carling, Ont.

Matriculated from Bracebridge C.I. Went through U.C. on way to Knox. Ambition—to be a lowly minister.

Donald Vance Wade
Ingersoll, Ont.

Matriculated from Ingersoll C.I. Philosophy Club. Treasurer, Knox College Missionary Society II.

Ian Peter Ferguson MacSween
Winnipeg, Man.

A Scot from Winnipeg with a brrrr—eloquent Hebraist, seldom serious, celibrant (so far), even-tempered, slightly reserved, non-ascetic. Some shucks as a hobbyist, scaled the heights, won all Knox athletic awards, President K.C.A. III. Motto: "Always be doing—".

Robert Bert Milroy
Toronto, Ont.

Despite a Western B.A. and the purgatory of the Grad School, his good Scottish birth and ancestry carried him through Knox. But "a man's a man for a' that" and so the Presbyterian Kirk has a candidate for the ministry.

George Henry Young
Hamilton, Ont.

Take the pride of the Young household all the way from Hamilton, the best efforts of McMaster profs, the untiring skill of the Grad School, and the Christian patience of Knox cons. Result: a future minister o' the auld Kirk.

Stanley Wekeley Vance
Ottawa, Ont.

Came to Varsity from F.W.C.I. to learn a Paradox: to learn was Virtue but Learning was Vanity. U.C. took away Hope. Knox shook Faith. But Charity remains. My hope now rests on my faith in Charity.

Henry Mathews
Belfast, Ont.

Came from Beachers School Belfast. Played soccer, hockey, badminton, tennis, volleyball, and indulged in swimming.

Howard Glenson Marsh
Fort Francis, Ont.

Came to Knox by way of University College and Sociology; bowed before the Divine Determiner. Entrusted with the 'care of all the churches' in III. No specific plans for future.

Thomas Robert Maxwell
Toronto, Ont.

Veni: from business life, via Sociology, into Theology.
Vidi: fees paid by scholarships and various jobs; Canada through five Mission Fields; Human nature as President, Varsity Christian Fellowship, and Knox Missionary Society.

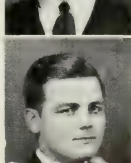

Vici: No! He conquered, and called to His service.

James Philip Schissler
Victoria Harbour, Ont.

Matriculated from Orillia C.I. A one-time student in S.P.S. — Mechanical—who saw the light.

Perry Francis Rockwood
New Glasgow, N.S.

UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA

REVEREND RICHARD DAVIDSON,

M.A., PH.D., D.D.

THE CHRISTIAN HAS TWO PICTURES before him every day of his life. When he is aware of the tensions and antipathies and miseries about him he sees a Cross set in the midst. That Cross is the focal point of man's conflict and defeat; he sees all sin and sorrow gathered up there. But as he looks the picture is replaced by another; and he sees a living Christ, Victor over sin and death, Master and Lord of life, making glad with his gifts of faith and hope and love the face of the whole world.

That is our Gospel — the good news we bear to stricken men — of a God who has revealed Himself in Christ Jesus, revealed a concern for us His children that will not draw back from that awful Friday, revealed a purpose so strong as to make that Easter Day a perpetual festival, the festival "par excellence" of the whole of redeemed humanity. The Church has always been, and will continue to be, the Community of the Resurrection.

We believe that thus we know what He is like who is on the throne. "The Lord God omnipotent reigneth." Confusion and terror may be too much for us; they are not too much for Him. "Clouds and darkness are round about Him; righteousness and judgment are the foundation of His throne." "And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new."

Three years of study and play together, of living and praying together, have knit you and your professors in an intimate friendship, a friendship of confidence and high hope. We are sorry to see you go from us. But we look for the day of rejoicing when you have proved yourselves true preachers of the Word, true priests of the temple, true shepherds of the flock.

Gordon S. J. Adams, B.A.
Lakeport, Ont.

Wandered here from Queen's theology. Saw the light at Emmanuel. Remained genial and unperturbed, a swimmer and a practical man. Became Dean of Bowles. Wants to be a good country pastor.

George Nash Ball, B.A.
Vineland Station, Ont.

From farm, McMaster Science, and home piety, to the residence Deanery by pressure of democracy, and to our esteem by his quiet wisdom and slow humour, and hence to Home or overseas missions, and the rescue of the Church from apostasy.

Albert H. Daynard, B.A.
St. Marys, Ont.

Practical farmer and Amos of the year. Applies his brawn to soccer, and will apply his brain to the rural ministry. Final ambition to retire on a farm.

Arthur Chas. Dayfoot, B.A.
Georgetown, Ont.

Our social prophet from Georgetown wins scholarships monotonously; favourite sport—professional polemics. Spent year in Quaker college, inserts Brunner into co-operatives, work-camps, and purposes to socialize and Christianize the Church here or overseas.

Arthur Glen Eagle, B.A.
Mount Dennis, Ont.

Child of the manse, this loquacious, athletic Youth left the halls of Victoria to imbibe wisdom here. A home-loving Man, his pride and Joy will iron out all his future problems.

Samuel R. Henderson, B.A.
Palmerston, Ont.

With a background of Arts at Victoria and singing at the Conservatory, he came with A smile to learn and play at Emmanuel. And a song takes him forth into his new undertaking.

J. J. Stanley Gibson, B.A.
Hamilton, Ont.

Comes humbly from Hamilton and McMaster. Cheerfully loses skin and toenails in soccer; baseball. Favourite sports—boys' work, sleeping. No ambitions beyond Moderation.

James Carman Hazlewood
St. Marys, Ont.

STEP RIGHT UP AND meet our pedagogue turned theologian, genial ex-farmer. Left husbandry for matrimony, with charming provocation.

CALL ME SHORTY he invites, peering round the pulpit. We do.

Harry Donald Joyce, B.A.
Regina, Sask.

Predestination brought this earnest young man from the West to Victoria.

Norman R. Kelley, B.A.
Hamilton, Ont.

Rooted in philosophical speculations at Victoria.

Norman H. MacKenzie, B.A.
China

Off again from China and Victoria College to N.S. and B.C. as adult education organizer.

On again for soccer, E.C.S.S. presidency and Donship at Caven House.

Donald James MacRae, B.A.
Toronto, Ont.

The motto of this gallant of Gandier House, and chief of the Athletic Association. When not engaged in baseball, waterpolo, swimming or soccer, he preaches at Elverston Park Church. Future: Sky Pilot in the Great North-West.

Robt. A. W. McLaughlin, B.A.
Toronto, Ont.

He began in country parsonages. His sweat, humour and muscle took him through Victoria and Burwash officialdom. Stalwart in many sports, now relaxes in marital bliss. And begins where his father left off.

William Charles Parrott
Toronto, Ont.

Whereas: Bill practised Law for fifteen years.

The said: William is Emmanuel's chief counsel, a New Testament scholar, and ministers to Dufferin St. congregation.

Mr. Parrott: Will prosecute his calling wherever needed.

Toronto, Ont.

Woman's gift to the ministry.

Work has included northern and western Mission Fields, World Youth Conference, Amsterdam, 1939.

Is never done planning more effective Home Mission whereto she will go.

Harold Frank Yardley

Toronto, Ont.

Boccacio became a theologian, we know, and this Manchester lad, a lay preacher who made good in theology, matrimony, and college life, pulling no punches, intending to preach passionately and dig deeper.

Arthur E. Young, B.A.

Peterborough, Ont.

Faith: All is heresy that is not Arthurodoxy.

Hope: Is to convert Western sinners.

John W. W. Wilkinson, B.A.

Toronto, Ont.

Graduating from Victoria in Orientals,

Culminating his studies in Theology at Emmanuel,

Concentrating on Hymnody and Church History, he leaves

Anticipating a life of service to mankind.

Ronald James Williams, B.A.

Toronto, Ont.

Genesis: From Victoria with a flair for Oriental languages and matrimony.

Exodus: To Chicago Divinity School '40-'42, to learn and teach.

Joshua: Was not needed to bring him back to the Promised Land to finish Theology.

B.COM.

AT THE TIME OF WRITING the war news is good, and the thoughts of many people are turning to the postwar period, without, one hopes, any relaxation of the war effort. However good the news may be students graduating this year are likely to be concerned with the war for some time, but they are also likely to bear heavy responsibilities when peace comes.

Students are trained at the university to think honestly, to suspect ready-made opinions, and to doubt the validity of automatic reactions; this training will be of particular importance in the immediate future. The recognition of men of good-will as our friends, irrespective of nationality, will be necessary if we are to co-operate successfully in the building of a decent world; and that will require a struggle against short-sighted personal and national selfishness. Dr. Johnson's aphorism "Patriotism is the last refuge of the scoundrel" is as true now as when he wrote it. People stop and listen to any ill-wrought trumpet which brings forth a wretched blare of narrow patriotism.

The department wishes you good luck and hopes you will find the courage and patience necessary to bring you success in both war and peace.

Robert Legat
Trevorrow Baillie
Toronto, Ont.

Trinity College. Matriculated from North Toronto Collegiate. Dabbled mildly in the multitudinous activities of Trinity College — soccer, volleyball, basketball, squash, swimming, French Club, Board of Stewards, Trinity Library, customary haunt at Varsity.

Henry Thomas Baker
Toronto, Ont.

Victoria College. Graduated from Oakwood C.I. in 1936, and then worked in father's business. Entered Commerce in 1939. A conscientious student in his first three years, will now relax. Will take a long holiday! before entering the business world.

Richard Paul Boddy (KΣ)
Toronto, Ont.

Trinity College. First and last seen on enrolment in C. and F. from North Toronto. Trying since then to prove that University could be improved by omitting all lectures. Future rests with the Air Force, especially after May, 1943.

John Francis Hall Connor
Toronto, Ont.

St. Michael's College. Came to Varsity from De La Salle Oaklands via N.T.C.I. Member of Newman Club I-IV, Forum Club II and Commerce Club I-IV. Hopes to continue to wrestle with the eternal triangle over coffee cups.

George Walker Davidson
Brampton, Ont.

Victoria College. Came to Victoria from Brampton H.S. North House, Burwash Hall, I-IV was the best part of college life. House Treasurer III and member of Commerce Club I-IV. Future—Active Service.

Norman Stuart Dean (ΦΔΘ)
Toronto, Ont.

University College. Languished in C. and F. four long years. Executive II-IV. Commerce Club took up most of his time. Presidency of fraternity and Murray's Morning Coffee Club the rest. Future plans—Harvard hopes have disappeared, so probably a javell water salesman.

Audy John DesRoches
Penetang, Ont.

St. Michael's College. Active member of St. Mike's Commerce Club and Newman Club. Thoroughly enjoyed University life. Participated in all sports but especially fond of hockey—Junior "A" and Intercollegiate for Varsity, then a T.H.L. team. Future plans—a government job!

William Charles Dewar
Toronto, Ont.

University College. The U.C. Rotunda Page Boy from L.P.C.I. In addition to his appreciation of beauty he was an important cog in University College athletics as well as playing Central "Y" basketball. Hopes to find an R.C.A.F. bomber large enough to accommodate him.

Charles Anthony Frank Guelph, Ont.

St. Michael's College. Came to Varsity from Guelph Vocational Institute. Unchallenged note taker I-IV inclusive.

Donald Stephen Gausby
Toronto, Ont.

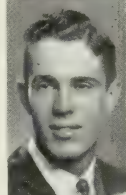

Trinity College. Came to Trinity from Ridley College. Usually found in the dining hall or junior common room. This rule of life was interfered with by the C.O.T.C. and later by the Air Force. Future plans—continue this rule of life.

John Hunter Griggs
Windsor, Ont.

University College. Matriculated from Walkerville C.I. After two years of wine, women and song in old '73, he sojourned away, returning to complete his course. Future plans are to complete a thesis on the brewing industry and its practical applications.

John Lambert Grover (KA)
Mexico City, Mexico.

Trinity College. Continued on here from where he left off at Trinity C.S. On Executive of Athletic Association IV, Literary Institute IV, Board of Stewards IV, and '43 Year Committee II-IV. Played soccer I-III, basketball I, II, and squash III, IV. Expects to go Active soon.

Robert Marshall Hamilton

Victoria College. Came to Varsity from Peterborough Collegiate. Lived in Knox College residence. Left in the spring of '42 to go Active and is now serving overseas as a Lieutenant with the R.C.A.S.C.

Gordon Campbell Hardy
Toronto, Ont.

Victoria College. Here was the gayest and most carefree of all—until he took labour problems. Happiest days in Varsity Band and Victoria hockey, 1939. Retired undefeated President of Commerce Club after a gruesome term at Victoria in 1941. His Follies' musical scores of 1941-42 undoubtedly rank him well below Kern and Romberg.

Fred Lewis Howard
Toronto, Ont.

University College. Came to Varsity from North Toronto C.I. Was member of Glee Club II and of Commerce Club I-IV. Another addict of Murray's Morning Coffee Club.

Donald George Innes
Toronto, Ont.

Victoria College. A conscientious student from Humber-side. Joined the Artillery Wing, C.O.T.C., in First. Early in Third became a Lieutenant in the Reserves, haunting the North Gun Park of University Ave. Armories. Went Active in the spring, 1942, and now overseas.

Thomas Edward Stanley Mather
Toronto, Ont.

Victoria College. A by-product of Port Credit H.S. After a slight delay, settled in C. and F. Connected with Victoria's Acta II, III, Commerce Club Executive IV. Future includes wearing khaki seven days a week instead of three. Ambition: To become unsettled.

James Wm. McClelland
Toronto, Ont.

Victoria College. Migrated from Bloor C.I. in '39. Enjoyed Vic. Music Club III, Treasurer IV, and Bob Committee IV. Starred (?) at indoor sports, including basketball I-IV, baseball II-IV, and volleyball III, IV. Future—gunning for bigger game with the Artillery.

Frederic Patric Morrissey
Brantford, Ont.

St. Michael's College. A true Irishman from Brantford C.I. Obtained College Scholarships I, III. Remained faithful to Commerce Club I-IV, Newman Club II-IV. His future will likely concern a certain young lady as much as himself.

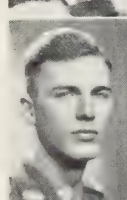

John Murray Mulholland
Toronto, Ont.

Victoria College. Emerged from U.T.S. with scholarships too numerous to mention. A charter member of Murray's Morning Coffee Club. Proclaims to be the simple home-loving type. Future? To help make the world a safe place for beautiful women, innocent children and university professors.

Donald Basil Nicol
Napanea, Ont.

University College. Came from Napanea Collegiate on a scholarship. His school work soon became submerged in social activities. Played rugby, hockey, baseball, basketball and golf. Intends to do post-graduate work in bridge.

David Martin Philp
Toronto, Ont.

Trinity College. Matriculated from Humber-side Collegiate. Worked hard in C.O.T.C., finally becoming a Lieutenant in III. Left in the spring of '42 to go Active and is now a Lieutenant in the R.C.C.S. May return after the war to finish the course.

John Harold Compston Riley

The class '43 will remember Bob Fenton always as one of their truest friends.

CHINA

DEAN W. E. GALLIE.

M.D., F.R.C.S. Eng., F.R.C.S. (C.)

THE ONE HUNDREDTH CONVOCATION of the Faculty of Medicine in this university will take place on January twenty-seventh, 1943. It will be the first convocation in which the candidates for the degree of Doctor of Medicine have been members of His Majesty's Armed Forces. The Faculty hopes that before we have gone far in our second hundred years we shall have emerged from the gloom that war has cast over us.

The students of the fifth and sixth years who are now approaching graduation have been much disturbed by the preparations for war. There is no doubt that their course has been hurried and that the changes in the curriculum have caused confusion. Nevertheless, through the devotion of the students and their teachers we are approaching this convocation with the conviction that the new graduates have done well and are prepared, as no Canadian students graduating in wartime have hitherto been, both for practice and for service in the Armed Forces.

This university is proud of the record of its graduates, both in war and in peace, and it views with confidence their conversion into officers of the Medical Corps. That Corps is composed of graduates in medicine whose wartime value to their country depends on the quality of their service to the troops. The doctor must bring, therefore, not only the courage of the soldier to his service but also such an enthusiasm for our art and science that when our men need help he will bring to them all that modern medicine can give.

On behalf of the Faculty of Medicine the dean offers hearty congratulations to the graduation years and wishes them all good luck.

C. R. YOUNG.
C.E.

IN THE TRAINING of young men and women for the business of life the years spent in college represent one phase only, but a most important and significant phase. The aim of all institutions of learning is to bring to their students, at an age which is at least not unreceptive, those principles and ideals upon which a career may be wisely founded. With what success that plan has been attended during the past year, time alone will tell, but we who have witnessed the outcome of similar ventures over many years have high hopes.

Despite the stress and uncertainty of the days through which we are passing, young people should, and doubtless do, feel thankful for the opportunity of having a share in a colossal drama, tragedy although it is. Revolutionary advances in thought and execution come almost overnight. Dr. Charles E. Inglis has said that during the past three years the developments in certain important branches of engineering in Britain have been as great as would ordinarily have been spread over fifteen years.

It has often been said in addresses to those who are trained in the practical sciences that the world has failed to accord to the engineer that recognition which his personal and professional merits would warrant. Legislation, or corporate action, or both, are urged as the means by which he may be elevated to the plane upon which he desires to dwell. The solution of the problem does not lie that way. It is essentially a matter for the individual engineer and will always be so. Sixty-five years ago a Surveyor-General of Canada, Lindsay Russell, put the matter to the engineering profession of that day as directly and challengingly as it has ever been put:

"The only legitimate means of raising the status of the profession consists in the effort of each individual thereof, by the evidences of conduct, acquirements, and ability, to win for himself the good opinion of those of his fellow-citizens with whom he comes in contact. The more as individuals the members of any profession succeed in this, the higher as a class they will stand. If as a class they are held in slight esteem by the public, it is because they do not merit more. Public opinion is, on the whole, tolerably just, and no doubt rates the services of any class at their true value. I am afraid we will have to rest content with being of no more importance in the eyes of our fellow-creatures than the circumstances of our own merits, and the value of our services to them, have combined to prescribe."

Permanent Executive 4T3

THE CLASS OF 4T3 has suddenly realized that school days are over. It is with a mixed feeling of anticipation and regret that we realize that our four brief but happy years at S.P.S. have come to an end. We, the first real "War-Babies," look at the past years in retrospect, recollecting the many friendships and experiences we have enjoyed since the eventful days of September, 1939. Few of us will forget any of the past four Septembers, initiated, initiating, reinforcing and observing. The years spent at School have been filled with never-to-be-forgotten incidents, and it is the intention of your Permanent Executive to keep in touch with all members, as well as to afford a means by which members can keep in touch with each other. However, unless each and every member co-operates with the Executive their task will be hopeless.

The Executive will maintain a record of names, addresses and occupations of all the graduating class. At the moment it is very difficult to surmise where any of us will be in two months. It is imperative that John Dyke, our secretary, knows the location and position of each man as soon as possible. Information will always be available from the secretary or your departmental councillors. News of interest will be provided by circular letter and through the University of Toronto Monthly. Your Permanent Executive is only too willing to work for you. Write to them about your ideas; about any information you require; or just for old time's sake.

We ask you to co-operate with us and the U. of T. Alumni itself to maintain the "Spirit" of the University and of the School and the "Tradition" of the Class of 4T3.

May good fortune and happiness be yours throughout the coming years.

A Message From the Class of 4T3

AS THE ACADEMIC YEAR draws to a close we of 4T3 greet the future with mixed feelings. Those of us who are in the armed forces will have our plans pretty well laid out for us. We accept these responsibilities, realizing that everyone has to play his part in the struggle for victory.

Our present session began in August amid general confusion of army medicals, documentation and university registration. Eventually we emerged as full-fledged buck privates with a confident strut and an awkward salute. As usual, attendance at lectures began to wane as December rolled around. And how amazing it was to see a full class in attendance after the army had taken a couple of roll calls. And those final two weeks in which we finished more bridges and dentures than we completed in the previous six months.

Tribute must be paid to the staff of the Faculty. Nowhere could we find a more co-operative, agreeable and understanding group of men. Professors and demonstrators alike have clearly and plainly shown us that the Dental College is the most Democratic Institution on the campus.

ARNOLD D. MASON,
D.D.S.

AFTER THREE YEARS OF WAR the outlook for the peoples of the United Nations is more optimistic than at any time since the outbreak of hostilities, and although the end of the war may be some distance in the future, still this graduation is under much brighter conditions than those of recent years.

In this titanic struggle for freedom and liberty you are taking your place and fulfilling the obligations which you owe to your country. In a short time you will be posted for duty in the Canadian Dental Corps and I am sure you will endeavour to give the best standard of dental service of which you are capable.

The young women who are graduating in Dental Nursing will also take their places both in civilian life and with the forces, thus assisting in giving adequate health services during the stress of wartime.

Out of the travail of this war, good must come. Improvement in the social conditions of the peoples of all countries must undoubtedly follow the sacrifices which have been made and it is the responsibility of university graduates to give competent leadership. If a better world is to develop then it must come from forces within the individual, forces with a high spiritual value. An acute consciousness of responsibility on the part of everyone must be fostered. In this new social order there will be many privileges and these will carry definite responsibilities. It will not be an easy world but one demanding of its citizens courage and resourcefulness.

As graduates of this Faculty, may you all go forward with determination to have a share in making adjustments in social principles so that in the rehabilitation following the war life may be healthier and happier for the peoples of the world.

Irving David Appleby

Toronto, Ont.

From the barren wastes of Cedarvale, Irv arrived fresh from five years of academic success at Vaughan Road C.I. Was President of Sigma Alpha Mu Fraternity. Mainstay of the Dent's Swimming Team in '38. Learned to play squash at Hart House in '40 and then became a member of the Dent's Squash Team in '41 and '42.

Percy Wilkins Arkle

Glasgow, Scotland.

Graduate in dentistry of Royal Faculty Physic. and Surgeons, Glasgow, Scotland, 1928. In practice, then accepted appointment on dental staff, International Grenfell Assoc., serving in Labrador and Newfoundland, 1939-42. Came to Toronto in August last for studies. Interests—music and photography.

Nelson Barlow

Souris, Man.

Hailing originally from the Mid-West, Nelson came East and certainly has left his mark. Can get anyone a blind date. Joined the Army and became the world's worst private. Will make a swell officer, out West, he hopes.

John Phillip Rudkin Bateman

Vancouver, B.C.

Johnny came to Toronto from Victoria. He soon found himself busy with C.O.T.C. and in his last year took on the added responsibilities of a wife and Active Army Service. Hopes to get stationed out West and finally practise in Victoria.

Donald Charles Clee

Toronto, Ont.

Don Clee, the man we'd all like to be. A Torontonion, graduated from Riverdale C.I. and then entered Dentistry. Outside activities—other fellows' girls. A real sportsman. Both "T" and "D" holder. Slated for Army life.

Lawrence Glenn Craigie

Kamsack, Sask.

Spends his spare time keeping Jackson and Irons away from the hotels. As Chairman of the At-Home Committee made a swell job of looking after the Dental dances. "Laurie" was coach of the Dental Hockey Team and a main cog in five years of "Dentantics" Production. Enjoys parties and blackouts—

Edgar Harris Carson

Toronto, Ont.

Matriculated from Jarvis C.I. The first of many men in the class to be married. Has stood near the top of his class each year. Nick-named Ptosey, because of his size, but the Canadian Dental Corps will soon fix that.

John Sanford Corcoran

Elmvale, Ont.

John came to us from Medicine. Lived in Elmvale and attended Barrie C.I. Belonged to the OKY Fraternity. Played Med's Jr. rugby '37-'38; Dent's rugby '39-'43, skiing and judo. Was in the C.O.T.C. for six years (commissioned in 472). Future—Canadian Army Dental Corps.

Robert Alonzo Copp, B.A.

Port Elgin, N.B. (XI, PSI, PHI)

Bob took his B.A. at Mount Allison University and then came to Toronto. Since then he has been starring for one team after another, namely Varsity, Senior Marlboros and Toronto Maple Leafs. Also played for Varsity Rugby Team. After graduation is going back East with his wife.

William Hugh Coleman

Toronto, Ont.

Bill Coleman, a swell red-head and no temper. Highlighted his career by meeting and getting one perfect lady, "Nell Roy", to say yes. Graduates as an Army man and hopes to improve his already good bridge game there.

Nick Chernin

Camora, Sask.

A cowboy from Canora, Sask., where he attended high school. Nick intends to return to the wild West and settle down with Dentistry as a side-line. Likes swimming, ping-pong and working for Dental Nurses.

Lloyd Harold Chapman (AT)

Vancouver, B.C.

Lloyd came from U.B.C., entering Second Year Dentistry, has been very popular since, hence President of Fifth Year Dentistry. Played soccer, volleyball, swimming and wrestling, an all-round athlete. On Hart House Committee from '40-'43. Going back West with the Canadian Dental Corps and settle down?? (maybe).

William Donald Chapple
Meaford, Ont. (ΞΨΦ)

Don is one of the most popular boys in Fifth Year, and has been a stimulant to his class mates as well as the Dental Nurses. Besides being a good athlete, Don has been a real booster of college activities and should be a top-notch in his profession. Was President Second Year and Torontonensis Rep. V. Hobbies include all sports and a certain "Bunny".

Alan Erwin Diner
Winnipeg, Man.

Came to the Faculty of Dentistry from St. John's Technical High. A member of the Tau Delta Phi back home in Winnipeg. Interested in all various forms of athletics. After graduation looks forward to a career as a Dental Officer in the Army.

James Leonard Devine
Beaverton, Ont.

Jim came to Varsity from Beaverton High. Had already learned a good deal of Dentistry from his father. Is a confirmed bachelor most of the time. Delighted in setting up dentures to the tunes of Macpharlane's bagpipes.

James Alan Faulkner
Toronto, Ont.

Jim came to Varsity from Oakwood C.I. Has slept through five years of Dentistry until finally a red-head has awakened him. At one time was a confirmed bachelor, but stag parties were too much for him. Intends getting married and seeing Canada with the C.D.C.

John Frederick Freeman
Toronto, Ont.

Better known to his pals as "Hank". Has been one of the more popular boys in the class and really gets things done. Was President Third Year and spent four years on Hart House Art Committee. Main ambition is to beat up Lunau.

Wm. Reginald Fletcher
Merlin, Ont. (ΞΨΦ)

Came to the Dental School from Tillbury Collegiate. "Dagger" takes a deep interest in women but still boasts that his fraternity pin is intact. Played inter-faculty baseball. Future lies with the Army. Hopes to see the day when Schwalin and Grandy get up in time to walk to school with him.

Wilfrid Harold Feasby
Toronto, Ont.

Dentistry lured him from Riverdale Collegiate in '38 and produced second youngest dentist. Was active in soccer and track, Hart House Library Committee V. Spent five years in Dentantics, its producer and director in '42. Is a Dental Officer until the job is done.

James L. Fitz-Gerald (ΑΔΦ)

Matriculated at Midland H.S. In life enjoys hunting most of all. Is also fond of golf, tennis, badminton, the Rockies and being on the water. Played faculty hockey, golf and baseball. Immediate future is with the C.A.D.C.

John Richard Grandy (ΞΨΦ)

Galt, Ont.
The "Count" is the best looking boy in the class—quote himself. Takes an intense interest in music, mostly swing, and really likes Lombardo. Will eventually settle in Galt where a promising future awaits him. Good luck to you, Dick.

Kenneth Russel Galvin
Marchwell, Sask.

Ken had to hire two chartered accountants to do his book-keeping and also a caretaker to keep the floor clear of enamel rods. Only complaint Ken has about Dentistry is that there isn't enough room in the building for his patients. Plans to see the world with the Dental Corps.

Whitman Le Roy Goodwin Newfoundland.

"Goodie" worried himself out of Mount Allison into the U. of T., and is doing a good job of worrying here. Plans to go East and build a "gigantic" practice . . . and will. One of the good humour boys in Fifth Year. This guy should be a real success.

Walter Grenkow
Winnipeg, Man.

One of our Westerners, who has proven, by winning the James Branstom Willmott Scholarship for II-IV Years, that "The West is Best". Vice-President of U. of T. Ukrainian Students' Club. Hoping for Army posting to Winnipeg and the wife.

Bob Grainger
Hamilton, Ont.

A first-rate student even though he did hail from McMaster. Bob is a swell fellow, a ready wit, and a good sportsman. Hopes to be stationed after graduation in Hamilton and to marry his one and only Kay.

John Grant Hollbrook (ΣΨΦ)
Hamilton, Ont.

John has had a lot of valuable experience in the Army but left that vocation last summer to finish his last year in Dentistry. Takes a deep interest in acrylics but finds time to visit his wife and family over the week-ends. Future plans—C.D.C. and research in Biochemistry.

Arthur Ernest Histrop
Niagara Falls, Ont.

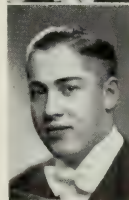

Born, raised, and attended high school in the Falls. Tried very hard to be a good conscientious student. A member of the House Committee of Hart House for two years. Enjoys most sports, casting inlays and working for Dental Nurses. Member of C.D.C.

Arthur Murray Hunt
Toronto, Ont.

Matriculated from Riverdale here in Toronto. Rather quiet but progressive. Kept busy on Hyayaka II, V Years, Dentantics III-V. Enjoys basketball, bridge and Dentistry. Will be disappointed if he can't drive a mobile dental clinic in/over Germany.

Lloyd Wm. Irons (ΣΨΦ)
Young, Sask.

A fugitive from the Windy West, better known as "Gravel Throat". All of which relates to the fact that he hasn't cut his voice down to a roar as yet. One of the inveterate veterans of the "Bob Club" and a firm believer in stags. A good man headed for the Army and a good time.

Roe Billington Jackson (ΣΨΦ)
Winnipeg, Man.

Another refugee from you know where. Claims his ancestors are Irish but he can't prove it. Joined the Army last spring and spent his idle moments cavorting around Wasaga Beach. Bill is a regular guest at the "Bob Club" and hopes that Army life will take him back West.

Edward Earl Johns
China.

Born in 1920 in Chengtu, China. Roamed about the globe and finally settled in Hamilton. Graduated from Westdale Collegiate. Took one year at McMaster University before entering Second Year Dentistry. Played intercollegiate soccer '39-40, interfaculty soccer '39-42. Intercollegiate wrestling championship '39 and interfaculty wrestling championships '39-42.

Frederich Gordon Kellam
Toronto, Ont.

Drives a big Buick and is partial to tall, fair-haired women. Taught Bateman and McColl physiology in Third Year. Likes golfing, photography wine and women. A member of the C.D.C. Hopes to be a major.

Michael Kapusta
Toronto, Ont.

Attended Humberstone C.I. Spent two years as treasurer of Ukrainian Students' Club, U. of T. Active in other Ukrainian Youth Organizations. Likes all types photography, swimming and sports. Intends to join C.D.C.

Alfred Lloyd Lunav (ΣΨΦ)
Oakville, Ont.

Matriculated from Oakville H.S. "Six-foot" isn't the biggest guy in the class but he can hold his own. Was President III and had a try at hockey. Seems to be headed for a happy marriage, the C.D.C. and a successful future.

Harold Levita
Toronto, Ont.

Hi Levita, a shrewd piece of goods, came to us from Harbord Collegiate. As a member of Alpha Omega fraternity he added to his many friends. His prowess at baseball and volleyball came in handy at Camp Borden where his throwing arm was used a great deal, seven weeks, while he was officer's batman.

Hal Everett Leyland
Toronto, Ont.

Lived out in cornstalks of West Toronto. Attended Etobicoke H.S. Spent two years on Hart House Art Committee and actively interested in S.C.M. Took on a beautiful marital obligation during Fourth Year. Likes swimming, skiing, photography. Member of C.D.C.

John Eugene Merritt
Toronto, Ont.

A spirit of Toronto. Ejected from Jarvis C.I. Worked hard at Dentantics. Played on championship volleyball team in Fourth and Fifth Years. Enjoyed most sports, hunting, bridge, old cars. Held a commission in C.O.T.C. before joining C.D.C. Hopes to be a Lieut.-Colonel.

Jack Gordon McCarty
Caledon East, Ont.

One of the steadies of 4T3. Faithfully attended every Dental dance, function, class parties and even the stags—still you can't get him out to the lectures. Lacrosse Team Manager for two years. Also played baseball and soccer.

Donald Samuel Moore (ΣΨΦ)
Toronto, Ont.

Never idle. President of First Year, chief Varsity reporter, Treasurer, Students' Parliament, and finally a Grand President of Students' Parliament. Kept so busy with patients and cabinet meetings, even Ruth barely sees him. Perhaps after the war will find time to settle down.

Phillip Robert Macfarlane
Toronto, Ont.

Whenever there is a racket or a fuss look for Mac. He usually manages to be into most devilment—and those bagpipes. Camera Club President, annual soccer player, business manager Hya Yaka. Scotch thrift, the Army, new burs.

Donald Charles McColl
Toronto, Ont.

We understand that a Dental Nurse caused "Croll" to forsake his slippers and the fireplace. Don has been a basketball star for five years and also hopes to become a ping-pong expert. Main ambition is to reconstruct the Dental Corps—good luck to you, "Croll".

Lester Parks
Winnipeg, Man.

A "tremendous" fellow from the prairies, Winnipeg, was a welcome addition to the Second Year Class. Took two years of Science at U. of Manitoba before coming. As a shoe salesman there is nothing he doesn't know about female legs and ankles. Skating, tennis and swimming are his favourite sports. Dentistry his favourite profession.

Gordon Ackland Redford
Yorkton, Sask.

Another Westerner is Gordie. Main ambition is to develop his own impression technique. Still believes a wash made from flour and water will relieve surplus wheat problem out West. Brags about being a bigger "ham" than Craigie in Dentantics . . . and is!

Abraham Louis Rothstein
Winnipeg, Man.

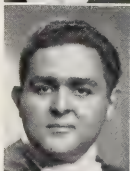

Known to his friends as "Lucky", because of his phenomenal favour with Lady Luck. Came to us in Second Year from out the wheaty West. Despite the fact that he's a smooth article with the gals, his main aversion is Dentistry. Future plans—to carve a niche for himself in the Dental Corps' hall of fame.

Ralph Carnegie Stuart
Montclair, New Jersey.

Re . . . Joyce, oh re . . . Joyce, For at golf and doice He's the Fifth Year's choice, Ain't he? . . . Joyce?

The secret of Stu's success is using a putter to plug in gold foils. A real future in store for this fellow. Good luck, Stu!

Abraham Skudwick
Hamilton, Ont.

Skuddie, one of Hamilton's more noteworthy contributions to Dentistry, spends his time brightening his corner of the infirmary. At Camp Borden he proved to be of great aid to the Commanding Officer of No. 22 Company, who took a special interest in him. After graduation—Dental Corps.

Robert Lorne Scott
Toronto, Ont.

Randolph had to come all the way from Japan to take Dentistry. Another married man and consequently his nose is kept close to the grindstone. Never says much but does a lot of good work. He'll also be there when the bugle blows.

Edwin Charles Schneider
Detroit, Michigan.

Received his early schooling in the North Country and graduated from Sudbury High into the folds of the Dental College. Is quite an athlete, participating in basketball, baseball and volleyball. Member of Beta Sigma Rho Fraternity. Will always be remembered for his part in Dentantics '43. After graduation intends to complete Army service

Roy Gordon Spink (ΞΨΦ)
Winnipeg, Man.

Better known to his chums as Snake—but can't be accused of living up to it. Roy has been one of the big assets to the class—takes everything in his stride and finishes his last year as Editor of Hya Yaka. Favourite song is "Willow Weep for me". Married the gal at Christmas and hopes to take her wherever the C.D.C. sends him.

Russel George Schwalm
Mildmay, Ont. (ΞΨΦ)

Woke up one morning and found himself in Toronto instead of Mildmay—has been wondering about it ever since. "Kitty" is deeply interested in the theatre and has a weakness for a girl with a pleasant face. Played interfaculty soccer. Immediate future is with the Army.

Claude Victor Sibbald (ΞΨΦ)
Unity, Sask.

Better known to his pals as "Curly". A confirmed Westerner and a firm believer in "Never the twain shall meet". Played interfaculty hockey and a main cog in the Dental Hockey Team. Future plans seem to be centered around marriage and the C.D.C.

Arthur Wm. Stephen Wood
Toronto, Ont. (ΞΨΦ)

Gopher from the prairies—still roaming—wants to settle down but doesn't know how or with whom. Takes the world too seriously. Rugby Manager, baseball, and hockey all in his stride. Intend to post-graduate after this war. Always a friend.

Elmer Frederick Schmeltz
West Lorne, Ont.

Elmer is always playing host to the Smythe, Clee, Merritt bridge sessions. Plays a better game than he admits. We often wonder how he finds time for his other activities. Baseball II and skating. Private practise has him regretfully.

Samuel Spivak (ΑΩ)
Toronto, Ont.

Graduate of Harbord C.I. Took active part in all sports, playing and managing baseball, basketball and volleyball. Holder of Bronze "D". Active in Dentantics, II-V. Past Chancellor Alpha Omega Fraternity and recipient of Alpha Omega Junior Scholarship Award and Chancellor's Key. Future plans—Dental Corps.

David Joseph Shapira (ΣΑΜ)
Shellbrook, Sask.

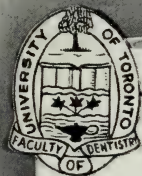

Matriculated from Shellbrook H.S. Entered Second Year Dentistry after obtaining B.Sc. at the University of Manitoba. Played baseball II-V; volleyball II-V; interfaculty baseball IV and volleyball (V) championship teams. Treasurer of ΣΑΜ (1942-43). Future plans—C.D.C. and practising Dentistry in the West after the war.

Byron Ralph Smyth
Toronto, Ont.

No photograph received.

Attended Vaughan Road C.I. as a child. Handled money deftly, so became Class Treasurer for five years. Played on championship volleyball and baseball teams in Fifth Year. Has fine track record. Likes all sports, women and women. Belongs to C.D.C.

HONDURAS

Lola Marie Gerrow
Port Perry, Ont.
Graduated from Port Perry H.S. Interested in roller skating, dancing, music. Ambition just to find contentment.

Mary Helen Beatty
Brampton, Ont.
"Sue" graduated from Brampton H.S. Outside activities—riding, skiing, swimming, singing. Future plans offer no high ambition.

June Irene Dow
Toronto, Ont.
Attended St. Mildred's College and Haverall College, and finally matriculated from Lawrence Park Collegiate. Before joining the Class of 4T3 spent one year working as a teller in a bank. Likes dancing, skating, and swimming. Ambition is to graduate in General Nursing as well as Dental Nursing.

Frances Helen Stewart
Toronto, Ont.
Graduated from St. Clement's School. Interested in swimming, skiing, dancing and rugby games. Hopes to be an efficient dental nurse and let the future look after itself.

Barbara Jean Booth
Toronto, Ont.
Graduated from Lawrence Park Collegiate. Is Social Convener of her class. Likes everything athletic and food. Ambitious to play the traps and dance with Cesar Romero.

Barbara Joan Wray
Midland, Ont.
Graduated from Midland High. Resides at St. George House. Is Class President. Outside activities are swimming, skating, dancing and eating. Her future plans are to get married.

Margaret Elizabeth Hall
Toronto, Ont.

NORWAY

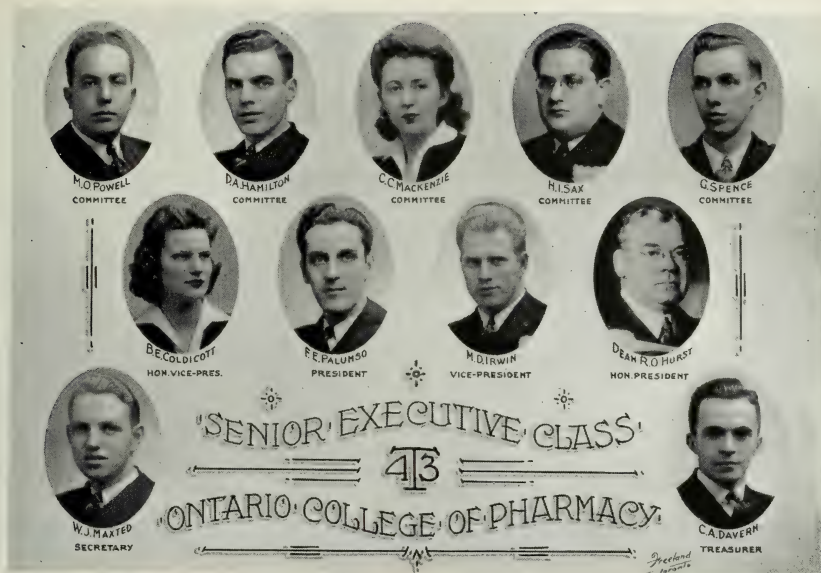

R. O. HURST,

THIS IS THE CRUCIAL YEAR for civilization. It has come in your time, and you are the men who must take up the challenge and win the fight.

In other years to other graduating classes it has been our pleasant custom to wish them God-speed, material success, and advancement in their profession. For you who leave our college halls for the last time this year we have a bigger and more noble wish—namely, that you may prove equal to that which is required of you as men of the hour.

We have been at war four years. It is only now that the first faint rays of victory's sun seem to brighten the black horizon. During this time there has been no lack of sacrifice, there has been suffering and persecution beyond our conception, and there has been incredible bravery and endurance such as we have never dreamed. This is not enough. There must be intelligent and trained thinking. There must above all be unity, so that the efforts and aims of one nation fit as smoothly into the other as the oiled cogs of a great wheel. You, and men like you, who have had the advantages of training in fields of mental effort must give the answer to the requirements. That is what we need to-day, "Commandos of the Intellect", who will storm the bastions of prejudice and racial antagonism, who will assault the entrenched forces of evil against which we wage battle to-day.

That is what we ask you, and it is with this thought in mind that we say to you God-speed and God's blessing be with you.

Message from the Class of 4T3

WE, THE GRADUATING STUDENTS of the Ontario College of Pharmacy, in looking back on our College days, are impressed particularly by the isolation from the world in which we students enveloped ourselves. It is impossible to exaggerate the segregation from the rest of the universe which we felt.

Our life was real life; everybody whose daily round lay outside College groped helplessly in a meaningless world. We felt no genuine interest in their beliefs and points of view, in the rules and formulas of the strange other cosmos which surrounded ours on all sides.

That other world, we knew, had been our world in earlier years; that other world now engulfed by terrible war, would in a short time again be our world. Even now it intruded on the isolated planet of Varsity. But we spurned its intrusions—they were no more important to us than a sprained ankle or a cold in the head.

In that other world, we knew that we were destined to take up our place as soldiers, bosses in business and by the females of our own vintage earmarked by fate as our partners in matrimony.

All that we knew. But we ignored it. We snapped our fingers at it. In most of us, most of the time, there was no consciousness of the basic evanescence of our College world, no disquieting realization of the grim substantiality of the world which we dismissed as evanescent.

Alas! We awake to find our world shattered. Joy has fled from the homes of millions of Europeans—bitter fear for the future have brought lines to their faces and listlessness to their gait.

Yes! for one brief hour we must turn from our chosen paths and do our part in order to cure the plague which threatens the world. God permitting, we shall then be more capable of resuming our profession as servants in the world which will live again to-morrow—the real, the indestructible world. The world that we knew and will know again—that we loved and love and shall forever love. We salute the world of to-morrow, wrapped in the radiance of our hopes.

Albert Abrams
Toronto, Ont.

A not-so-shy local boy whose pet aversion is slippery floors, and escorting nice blondes into the bowling alleys. Plans after graduation to continue chasing blondes, bleached or otherwise.

NETHERLANDS

G. G. COSENS,

B.Sc.F., M.A.

NOT FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS has a graduating class in Forestry attended the University during four years when our country was at war. Your undergraduate years have not been uneventful nor have your tasks always been easy. Several members of your class have joined the armed forces in various services and one has been killed in action with the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Graduating now you will follow the course set by previous years and will acquit yourselves well, as they have done. In this the best wishes and hopes of the University go with you.

With the end of the war the forestry profession will have an unprecedented opportunity for constructive work of national importance. Unfortunately the number of technically trained men will be inadequate as a result of small graduating classes and of enlistments that already have absorbed considerably over one-quarter of all the graduates of this Faculty. Starting then on forestry work without proper preliminary surveys and lacking trained personnel accomplishment will only be realized by enterprise, improvisation, and ingenuity. A great deal will be expected of you in this time of war and later when the country is at peace. Yours will not be an easy life; may it be one of achievement.

William Watkin Adams
Toronto, Ont.

Bill matriculated from Parkdale in 1939. He has always ranked high in his studies. Played baseball and lacrosse. After four years in various arms of the C.O.T.C., the Army should get an excellent Liaison Officer.

Arthur Noel Boissonneau
Toronto, Ont.

Graduated from Humber-side C.I. After one year in the bush, became a real bushman. His spontaneous outbursts of sarcasm are constant sources of amusement. Athletic interests include lacrosse and squash. He hopes to become an Officer in the Signal Corps.

Douglas John Campbell
Toronto, Ont.

Forestry. Living in Toronto. Matriculated from Humber-side C.I. in 1936. Came to Varsity in 1939. Played inter-faculty volleyball, basketball, lacrosse and hockey. After graduation intends to join the R.C.A.F.

Donald Lumley Davidson
Toronto, Ont. (ΦΔΘ)

Don graduated from Humber-side C.I. He is vastly interested in the future of the saw-mill industry, in which he hopes to work. Played hockey, rugby and baseball. Was Torontonensis Rep. and Phi Delta Theta man.

James Scott McBride
Toronto, Ont.

Jim came to Varsity from Jarvis. Although active in hockey, rugby, lacrosse and baseball, he still manages to stand high in his year. In the Forester's Club, he has been Treasurer for two years and President this year. The Machine Gun Corps forms his future.

Hugh Tyler Renaud
Weston, Ont.

Hugh was a U.T.S. contribution to Varsity. His cartoons of professors always prove amusing to the year. For two years was Secretary of the Forester's Club and active in the Camera Club. On graduation hopes to join the Air Force.

Willard A. G. Thurston
Meaford, Ont.

Willard entered Forestry from Meaford C.I. During four years at Varsity, he has ranked high scholastically.

THE UNITED NATIONS having assumed the task of carrying on the conflict for world freedom, each individual must accept added opportunities for greater service and sacrifice to ensure ultimate and complete victory. Every nation engaged in the present struggle will suffer in loss of manpower and material resources.

The after effects of all wars have been accompanied by a shortage of many food products. At the present time there is a danger of food-producing animals being depleted to an alarming extent in most countries. The United Nations already recognize the urgent need for careful planning and leadership to maintain livestock production at the highest possible level. This means that the herds and flocks in Canada must be safeguarded against preventable losses through disease. War has always been a potent factor tending to increase the incidence of disease in both man and animals. The history of all wars confirms this. The prevention and control of animal diseases is the essential responsibility of the veterinary profession, the ranks of which you are now entering. Canada will no doubt be expected to make a worth-while contribution in meat and meat-food products throughout the present war and for some considerable time thereafter. While in looking back there has been much to cause apprehension, there is likewise much cause for congratulation. The need of the times calls for leadership and national service to the fullest extent. Accept and fulfill your responsibilities with undaunted courage, renewed vigour and hopefulness.

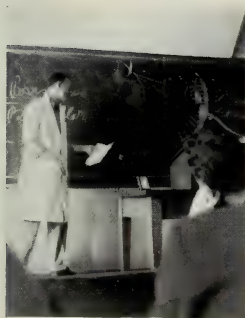

May the spirit of National service and devotion to duty guide you throughout your professional career.

YUGOSLAVIA

W. J. DUNLOP,

B.A., B.PAED., F.C.I., LL.D.
Director of University Extension

MY FIRST WORD OF CONGRATULATION must naturally go to those who are graduating through the Pass Course for Teachers. Throughout the years, from five to seven years or more, you have worked diligently and well and have qualified for the degree of Bachelor of Arts in the hard way. Some of you have quite properly spread your course over a good many years in order that you might obtain the maximum of benefit and might take a really high standing in every subject. Now you have reached your objective and you carry with you my best wishes for continued success and increased success in your teaching. As many Government authorities have said, and have said frequently, most teachers can best serve Canada in the present situation by carrying on their duties in the classroom. You are now better fitted than before to do that.

In historical order, the graduates in Occupational Therapy come next; this Course has been in operation since 1926. Those of you who are graduating as Occupational Therapists will find many opportunities for the practice of your profession. The Government of Canada needs you in its Military Hospitals. Indeed, the supply of Occupational Therapists is not equal, at the present time, to the demand. And now you go out to bring health and healing to wounded sailors, soldiers and airmen in Canada and possibly also in the British Isles. My best wishes go with you! May you enjoy your work and may you produce the very best of results!

In the Course in Physiotherapy a large class is graduating. When you receive your diplomas on Wednesday of Commencement Week your services will be immediately in demand by the Navy, the Army, and the Air Force. During the present session these Services have not been able to obtain as many Physiotherapists as they need. You will be expected to bring wounded men back to health and strength and you will radiate sunshine in the wards of many hospitals. Never, since the course in Physiotherapy was established in 1929, has there been such an urgent demand for Physiotherapists. You will serve your country and you will serve efficiently and well. May you derive every profit from the important duties in which you are about to engage!

Graduated from Havergal and East York Collegiate. She loves sailing, canoeing, skiing and dancing. Joined the C.R.C.C. in her second year hoping to make the Medical Corps her immediate future. Betty has lots of other plans, too.

Dorothy Irene Briggs
Toronto, Ont.

Matriculated from Oakwood C.I., Toronto. Clever, cute and witty, she holds her Oakwood "O" for athletics. She is always "in the know" about current events. Enjoys basketball, tennis and sailing. For hobbies, she shoots and raises dogs. Plans to join the army to practice Physio.

Patricia Ann Broughall
Ottawa, Ont.

After living in Toronto, Pat moved to Ottawa where she graduated from Glebe Collegiate. She is noted for being the fastest knitter in Physiotherapy. After struggling to keep step in the ranks of C.R.C.C., Pat hopes to join the navy.

Mary Suter Brown
Toronto, Ont.

Matriculated from Harbord C.I. Enjoys skating and swimming when not busily engaged in knitting for the Forces. Hopes to do her bit for the war effort in a military hospital and would like to have a private practice after the war.

Eleanor P. Cadesky (ΔΣΦ)
Toronto, Ont.

Into Physiotherapy from Oakwood Collegiate. Interesting interests: dramatics, riding, tennis, dancing, good books. Favourite song: "Always in My Heart". Ambition: And how!!

Dorothy Pearl Churchill
Toronto, Ont.

What a gal! Dot won her "V" at Vaughan, was head prefect, too; is a member of S.A.C., of the Record's Committee, and is our very own President! She is prominent in basketball, tennis, and makes quite a finale when she lands on skis??? Her main ambition is to win even a bronze medal in swimming.

Henrietta Farb (ΛΦΕ)
Toronto, Ont.

From Harbord C.I. to Physiotherapy in five easy (?) years. Pet hobby: pulling strings on the violin. Enjoys photography, badminton, books, dancing, and cherry pie. Pet hate: anything without system.

Dorothy Isobel Foster
Calgary, Alta.

"Dot" spent one year in Household Science at Macdonald Hall after matriculating from Western Canada High. Then came into Physio with plans to join the Services on graduation. Devoted to bridge, between-lecture cokes — and the West.

Helen Eastwood Gandier
Toronto, Ont.

Matriculated from Harbord Collegiate. Is interested in sports, especially skiing and swimming. Was Secretary-Treasurer of O.T. and P.T. Athletic Association in II. Joined the C.R.C.C. in II, hoping to join the Army on graduation.

Renée A. George
Penetanguishene, Ont.

Renée came to Physio from Vaughan Road C.I. with a keen interest in athletics and plans for a military career. She was Athletic Representative I, President of O.T. and P. Athletic Association II. Has a real flair for swimming and badminton, too.

Jean Frances Gilroy
Mount Forest, Ont.

Moved to Toronto from her "high, healthy, and happy" home town. Her free and easy spirit took her over the difficulties of Physio I. Marched with C.R.C.C. II. Has military work in view.

Daphne Joyce Gill
Victoria, B.C.

Daphne Gill, from Victoria, B.C., has made her reputation through her infectious giggle, effervescent personality — and always being late for Anatomy. Ambition — to become a success in her profession, return to the West, and then — who knows? We don't!

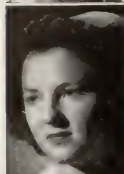

Elizabeth M. Harpham
Toronto, Ont.

"Lib" came to "184" from Havergal College determined to be a successful Physio. An enthusiastic supporter of the C.R.C.C., a lover of music and outdoor sports, she hopes to do her bit practising Physio — after that, she just hopes.

Nancy Lee Kerr
Preston, Ont.
Little, dynamic, and full of fun, Nancy decided to follow in her sister's footsteps after matriculating from Preston High School. A member of the C.R.C.C. II, she plans to go on Active Service on graduation.

Phyllis Elizabeth Lapp
Toronto, Ont.
Came to Varsity from Forest Hill Village School, Toronto. Was on Physio Executive I, II, and active in basketball, badminton and C.R.C.C. Future plans—to join the Army as a physiotherapist.

Hazel Livingstone-Learmonth
Victoria, B.C.
Left Victoria College (B.C.) to see how the other half of Canada lived. Submitted to the rigours of Physio—sacrificing her golden locks. Learned skating the hard way in Ontario's cruel, cold north. Hopes to practice Physiotherapy in the West.

Elizabeth Mary Lloyd (AFA)
Toronto, Ont.
Matriculated from Haverall College and enjoyed two years of Varsity life in Household Science before entering Physiotherapy. Future plans—Physio for a few years, and then?

Anita Rose Loaring
Moose Jaw, Sask.
Anita spent her first two years at Varsity in Household Economics. Transferred to Physio and surprised us all by standing first and getting married all in one brief year. Would like to do military work on graduation.

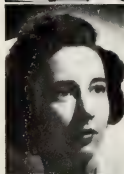

Mary L. McCabe
Caledon, Ont.
Graduated from St. Joseph's Convent. A native of Caledon. Mary quite naturally took to skiing as her favourite outdoor sport. Ambition is to wear the uniform of the R.C.A.M.C.

Frances Nora McCaughey
Hamilton, Ont.
Commonly known as Nonnie. Spent a busy year at McMaster University before coming to Varsity to keep Physio out of the "red" I. Active in swimming, basketball and badminton I. Was official correspondent for Physio II, also a Buck Private of C.R.C.C. Nonnie is seriously considering the army professionally.

Ruthe Lillian Merritt
Smithville, Ont.
Matriculated from Smithville H.S. Took one year in Medicine before coming into Physiotherapy. Would like to go overseas in service of R.C.A.F. (W.D.).

Sydney Hilda Milnes
Toronto, Ont.
Young, dark-eyed career woman from Vaughan, planning to practise in old home town of Oneida, N.Y., has a definite leaning towards science men; likes skiing, basketball, and even enjoys a spot of rugby.

Geraldine Joan O'Leary
Toronto, Ont.
Graduated into the class of '43 from St. Joseph's Convent. Likes reading, especially the Varsity, for which she was an enthusiastic reporter in II. Tennis and skiing are her favourite sports. Would like to see the rest of Canada after graduation.

Doris Ruth Parkinson
Toronto, Ont.
"Do" came to us from Haverall College. Hobbies include knitting, skiing, dancing and men in white. Pet aversion is 8.30 lectures. Noted for her wide repertoire of jokes and general bonhomie. Would like to enter Medicine.

Margaret Gwendolyn Rodger
Port Colborne, Ont.
Gwen is a "Port" girl, having graduated from Port Colborne H.S. She plans to join the services and do her bit that way. She has a special interest in the West Coast Defense, and plans to spend a grand holiday in New Zealand at some future date (??).

Phyllis Margaret Schwalm
Mildmay, Ont.
Life began at Walkerton High. Really matured at Varsity. Keen on cars and modern swing. Cuts a dash on the tennis courts. Hopes to use her knowledge of Physiotherapy until she nabs a doctor.

Patricia Jean Shaver
Toronto, Ont.
Pat is the wide-eyed, innocent co-ed who goes into raptures about coiffures, clothes, dancing—and doctors. Her winged "hope" has won her spurs overseas. She has captured the odd championship in tennis, likes all sports in general. Graduated from Vaughan Rd. Collegiate

Dorothy Mary Sheridan

Toronto, Ont.

Matriculated from East York Collegiate. Is noted especially for her friendliness and good nature. Was a member of the C.R.C.C. II. Loves her work and plans to enter Army on graduation.

Mary Wilma Somerville

Haileybury, Ont.

Hails from Haileybury. Brought the spirit of the North to Varsity. Finds time occasionally for a bit of physiotherapy, but divides interests between Navy and Air Force. Ambition—to teach the North the meaning of Physiotherapy.

Myra T. Willinsky (AEΦ)

Toronto, Ont.

Matriculated from Harbord C.I. Entered Physiotherapy to put the "Art of Healing" on a higher plane. Spent the first year worrying how to pass Physics — spent the second year wondering how she did it. Ambition—to aid mankind (?)

Olga Elaine Williams

London, England

Olga was transferred from University of London to U.C., has finally decided to graduate in Physio, though some people think it should be Forestry. She's an "outdoor" girl — teaches riding, is fond of hiking and lacrosse.

Grace Amelia Wilson

Islington, Ont.

Graduated from Port Credit H.S., Toronto Normal School, Physio, and from Shaver to Wilson via a B.C. physio. Her hobbies are — husband, home-making, painting and her golf is like her bridge (?).

Jean Lillian Wilson

Port Arthur, Ont.

Jean was already a successful secretary before enrolling at Varsity. Was always an ardent supporter of home-town hockey team. Did a great job camouflaging members of U.C. Players' Guild I. Member of C.R.C.C. II.

Myrna Zeal

Winnipeg, Man.

Myrna graduated from St. John's Tech H.S. in Winnipeg. Had two years pre-med at U. of M. Reads at least one classic before settling down to study. Likes music and dancing, but her skating is the three-point landing type. Her favourite hobby is listening to the radio.

PANAMA

E. H. RYERSON,
M.D., C.M.

AS THE FIRST GRADUATES of this newly created course in the School of Physical and Health Education, you are deserving of high commendation for having the courage to venture into a new field of university education, to persevere in mastering its academic and practical courses and to succeed in obtaining its degree.

The Staff of the School join me in extending to you their very heartiest congratulations upon your accomplishment. Never before have students in a university course been given an education of a scientific nature in the relationship of health to the quality of the structures of the human body, to the efficiency with which these perform their functions independently and harmoniously with one another, and to the adjustment of the total organism to its various environments. The realization that health is a positive entity, more than freedom from disease, has been impressed upon you in the hope that you will educate others in the value of active participation in physical activity, of the application of the modern principles of nutritional science and of the use of mental hygiene methods in the maintenance and preservation of their health, all of which are incorporated in this new point of view. Only by the recognition of health as "positive" and therefore assessable and susceptible to being influenced for good, will the traditional "negative" conception of it as "no disease" be counteracted. "Not content with those states of body and mind which can only be called 'no disease', we shall encourage by every method within our power the preservation of health and the elevation, in the minds of doctors and laity alike, of the idea and the standards of health." "In future the preservation and wider distribution of health in the community, based upon a better understanding of its causes and not only upon a knowledge of the causes of disease, will make contributions as remarkable as any of these." This is the challenge that the United Nations are having to face during the war in order that their soldiers, their sailors and their airmen may be successful in defeating the enemy; it is the challenge that they will have to meet after victory is theirs, in order that the workers in industry, on the farm, in the office and the people generally, will be healthy and fit and capable of fulfilling their tasks effectively and satisfactorily. Better health of each and every individual is an end to be sought not only for winning the war but for winning the peace.

Betty M. MacIvor Mortimer
Toronto, Ont. (IIBΦ)

Came into this course to complete a comprehensive study (diagram, experimental guinea pig opposite) of the ill effects of intensive application to the higher and lighter activities of this institution. For data see Torontonensis, 1942; conclusions, exam. results.

STUART K. JAFFRAY.

M.A., Ph.D.

THESE ARE DAYS when we see fair visions. Social workers, long struggling against the giants of Want, Disease and Ignorance, look up enheartened with each new pronouncement on "Freedom from Want" or "Security Plans". We are told that a new day is dawning; that the light of human welfare is dispelling the past darkness of human neglect.

You go out to work with men and women who eagerly await the promise of the new day. But they are now living under the dire strains of war-time; never before have the social services faced such a challenge. The glimpses of the Delectable Mountains indeed cheer our spirits, but the climb through the valley will demand our best knowledge and courage. These will be strengthened by the vision of the heights beyond.

BRAZIL

E. K. RUSSELL

THE THEME OF THIS year's edition of "Torontonensis" has particular interest for you in that three of the United Nations, Brazil, the United States and Canada, are represented in your own class, while students from several more of these nations have been with you in the school. Here in your very small world you have forged bonds which cannot be broken for it will not be possible, henceforth, for any one of you to think of the other countries represented by your classmates as really foreign to your own. Thus you have started toward the world citizenship which can march so well with the finest quality of patriotism.

This sorrowing world needs the professional service for which you have been preparing, needs it desperately, but all that you can offer of this will avail little unless you can add something more. The nations must learn to live together in mutual respect and consideration, and it is the individuals that make up the nations. Is each one of you prepared to play a part always constructive, never destructive? We trust that you are ready. The deepest good wishes of all members of the staff go with you.

Victoria—the bright light from Brooklin with flaming red hair. A graduate from Whitby High School. She is still in a haze about plans for the future.

Zilda Almeida Carvalho
Sao Paula, Brazil

A Rockefeller Foundation Scholarship brought Zilda to our midst from the School of Hygiene, Sao Paula. She was Class Representative II. Vim, vigour and vitality make her anxious to jump right in to work in the Public Health Nursing School at the University of Sao Paula.

Katherine Ross Caswell
Edmonton, Alta.

Kitty came to college by way of Garneau High, Edmonton. She enjoys skating, skiing and basketball; and excels in swimming. Was member of Basketball I, Vice-President II, and President III. After graduation plans to return to her prairie homestead and recuperate.

Mary Elizabeth Free
Campbellford, Ont.

Liz came to Varsity after graduating from Campbellford High. She plays tournament tennis and badminton. Likes dancing and social life and in future plans to "engineer" a few projects of her own.

M. Joyce Jackson
Toronto, Ont.

After finishing at Humber College entered the course at the University School of Nursing. On Student Executive II. We have good reason to believe she'll be flying high after graduation.

Marion Jeanette MacKinlay
Sarnia, Ont.

Marion wended her way to Varsity via the Sarnia Collegiate. She was Class Representative I, Basketball I, Secretary-Treasurer III. She is the class wit and a popular swimmer, skater, dancer and camera fiend. Future plans are connected with a hospital.

Maria Rosa Pinheiro, B.A.
Sao Paulo, Brazil

Maria Rosa came to Varsity via a Rockefeller Foundation Scholarship. She combines intelligence with industry, is a woman of few words and a popular member of her class. Plans to teach nursing at the University School of Nursing, Sao Paulo.

Glenna Agnes Stewart, A.B.
Marlington, West Virginia, U.S.A.

From Spelman College, Atlanta, Georgia, on a Spelman College Scholarship came Glenna. We like Glenna for herself and love to listen to her Southern drawl. To wed or not to wed is the unanswerable question of the moment. She was Social Representative III.

Josephine Taylor
Oakville, Ont.

Left Branksome Hall and spent two happy years at McGill before entering Varsity. Was Class Representative III. Chief pastime—looking for a bridge game. Pet aversion—people who don't or won't play bridge. Ambition is to live in the South and raise Persian cats.

K. Isabelle Thomas
Toronto, Ont.

Graduated from N. Toronto Collegiate. Came to University School of Nursing true to family tradition. After graduation expects to keep up the good work with heaps of fun thrown in.

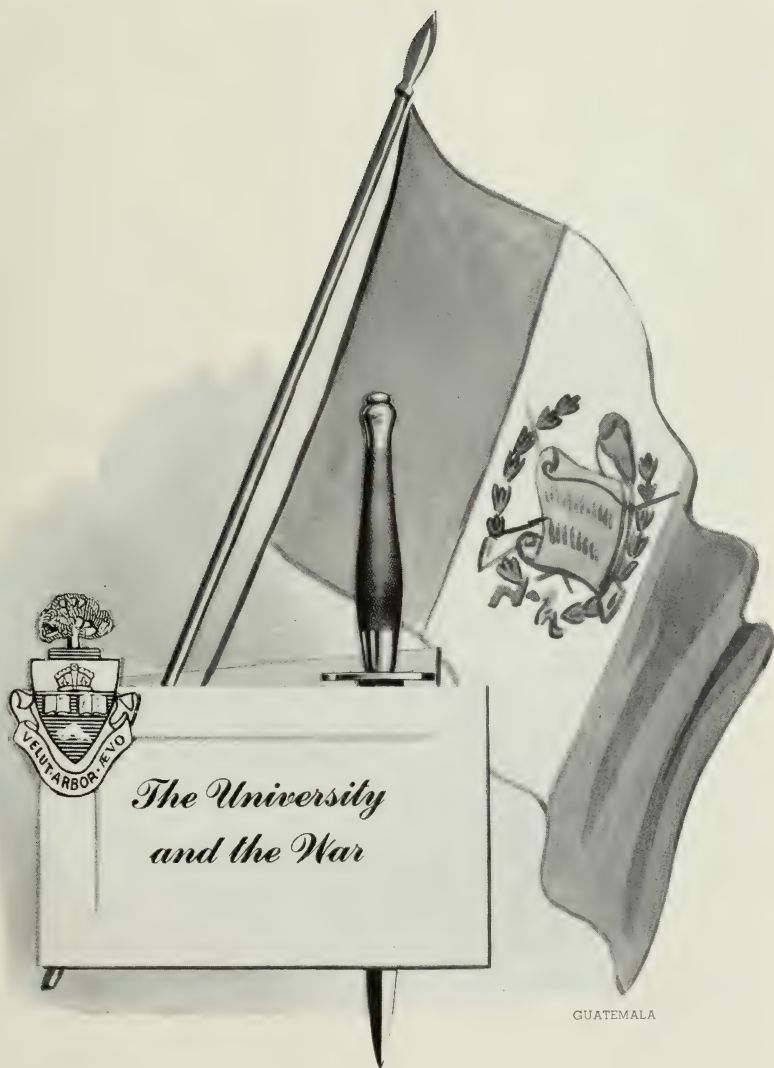

Lola Wilson
Tofield, Alta.

Our Lola came to us after spending a year at the University of Alberta. She is graduating after overcoming tremendous handicaps. Lola is a career girl and we predict a brilliant future as educational director in one of our largest hospitals. She was Secretary-Treasurer II. Torontonensis Representative III.

GUATEMALA

A Message from the President

The University and the War

WE ARE STILL PURSUING the policy laid down by the Government, that we should keep the university in as full operation as possible and at the same time carry on military training of all physically fit male undergraduates. This involves hard work on the part of all students and has called for much curtailment of general activities. But the results have not been unsatisfactory. Over 6,000 undergraduates and graduates have entered the Active Service Forces; over 200 members of our teaching staff have gone; already about 100 of our number have given their lives for the Cause. Nearly 1,500 have obtained commissions through the C.O.T.C. Special groups of the Active Service Forces have received training as radio technicians. A new course, made up of Mathematics, Physics, and Engineering, is fitting men for technical posts in the Army in one year. Researches on war problems are carried on in all our laboratories. The university, while not forgetting the long view of its true aim, is making a vast contribution to the present emergency, "in this new warfare of God's chivalry". The Cause is compelling—"the sacred cause of justice and the freedom of the world".

H J Body

Honorary Colonel.

CANADIAN OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

University of Toronto Contingent

THE ROLE OF THE C.O.T.C. for the academic year 1942-43 differed considerably from that of previous years. The major change in the syllabus due to regulations governing the Canadian Army (Reserve) has been the discontinuance of the courses leading to qualification of Lieut., (Res.) and the adoption of a syllabus designed to give Cadets a solid foundation in basic and special-to-arm training. Thus on entering O.T.C.'s Cadets will be on a more equal footing with candidates from the Canadian Army (Active) who have had long experience in this phase of training both in Canada and overseas. The training of a Cadet for the Canadian Army Active is now a highly specialized one. To Summarize: A Cadet if accepted by the Active Army will in future proceed from the C.O.T.C. to a Corps Training Centre as potential Officer Material (P.O.M.) for not less than two months, then to the Officers Selection and Appraisal Centre for 2-4 weeks, then to the O.T.C. for 12 weeks where he graduates as 2nd Lieut. He then proceeds to the Corps Training Centre for special to arm training, in the particular branch of the service in which he wishes to serve, for 8-12 weeks. On successful completion of this training the Officer will be qualified for the rank of Lieutenant, in the arm concerned.

The health and life of an Army throbs in the heart of its junior officers or dies there. To them is entrusted the immediate and close command of the men. They lead the attack personally. After all the plans are laid and the details worked out, it is the Lieutenant who faces his men and says: "This platoon will.....", and it is the Lieutenant that the platoon follows while it does what it will do. No captain in the haze of battle can at all times lead or even see his entire Company. No Battalion Commander can lead or see his entire Battalion. But the Lieutenant will lead his men and be at all times in close personal contact with them. His grave responsibility is to see that they do not die in combat through their own ignorance, or his ignorance or carelessness in failing to instruct them adequately and continually so that he can lead them intelligently in all conditions of combat that may arise. The first phase in his commission "To our trusty and well beloved Edward Thomas Smith, gentleman," summarizes it all. The word gentleman comes from "gens" which in Latin means people and a gentleman is therefore a man for the people. How adequately that now fits the phrase "An officer and a gentleman" and how thoroughly it explains why that expression has lasted through military ages. The first and last concern of the Lieutenant is for his "people," his men. If he fails in that he fails in everything and becomes nothing more than a travesty in uniform.

"Out greatest job then," stated Lt.-Col. H. H. Madill, V.D., "is to select and train the Potential Officer for the Active Army, to make available to him every opportunity within our power, to prepare himself for the task that lies ahead. At the conclusion of this year's Camp at Niagara-on-the-Lake, the Contingent will have completed one of the most intensive and successful training programmes of its history."

In addition to training and selecting P.O.M's. all male under-graduates and graduates who were born on or before Sept. 30th, 1923, were provided with Military training according to the regulations of the National Resources Mobilization Act and the Board of Governors of the University. Thus the C.O.T.C. had the tremendous task of providing training to approximately 2,700 Cadets. This was done by a small permanent A. and T. Staff, assisted by 113 Voluntary Officers composed of members of the University Staff, undergraduates, professional and business men and school teachers. Many of these have had long military experience as officers. Nearly 400 students (246 in 1st Bn. and 141 in 2nd Bn.) left the C.O.T.C. to proceed to the Active Army this session up to April 1st. In addition 400 are being considered for recommendation as potential officers for this spring and summer. These slip quietly away during the year but if they, were all gathered together and marched past the Memorial Tower, nearly the strength of a battalion, surely this would be an impressive sight and most of these Cadets are destined to be leaders.

At the annual inspection this year the Cadets did their work with such zest and efficiency that they earned the highest commendations from the D.O.C. and his representatives. Particularly the Inspecting Officer mentioned the fact that Cadets called from the ranks at random could step out and instruct the squad clearly and with confidence in any phase of the work in progress.

Lt.-Col. Wilson, E.D., Officer Commanding the Second Battalion and Second-in-Command of the Contingent was equally enthusiastic over the way the members of his battalion quickly organized and swung into their training. Most of them had had no previous military experience, yet they covered their basic training syllabus with thoroughness and efficiency and made a most satisfactory showing at the D.O.C.'s inspection.

The secret of reaching a high efficiency in military training lies in a sound logical training programme following a definite sequence and planned far ahead. Under the direction of Major M. B. Watson, E.D., and Major G. R. Lane, the programme of the year was carefully worked out for the two battalions. This involved much burning of the midnight oil by the junior officers and N.C.O.'s in preparing their work but the results justified the effort.

Regimental Schools were established and continuous courses were conducted during the season qualifying the candidates as N.C.O.'s or as instructors in platoon weapons or chemical warfare. These were under the direction of Major H. C. H. Miller and Capt. A. Ragen.

A Regimental Course for Officers proceeding to qualifications for various ranks was conducted under the direction of Major M. B. Watson, E.D., during the session. This course led to examination in syllabuses B, C, D and F.

During the Christmas vacation an eight day course for Officers and N.C.O.'s. was conducted by Capt. J. Young, Staff Officer M.D. 2. Over 150 officers and N.C.O.'s. attended this course.

To conduct the training the Contingent is organized into two battalions.

The officers of the Contingent Staff are as follows:

Honorary Colonel	Col. H. J. Cody, E.D.
Commanding Officer	Lt.-Col. H. H. Madill, V.D., m.s.c.
Second in Command	Lt.-Col. W. S. Wilson, E.D.
Adjutant	Major H. C. H. Miller
Paymaster	Major T. A. Reed, E.D.
Quartermaster	Capt. C. A. Johnston
Chaplain	Capt. W. C. Lockhart, C.C.S.

The following summarizes the establishment of the two battalions and the activities of the various Companies during the current season.

"A" Company—Artillery—Major G. F. Davies

When the training season 1942-43 began, the syllabus for the C.O.T.C. was prepared more along the lines of a pre-Brockville course. On that account, less emphasis was laid on qualification and practically all emphasis was placed on work preparatory to O.T.C.'s. Less emphasis was placed on theoretical work and much more on practical work. Field work had a much more prominent part in training schedules. During the year the closest of co-operation was maintained with the 7th Toronto Regiment and their equipment was lent to us freely for training purposes.

In the fall of the 1942-43 training season, a group of fifteen officers were sent directly to the Atlantic coast where, after a short, intensive preparatory course, they acted as duty officers in the Atlantic Command on coast defence in Anti-Aircraft work. During this time also, a number of officers were sent directly to Artillery regiments in Canada.

Disembarking at Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Embarking at Toronto.

In the Spring of 1943, "A" Company mounted a Guard of Honour during the visit of Field Marshal Sir John Dill.

On 20th February, 1943, "A" Company was inspected by Col. F. F. Arnoldi, Commandant of the 7th Toronto Regiment, R.C.A. and a week later was inspected by Brig.-General McCuaig, Acting D.O.C.

An innovation in the training was a ceremonial parade organized and commanded by the cadets themselves, the officers of the company acting as inspecting officers. This was most successful and will probably be repeated in the future.

"B" Company—Engineers—Major H. W. Tate

The Engineers
Have hairy ears
And hairy harried faces;
Robust and rough
They do their stuff
In all the toughest places.

"B" Company Engineers started the 1942-43 training with over two hundred cadets, one of the strongest companies in the First Battalion of the C.O.T.C.

The work before Christmas was almost entirely basic training, but after Christmas the Company was divided in two, the right half carrying on with engineer lectures and practical work, while the left half continued with basic training.

On the 27th February, 1943, the right half company was inspected by the representative of the D.O.C., Lt.-Col. F. S. Milligan, District Engineer Officer, and gave a demonstration of bridging, building rafts, placing demolition charges, erecting derricks, gins, etc.

It is expected that some 75 members of this right half company will commence active service training early this summer.

"C" Company—Ordnance Mechanical Engineers—Major W. E. P. Duncan

In this Company, instruction was given in motor mechanics, ordnance, weapons and instruments. An Ordnance Engineer must know the set up from the base workshop to the L.A.D's. He must tackle anything from a Churchill tank to a typewriter. "What makes it tick?" is his eternal problem. Among the activities this year was the stripping of an old T.T.C. bus from the engine to the tail light, and re-assembling it. Who knows but what the gallant Major and his boys will roll up to parade in it next year to the envy of the whole Battalion.

"D" Company—Signals—Major G. T. Hodgson

In addition to the basic training taken by all companies of the 1st Bn., "D" Coy. specialized in the work of intercommunications. Under this heading may be grouped, Wireless, Telephone work, Telephone Switchboard operating, Cable laying, Signal officer duties and Signal Organization. Extensive code practice was undertaken in order that the majority of the members of the Coy. would achieve a code speed of 6 words per minute or better.

During the term the equipment has gradually been increased from 3 No. 1 Wireless sets to an addition of 2 No. 9 Wireless sets. This is over and above the regular telephone equipment.

Approximately fifty trained signalmen will be proceeding early this summer from "D" Coy., to the Signals wing of the O.T.C. at Brockville. It is expected that about five 3rd Year Science men from "D" Coy. will take the three month signal course at Barriefield this summer. These will be part of a group of 35 men drawn from all the Universities in Canada.

"E" Company—Infantry—Major B. E. Tolton

This Company carried out a very full programme of Basic Training and Special to Arm in Infantry Rifle Training. Particular stress was laid on Fieldcraft and Battle Drill, Sand table exercises, schemes in the Field, T.E.W.T's. and reconnaissance and preparation of Operation Orders. The Cadet was taught how to lead his men, how to envelop this or that flank, when to start and how to efficiently handle various situations. High Park was the chief centre for outdoor tactics and boys were taught how to use their individual resourcefulness.

"F" Company—Infantry—Major W. E. Carswell

This Company was composed chiefly of Dental students and some Arts students. The Dental Officer in the Active Army now has his own Mobile Dental Unit, drivers staff, etc. and there the Dental Officer faces the same problems as the Infantry Officer in matters of discipline, vehicle maintenance and administration. He must qualify at the O.T.C. and therefore his Basic Training is identical with the Infantry. Major Carswell's Coy. covered the same syllabus as "E" Company of the Infantry Rifle.

"I" Company—Machine Guns—Capt. E. L. Gibson

This Company was well supplied with training equipment this year and was among the first to receive the new Browning Machine Guns. The work covered included Organization and Administration of the Machine Gun Battalion, stripping and assembling, Gun Drill, Mechanism, Vehicles, Fire Control and use of Directors and instruments. This course was particularly useful to P.O.M. proceeding to the Armoured Corps owing to similarity to weapons used on the tanks. The unit works in close co-operation with the Armoured Corps, Camp Borden, and next year more equipment for Armoured Corps training will be available. Practically all the graduating P.O.M.'s have been selected by the Personnel Examining Staff of Camp Borden, for C.A.C.

"K" Company—Army Service Corps—Capt. B. Wilkinson

This arm dealt with A.S.C. Organization, Mechanical transport and Army Supply. The Organization, Operation and Maintenance of R.A.S.C. transport in the Field, Distribution of Supplies, Ration Petrol and Oils, Reserve Clothing, Ammunition in Advance of Railhead were the chief subjects on the syllabus

Medical Officer—Capt. D. Selby, R.C.A.M.C.

LIEUT.-COL. W. S. WILSON, E.D.
O.C., U. of T., 2nd Bn., C.O.T.C.

Lt.-Col. W. S. Wilson, E.D., faces a tremendous problem each year on re-organization of his battalion since the battalion consists of those who have not completed one year of training: Down-town units of the Army under the present regulations governing the Canadian Army (Reserve) are restricted as to age and Category and their staffs are more or less permanent. In the C.O.T.C., the majority of men are in the Active Age group and there is a large flow of Officers and Cadets into the Active Army so that each year a new staff of Officers must be organized and N.C.O.'s. trained to give instruction.

Major G. R. Lane stated that the training followed by the 2nd Bn. included Military Drill, Small Arms Training which included a thorough knowledge of all platoon weapons. Drill was carried out on the Campus during October and November and from that time on in the University Avenue Armouries. The syllabus covered by all the Companies mentioned below formed a solid foundation for the outdoor training which will be completed at Camp this June. The Companies were composed of students from the following colleges.

O Company under Major F. R. Crocombe was composed chiefly of University College, Knox College, and Wycliffe College Students.

Q Company under Major C. R. Sanderson was composed chiefly of Victoria College, Emmanuel College, Optometry, Ontario College of Education, Graduate Studies, School of Social Work students and U. of T. Staff.

R Company under Major M. Crabtree, M.C. was composed chiefly of 1st, 2nd and 3rd Medical—without previous military training—and Ontario College of Pharmacy students.

S Company under Capt. W. V. Tovell was composed chiefly of 1st Applied Science and Engineering less Civils.

T Company under Capt. J. H. Horning was composed chiefly of 1st Year Civils and 2nd, 3rd and 4th year Applied Science and Engineering without previous Military Training.

W Company under Major R. M. Barbour, M.C., was composed chiefly of Trinity College, St. Michael's College, Forestry, Dentistry, without previous military training.

Pipe Band under Sgt. G. Ross was composed of undergraduates from all Faculties and was a most welcome addition to all battalion parades.

C.O.T.C. BAND

From the first parades around the campus in the crisp fall days, to the spectacular climax in the Convocation Hall concert, in conjunction with the U.T.S. band, the C.O.T.C. band has received favourable comment from every side.

With Lieutenant J. L. MacDowell as Officer Commanding, and Mr. Leslie R. Bell of the College of Education, as musical adviser, the fifty members of the band have worked conscientiously in an effort to build up an efficient musical organization; nor has the military aspect been neglected, for the band's training has included basic instruction in many phases of army life.

Several auspicious events have made the year notable for the C.O.T.C. band; the appearance of attractive, brass-buttoned service dress uniforms; inspection by Field Marshal Sir John Dill; playing at the inspection of the Artillery Wing; the public concert at Convocation Hall early in March; and of course, participation in several route marches. All these have contributed to making 1942-43 a memorable year in the band's history.

C.O.T.C. Camp Camp Niagara, June, 1942

The U. of T. C.O.T.C. Camp was held at Niagara-on-the-Lake June 6th to 20th, 1942. The unit proceeded from Harbour St. at 7.30 a.m. preceded by the pipe band to the Canada Steamship Lines docks and were piped aboard the Cayuga to the tunes of lively Scottish airs. The Osgoode Hall Contingent C.O.T.C., the Governor Generals Horse Guards and the Tank Regiment from Oshawa also embarked at the same time.

All ranks marched through the historic old town of Niagara-on-the-Lake and the salute was taken by Brigadier G. C. McCuaig, C.M.G., D.S.O., V.D., Area Commandant.

Capt. C. A. Johnston, Quartermaster, Lieut. Wilkinson, Messing Officer and an advance party of 30 had preceded the unit twenty-four hours before and the tents were up, mess kitchens were in operation and everything was in smooth running operation.

The weather during the two weeks was perfect and the unit settled down to real hard training. Each day the battalions would route march to the various training areas and engage in fieldcraft, and battle-drill, field engineering, tactics and chemical warfare. Special to arm training in Infantry, Signals, Artillery, Machine Gun, Army Service Corps, Engineer, Ordnance training were practiced in the field. Tactical schemes in attack and defence were demonstrated—all arms co-operating. All arms fired range courses on the range.

The Orderly Room Staffs, Medical Staff, Paymaster's Staff and Quartermaster's Staff were extremely busy and it was due to their untiring efforts that all administrative arrangements for the feeding, care and health of the men were so admirably carried out.

Two General Inspections were carried out at Camp by Major General G. F. Constantine, D.S.O., D.O.C. of M.D. 2 and Major General T. V. Anderson D.S.C. Inspector General. The inspection took place in the training areas and each arm demonstrated its particular work construction or road blocks—construction of trestle bridges—slit trenches, artillery drill—machine gun tactics—platoon in all round defence, etc.

The time passed very rapidly and after two full weeks of intensive training the Contingent arrived home, tanned, fit and well trained in all phases of modern warfare.

UNIVERSITY NAVAL TRAINING DETACHMENT

IN FEBRUARY OF THIS YEAR, an agreement was reached by the Commanding Officer of Reserve Divisions of the Royal Canadian Navy and the University of Toronto on the organization of a University Naval Training Division as part of the establishment of H.M.C.S. York. It was found impossible to make arrangements for training during the Spring term of the session 1942-43. However, arrangements have been completed for summer camp which consists of one week's training at H.M.C.S. York, followed by two weeks training at Naval establishments on the Atlantic coast. Organization for training for session 1943-44 is now under way. This training, which will require 110 hours, will be carried out at the University and at H.M.C.S. York.

No. 3 (University of Toronto) Squadron UNIVERSITY AIR TRAINING CORPS Royal Canadian Air Force

THE UNIVERSITY AIR TRAINING CORPS (U.A.T.C.) is a component of the Royal Canadian Air Force in which students interested in and acceptable for air-force training are enlisted and instructed during the period of their university courses. The corps is a reserve rather than an active-service formation, but when members of the Corps are ready to undertake active service they are enabled to do so through simple transfer to the Special Reserve of the R.C.A.F.

The Syllabus of training in the U.A.T.C. calls for instruction during the academic year in subjects which include Mathematics, Navigation, Signals, Drill, Aircraft Recognition, Airmanship, Theory of Flight, Air Force Administration, Law, Discipline and Organization, Station Familiarization and Practical Flight, etc., This training involves no examinations, but is followed by two weeks in Summer Camp, at an R.C.A.F. Station, of which several hours are allotted to examinations.

U.A.T.C. training during the academic year and at camp satisfies the provisions under the National Resources Mobilization Act and under University regulations which require that physically-fit-university students receive service training during their academic courses. In addition members of the Corps are given credit for their U.A.T.C. training when they leave the university to undertake active service with the R.C.A.F.

The Squadron of the U.A.T.C. established at the University of Toronto is known as No. 3 (University of Toronto) Squadron, University Air Training Corps, R.C.A.F. Its orderly room is located immediately East of the Debates Room in Hart House. Upon completion of its organization in 1942-1943, its senior staff consisted of:

Officer Commanding—Squadron Leader F. L. Hutchison, U.A.T.C., R.C.A.F.
Administrative Officer—Flight-Lieutenant F. E. Brown, M.C., R.C.A.F. (S.R.)
Disciplinarian—W.O. (II) T. Bowes, R.C.A.F. (S.R.)
Clerk (Administrative)—Flight-Sergeant A. W. P. Robertson, R.C.A.F. (S.R.)

WOMEN'S NATIONAL SERVICE

PRIOR TO 1942-43, the only official women's war service training carried on at this University, was that of the University Detachment of the Canadian Red Cross Corps. As the war advanced, it became increasingly obvious that a programme should be provided for all women in Arts at least, and in September 1942 the President asked the Board of Governors to make a requirement of 60 hours war service training for the academic year compulsory for all Arts women except those in the First Year. The committee which had initiated the plan was officially appointed to deal with all questions relative to the carrying out of the programme. The members were Miss M. B. Ferguson, Miss J. Macpherson, Mrs. W. A. Kirkwood, Dr. Victoria Mueller and Miss A. E. M. Parkes, under the chairmanship of the Registrar.

The programme offered a variety of courses, most of which were contributed by one or other of the University Departments. Every student had a choice of courses and was allocated to her choice as far as accommodation could be found. Students accepted for membership in the Canadian Red Cross Corps were considered to have fulfilled all requirements, as were those taking the 80-hour course of training as Hospital Nurses' Aids arranged by the School of Nursing. An excellent course was given by the Institute for Child Study for volunteers in the new Civic Day Nurseries. Another course in Recreation Leadership was provided by the Dept. of Physical Training and the University Red Cross workroom trained and then made use of a number of students. In the fall an information course in Nutrition was provided through the Faculty of Household Science and in the spring term the School of Social Work arranged a special course on Community Needs and Problems. Courses in Civilian Defence (A.R.P.) were arranged by the University Section Warden, with the co-operation of the Superintendent and a number of professors and organizations. A course in Home Nursing was given under the auspices of the Canadian Red Cross and a large class of 275 students was given a Red Cross course in First Aid by the staff of the University Health Service.

One satisfactory feature of the programme was that many students trained in the first term were later assigned to a suitable organization for practical service. Thus the Nurses' Aids, Civic Day Nursery Volunteers, Recreational Leaders, Red Cross sewers and certain members of the Red Cross Corps were able to make a definite, if limited, contribution to the war effort and will be able to give still more valuable service if returning to college next year.

MISS A. E. M. PARKES
Commandant C.R.C.C.

The Canadian Red Cross Corps has carried on its activities as the only uniformed organization for women on the campus. About 185 were enrolled in the Detachment this year, of whom 6 were in the Corps for the third year and 22 for the second. These members were given advanced training relative to one or other Sections of the Corps. Transport members took Map Reading, Military Law and Stretcher Drill, Nursing Auxiliary took Home Nursing, Nurses' Aid or Civic Day Nursery courses, Office Administration took typing or business training, and Food Administration took a course in Emergency Feeding and most of this latter group also gave service at the Christie St. Hospital Lodge or the Toronto General Hospital. All new members were required to take the Basic Lectures in Red Cross History and the organization of National Defence, and certificate courses in A.R.P. and First Aid along with a minimum of military drill. The Detachment paraded at full strength on November 11 at the Remembrance Day Service and on December 15 the Provincial Commandant, Miss Isobel Pepall, inspected the unit in Hart House gymnasium and awarded Red Cross cap badges to new members who had completed one term of Basic Training.

A number of the former members of the Detachment have enlisted in the C.W.A.C., the R.C.A.F. (W.D.) or the newer W.R.C.N.S., while others have been attached to one of the service Sections of the C.R.C.C. Detachment in their own locality. All have been greatly benefited by the training received in the University Corps.

Officers and Section Leaders for the year were:

Commandant	Miss A. E. M. Parkes, B.A.
Assistant Commandant	Miss J. M. Forster, B.A.
Sergeant-Major	Miss M. Barbara Waddell
Transport	Sergt. Alice M. Evans
Nursing Auxiliary	Sergt. R. Elizabeth Schondelmayer

Although war conditions brought about many changes in the Council's usual programme, it was still possible to publish the Handbook, Torontonensis and The Varsity, although under considerable difficulty due to the shortage of student and office staff. Delivery of The Varsity was a major problem but was worked out by the individual colleges and faculties.

The successful revival of the University Symphony Orchestra was made possible by the Council's backing. Various student services, Housing, Employment, Loans, orders for official insignia, issue of ration books, etc., were carried on through the office, and support was given through Varsity publicity to war projects such as the Red Cross Blood Donor and Financial campaigns, War Savings and Victory Loan sales, Aid to Russia, I.S.S. etc., and contributions to all these funds were handled through the office.

The Council specifically organized a War Services Drive which included an I.S.S. badge sale and a soldiers' Book Harvest, and sponsored the Aid to Russia campaign. The War Services Drive, under the chairmanship of Miss Eileen Acton, brought in considerably over $1300. for the I.S.S. and nearly two tons of better-type books for the Canadian troops. Over $800 was collected for the Aid to Russia Fund and remitted through the Council, and much more was sent in directly. The Council also provided lunches for the first day's train journey of the 300 University Harvesters who went west the beginning of October. This was made possible by the generous co-operation of the Hart House staff.

The Council was officially represented at the Remembrance Day Service on November 11 and organized the All Students' Day Programme arranged for November 16 as a tribute to martyred Czech students. Members attended the Convocation Hall service in a body on that day. The Council also contributed both financially and in publicity to the first University of Toronto Staff-Student Conference.

Wartime conditions curtailed the usual intercollegiate contacts of the Council but it was possible to offer hospitality to some fifty Laval harvesters on their return from the west. The Council also sent the Vice-President, Mr. Gordon Bell, to the International Student Conference called early in September in Washington by the American I.S.S. Representatives of most of the United Nations were present at this meeting, the British and Russians coming in uniform direct from active service.

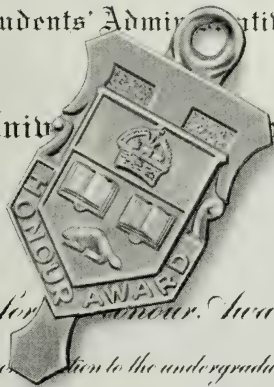

One of the most important matters to come before the Council during the year was that of the refusal of the University Board of Governors to admit to the University anti-Nazi enemy ailians paroled in order to continue their education. The Council took a strong stand against this decision and sent forward to the Board an appeal for reconsideration. The Board later reversed its decision on the ground that these men were now permitted by the Government to take military training.

In November Council members were entertained by the President and Mrs. Cody at a dinner at the U.C. Women's Union which has become a delightful tradition. The annual dinner given by the Council to The Varsity Masthead was particularly successful this year, being held at the Granite Club, with Professor Wilkinson as the guest speaker. The accelerated courses in Medicine and Dentistry made the question of graduation receptions a difficult one, as did the rationing of tea and coffee. By simplifying the refreshments it was, however, possible to have a reception following each convocation through the year as well as the two Garden Parties for Engineering and Arts graduates in June.

Students' Administrative Council Honour Award

IN THE YEAR 1938-39, the Students' Administrative Council instituted an Honour Award to be granted annually to certain graduating students who were considered to have made an outstanding contribution to the undergraduate life of the University. The award is in the form of a gold key accompanied by an engraved certificate and is customarily presented by the President of the University at the Convocation Garden Parties. The awards are made by a standing committee of the Council composed of the President, the two Vice-Presidents, the two Faculty Representatives and the two Secretaries, and nominations may be sent in by any student governing body or by any individual.

The type of activity for which the award is given must primarily be of an all-university nature but the general interests of each candidate are also noted. Qualities of leadership, administrative work, journalism, dramatics, debating, music, athletics, academic achievement, etc., may be considered.

Up to the present year, 102 men and 45 women have won the award. Information is not available in regard to all of these, but the great majority of the men and at least four of the women are on active service and most of the others are engaged in some form of essential national service. One man, Lieutenant Nelson Earl, has won the D.S.C., another, Captain Walter McGregor, was taken prisoner at Dieppe, another, Flying Officer E. R. "Ted" Gray, has been missing since December, and two, Sub-Lieutenant G.H.K. "Pat" Strathy and Pilot Officer Paul McGillicuddy, have been killed in action.

The University of Toronto Symphony Orchestra

AFTER A LAPSE OF ONE YEAR, during which it gave no concert, the University Symphony made a brilliant return. The final concert on February 25th in Convocation Hall aroused a great deal of interest, not only on the campus but also in the general musical public—the audience of 1,100 was the largest in the history of the orchestra.

Chief credit for the orchestra's success must go to its conductor, eighteen-year-old Victor Feldbrill. He not only conducted rehearsals with enthusiasm and painstaking care, but also carried out the organization of the orchestra so that it grew from twenty-five members at the first of its sixteen practices to fifty at the concert. Sir Ernest MacMillan, who attended the concert, was so impressed by Mr. Feldbrill's performance that he asked him to conduct the Toronto Symphony Orchestra on two occasions. Questioned as to his opinion of the young conductor, Sir Ernest said that he has "tremendous enthusiasm, marvellous talent, and a great future ahead." Mr. Feldbrill intends to carry on his orchestra work in the Air Force.

The main work on the programme of the final concert was Mozart's G Minor Symphony, a work seldom attempted by an amateur orchestra. Evelyn Pasen, mezzo-soprano, the soloist of the evening, was accompanied by the orchestra in the Habanera from Carmen. She sang also a group of shorter solos with piano accompaniment. The orchestra began the programme with the Rossini overture La Gazza Laddra, and followed the symphony with Schubert's Rosamunde. Then the string section played the Bach Air from the Suite in D Major. To conclude the programme, the orchestra played the Strauss waltz, Artist's Life.

The orchestra is deeply grateful to the Student's Administrative Council, without whose assistance it would have been impossible to arouse the general interest which its concert received this year.

Torontonensis

LIKE EVERY OTHER ORGANIZATION on the campus, Torontonensis has felt the effects of the war. With a greatly reduced staff, an even greater amount of work than usual has had to be accomplished. The resignation of Paul Deacon, appointed editor in the spring of 1942, in order to join the R.C.A.F., left the editorial board without any person on it who had had previous experience with the particular problems of this publication.

The problems this year have been many and varied. Government regulations of the printing and engraving businesses have changed certain aspects of the book. For example, copper is being put to a better use than the reproduction of photographs. You wouldn't know the difference, though, but we have used zinc plates.

The accelerated war-time schedule of the Faculty of Medicine has given rise to another type of difficulty. Two classes of Medicine graduate this year, in January and June. To include them both, it has been necessary to expand the size of the biography section and to increase the number of books printed. As a result, our "circulation" takes a sizable jump this year, if our revenues do not show a commensurable increase.

The art work of Torontonensis has been completely revised, and an attempt at simplification has been introduced. Our continuity pages are built up around the flags of the thirty nations which, on January 1, 1943, were united together against a common threat to civilization. Torontonensis is the first Canadian publication where this group has been completely gathered together.

Many thanks are due to those people who have made this publication possible, and in particular to those Torontonensis representatives in the various faculties, colleges and schools who laboured so hard to gather together the material which makes this book. Torontonensis itself is a monument to their endeavour.

The Varsity

DESPITE WAR-TIME HAZARDS of staff shortage and increased pressure of academic work, The Varsity continued, in 1942-43, to uphold its traditions of service established in the past 62 years of peace and war.

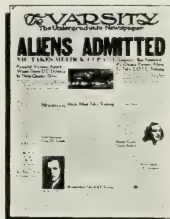

Biggest of the news stories—because of its unprecedented nature, the number of students it personally concerned, and the length of its development—was the saga of the harvest excursion to the western wheatfields in October. Here the facilities of the Canadian University Press were employed to advantage in covering the news of students hundreds of miles from their home campuses.

Major controversy of the year was the struggle—engaged in by most student organizations at the University, and spearheaded by a vigorous Varsity editorial campaign—to have the Board of Governors reconsider a decision handed down in November barring from admission to the University a group of "friendly aliens" recently released from internment. The decision was finally reversed a month later.

Another highlight of The Varsity's publishing year was the special 99th issue, devoted to a comprehensive summary of the University's relation to the war effort in the first four years of the present conflict.

The Varsity served its fourth consecutive term as President of the CUP, and Editor Michael O'Mara acted as Chairman at the National Conference held at Christmas at Queen's University, where student editors gathered from across Canada to discuss affairs of common concern.

Francis J. (Doc) Savage, St. Michael's College sophomore, was appointed by the Students' Administrative Council as Editor of The Varsity for the coming year.

University Chemical Club

THE UNIVERSITY CHEMICAL CLUB was founded in 1895. At the close of the last Great War the Club, in renewing its activities, extended the membership to include undergraduates as well as graduates. In fact the undergraduates at that time assumed the responsibilities of management so that today they form the nucleus of the Club.

The purpose of the Chemical Club is to bring the students of the various Arts Chemistry courses and staff together socially, and to provide an active connection with modern chemical and industrial trends.

As many of the regular activities as were compatible with the present war conditions were continued during the past year. Thus the monthly meetings featuring well known speakers of scientific note as well as various customary social events were held as in the past.

This year, however, the usual visits to industrial plants, which in former years had proven to be of great instructive value and interest, finally fell victim to the demands of Mars, but necessity is the mother of invention. Restricted to the campus for the present, the executive featured one of our regular meetings as a Chemical Club Dance, which was held in the Women's Union. This proved highly successful as a substituted outlet for our enthusiasm.

The stag which has now become an annual feature was again held, serving to bring the students and staff into closer association.

The year was successfully concluded by the Banquet which was held as formerly in the U.C. Junior Common Room.

Morgan, M.A., Ph.D., Honorary President.

The Commerce Club

“AS AN INDICATION OF THE SPIRIT of independence and self-confidence in their own ability to govern the destinies of the common cause, those ambitious and hopeful pioneers of the new Commerce Course unanimously voted for an organization which would be composed of Commerce students. By this means the students became an organized body with one common aim and purpose.”

This extract from the minutes of the Club in its first year (1920-21) exemplifies the Commerce spirit. During its twenty-two years of life, the Commerce Club has endeavored to maintain the ideals of the founders in creating a bond of common fellowship, and in fostering a closer relationship between the business world and the Commerce course.

In its capacity as official representative of the Commerce and Finance course the Club presents numerous activities which include luncheons and smokers with guest speakers, an annual banquet, the publication of the Commerce Journal, an annual dance, and golf and squash tournaments. The revival of the Annual Banquet proved very successful and it was well attended both by Club members and prominent business men. Mr. North Winship, United States Consul-General at Toronto, gave a most interesting address. In accordance with the present trend towards economy, the Commerce Club combined with the Law Club this year in presenting an annual dance.

Newman Club

THE NEWMAN CLUB of the University of Toronto is a religious, intellectual and social centre for the University Catholic personnel, graduate and undergraduate.

Formerly it was but a member of a province of the Federation of Newman Clubs in the U.S.A. In November, 1942, at a meeting at the McGill University, Montreal, P.Q., the Charter and Constitution of the new Canadian Federation was drawn up and introduced to the fourteen Universities making up the Canadian group.

Carefully planned programmes mark their busy Scholastic Season. Directed by a resident Chaplain and an undergraduate annually-elected Executive, it endeavours to organize the leisure moments between studies into episodes of character building.

With a Chapel and residence Club House, situated on the north-east corner of St. George Street and Hoskin Avenue, for thirty years of its existence it has well warranted its aims

Student Christian Movement

THE STUDENT CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT in the University of Toronto is a fellowship of students who seek, through prayer, study and action, to find and test the way of life of Jesus; believing that in Him are found the means to the full realization of life.

The Toronto Movement, together with similar fellowships in all other Canadian Universities, comprise the Student Christian Movement of Canada, and through it enjoy membership in the World's Student Christian Federation. The value which the local Movement derives from the broadening influence of these associations cannot be overestimated.

The burden of initiative and responsibility for programme in the Toronto Movement rests on the executive committees in the several colleges and faculties. Co-ordination of the activities of these committees and the planning of an All-University programme is effected by a Central Council representative of the local units.

Through worship, study groups, lectures, and conferences, the S.C.M. offers students an opportunity for an intelligent scrutiny of the fundamental problems of life, in the particular terminology of their own student generation.

Of special interest this year was the inauguration of bi-weekly Sunday evening services under the leadership of Arnold Nash, General Secretary and Chaplain of the Movement. On the World Day of Prayer, Luther Tucker from Yale University addressed the Student Christian Movement in Toronto, speaking from his experience as a World Student Christian Federation Secretary in the far East and from his knowledge of the American student movements. Other speakers included Margaret Wrong from Africa, Alan Booth, General Secretary of the British Student Movement, and Stanton Lautenschlager, who spoke on student life in China.

The other activities conducted by the Student Christian Movement included the organization of a University of Toronto International Club for all the foreign students, co-operation with the Avukah Society to discuss the problems of racial discrimination against the Jewish people, the setting up of a "hostess committee" to find student homes where members of the R.A.F. training in Canada could spend their week-ends when on leave. The Movement also gave assistance to the University of Toronto Settlement in obtaining volunteers for its various interest groups.

THE VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

The Varsity Christian Fellowship

THE VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP is a branch of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship which originated in the Universities of Great Britain in 1877. The organization now embraces groups of Christian students throughout the world. Closely affiliated with the I.V.C.F. in Canada is the Inter-School Christian Fellowship, with branches in many of the Secondary Schools.

The Fellowship is founded on the historic fact that God has revealed Himself in the life, death and resurrection of His Son, Jesus Christ, by whom we are reconciled to God; for through personal faith in Him we have forgiveness of sins and a new and joyful life-purpose in the will of God. The aim of the Fellowship is to make this faith significant and vital in a practical way, and to witness to the reality and power of the Saviour in every relationship of life.

Reliance upon God in prayer is the dynamic behind all Fellowship activities on the campus; prayer groups, open to all faculties, meet daily from 1.10 to 1.30 in both University and Victoria Colleges. Weekly Bible Study, Missionary and discussion groups help students to understand more clearly the great truths of the Christian faith, to resolve intellectual problems and to deepen their spiritual lives. Prominent speakers are secured for Sunday teas, fireside sing-songs, noon addresses, etc.

The past year has been one of progress and expansion; faculty groups formed in Vic., U.C. and S.P.S. have proved most successful. All-University events included the Fall Week-End Conference at Centre Island, the Missionary Conference in January, a Mission conducted by Dr. J. Oliver Buswell, and the Toronto Rally, featuring Rev. Zacarias Carles and Rev. Maurice Murphey. Missionary objective has been to contribute money for Christian work among students in Mexican or South American Universities.

Many students are finding that the programme of the Fellowship fills a real need in their lives, and we trust that in the coming years God may use our witness more effectively for the extension of His Kingdom.

WOMEN'S INTERFACULTY DEBATING UNION

Women's Interfaculty Debating Union

THE WOMEN'S INTERFACULTY DEBATING UNION is composed of the four colleges, Victoria, University College, Trinity and St. Michael's. The purpose of the organization is to promote debating among the women of the University. The executive of the Union is composed of two representatives from each of the four colleges. The organization of the debating activities of the University women is done by this executive. Each year a schedule of interfaculty debates between the constituent colleges in competition for the Women's Interfaculty Debating Shield is arranged.

However, this year, due to wartime conditions and our increased activity in many other fields, we have found it impossible to carry out the usual debating schedule.

In past years our Debating Union has been a prominent member of an Intercollegiate Union, composed of Toronto, McMaster and Queen's Universities, for the promotion of a wider interest in debating among women students.

The Universities, by mutual consent, agreed at the beginning of this year to cancel this Intercollegiate Debating programme, again due to lack of time among students generally, and in accordance with the request of the Government that all unnecessary travel be discontinued.

On our own campus also it has been necessary to make drastic reductions in the Debating Schedule. Although the plans made at the beginning of the year included at least five debates, with a view of awarding the shield, we have been able actually to sponsor only two debates, both of a general nature. Consequently it was felt that on this basis any awarding of the shield would be farcical.

Notwithstanding this year's difficulties, it is to be hoped that Interfaculty Debating will survive the war period, and again occupy a prominent position on the campus.

Arts and Letters Club of the Medical Society

THE ARTS AND LETTERS CLUB of the Medical Society was formed in Sept. 1942 as an attempt to enrich the university life of the medical student.

After six years of intensive training, most "Meds" acquire a purely technical education with very little in a long scientific course to stimulate interest in other fields.

Each Tuesday a dinner was held in the banquet hall of Diana Sweets from 5.15—6.30 p.m., after which the club would saunter to Wymilwood where the meetings were held 6.30—8.00 p.m. with an attendance of 100—250. The guest spoke till half time and the rest of the evening was spent in discussion.

The Medical Arts and Letters Club, founded by R. Gordon Millar and Lois Craig, is the first attempt of its kind to form an organization devoid of faculty barriers. Sponsored, financed, and actively supported by the medical students, one of the club's main purposes was to broaden and enrich the contacts of medical students. Broaden his contacts by meeting and vieing in discussion with students and staff of other faculties and colleges, enrich his university life by the development of these contacts and the growth of new interests.

The season 1942-43 has seen the appearance of men of local importance. Among them. Leopold Infeld, Wilson Woodside, J. L. Cohen, Rabbi Eisendraith, A. F. Coventry, Dr. William Boyd, C. E. Silcox, G. S. Brett, C. T. Currely, Dr. W. E. Blatz, Dr. Roscoe Graham, L. J. C. Lazier, Dr. T. C. Routley, Lorne Green, Lewis Duncan, Dr. C. B. Farrar, Lt. Col. Drew, and the R.N.A.F.

During the complete season over the course of 20 sessions some 1,400 medical, 700 non-medical students, and 250 staff men and women, and clinicians of the three University hospitals attended the meetings.

The Arts and Letters Club in Session.

ARTS AND LETTERS CLUB EXECUTIVE

It is the earnest hope of the executive that the club has been given a strong foundation to continue as a permanent function of the Medical Society, that time will mould its progress into the form from which it can contribute most to the medical undergraduate life.

HART HOUSE WAS PRESENTED by the Trustees of the Massey Foundation to the University of Toronto. To the Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Chairman of the Massey Foundation, is due the idea of the House, which was named after his grandfather, Hart Massey. The form it assumed was a result of his close co-operation with the architects, the late Mr Henry Sproatt and Mr. Ernest Rolph. Begun in 1911, the shell of the building had just been completed on the outbreak of the war of 1914-1918 and it was turned over to the army for the training and housing of troops; the coats of arms of the various units that used the House during that period are inscribed on the bay over the Map Room on the south wall of the building.

Hart House, which is for the use of men only, is as close to the realization of the ideal house for student activities as any on this continent. In its widest interpretation, the House, which is non-residential, seeks to provide for all the activities of the undergraduate's life outside the classroom and to maintain a link for the graduate with the University. Architecturally it provides a splendid example of the collegiate gothic style built round a quadrangle and houses under one roof a finely proportioned hall, common-rooms of every description, a library, a debates room, a music room, a small chapel, together with rooms for the use of the Student Christian Movement, an art gallery, a print room, an arts and crafts room, completely equipped photographic darkrooms and workrooms, a billiard room, squash courts, a well-fitted indoor rifle and revolver range, senior common-rooms for both faculty and graduate members, a few bedrooms for guests, offices for the Comptroller's department, the office and private rooms of the Warden; and in the athletic wing an upper and lower gymnasium, separate rooms for boxing, wrestling and fencing, an indoor running track, a room for rowing practice, a large swimming pool, and the offices of the Financial Secretary of the Athletic Association and the Director of Athletics. The rooms on the third floor of the west wing have been converted into an infirmary for men, under the direction of the University Health Service, for the duration of the war. Below the quadrangle is a fully-equipped theatre, with foyer, green room and dressing-rooms, and it is under the direction of the Board of Syndics. Every male undergraduate of the University is required to be a member of Hart House towards the upkeep of which he pays an annual fee of twelve dollars. Hart House has no private endowment and is entirely dependent on its membership fees except for a small revenue obtained from sources within the House.

The gymnasias, swimming pool and locker-rooms are under the control and direction of the Athletic Directorate through Mr. T. A. Reed, Financial Secretary of the Athletic Association.

As the war is now in its fourth year, it is fitting to recount the various contributions that Hart House has made to the war effort. Probably the most outstanding of the early contributions was the luncheon for the King and Queen on 22nd May, 1939, during their visit to Canada. Undoubtedly this visit forged a closer link between Canada and Great Britain. In the summer of 1940 Hart House was a distribution centre for British child war guests, on their way to homes in Toronto and district. The officials in charge of the distribution had their office in the House. The children took their meals in the Great Hall and the whole House was used for recreation. During the winter and spring of 1940-1941 groups of Norwegian officers and men were accorded membership in the House while they were in training at "Little Norway." Various military groups taking special training in the University were given full undergraduate membership in the House; these included members of the Canadian Dental Corps, taking a special course in dental mechanics at the University, and various groups of naval ratings taking a special course in the Department of Physics. From May, 1941, to January, 1943, eight squadrons of the Royal Canadian Air Force, studying radio theory in the Department of Physics, were billeted in University residences and took their meals in Hart House. These men, too, showed great interest in the life of the House. Following the discontinuance of the course in radio technique at the University a course was set up for a Pre-Air Crew Education Detachment. In September, 1942, the University of Toronto was selected as a proving ground for the Number 1 Canadian Army Course and the men in this course were billeted in the Victoria College residences. Both these groups have been using the House with the full privileges of undergraduate members.

The members of the armed forces, stationed at the University, have made their own contributions to House activities. The Camera Club has on its roll a number of men in both services. In the fall of 1942 several men in the University of Toronto Detachment, Royal Canadian Air Force, joined the Glee Club and added materially to the quality of the programme of carols broadcast at Christmas-time. The Revolver Club has had a number quets and balls at the disposal of members of the armed forces wishing to play this game and they have been greatly in demand.

The according of membership privileges to various special groups within and without the University has, however, been a comparatively small part of the contribution that Hart House has made to the war effort. Certain rooms have been reserved for the duration for the use of students taking military training on the campus. The former reading-room and debates ante-room have been set aside as orderly rooms for the Second Battalion, University of Toronto Contingent, Canadian Officers' Training Corps, and the University Air Training Corps respectively, while the C.O.T.C. stores are kept in the golf room. In January of this year the University Naval Training Division was organized and took over Room A as a ship's office. Various other rooms in the House have been used from time to time for lectures to military groups. Officers of the C.O.T.C. have a table reserved for their use at lunch-time in the graduates' dining-room. The Great Hall, now an army and air force mess as well as a University dining-room, has had to change over from table service to a cafeteria system, and this has necessitated constant changes in the set-up of the Hall, the organization of the servery, and in the administration of the Dining Hall Department. Few students are aware that in addition to the heavy responsibilities of her department, the Superintendent of the Great Hall, together with two other persons, compiled a Cook's Recipe Manual for use in serving large numbers. This book should be of particular value in camps and stations of the armed forces. Likewise during the summer and fall of 1942 she supervised experiments on the cooking of dehydrated vegetables, the modern answer to the problem of transporting large quantities of perishable foods in limited shipping space, to areas of war. The tuck shop, long a favourite haunt between lectures, has been serving the armed forces as a canteen, carrying a double stock where necessary, to accommodate soldiers, sailors and airmen around the University.

Two war-time types of membership have been created. One of these is for members of the armed forces who have been required to take special courses at the University for a short period, and is a temporary membership with fees on a monthly basis. Norwegian officers and men, naval officers, and officers and men in the armed forces are eligible for this membership, and a great many have availed themselves of the opportunity. In addition, all graduate members of the House in good standing, who go on active service, are transferred to an honorary membership roll, where their memberships are continued for the duration of of special members from all of the three services, joining in groups or individually, who have taken full advantage of the special training and shooting facilities offered in the range. Special courses have been arranged to provide instruction in military techniques of shooting, for officers in the navy, men preparing for O.T.C. camps, and air force personnel. Certificates were given to members of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps who took this training. The Squash Racquets Committee placed several squash racquets the war without fee and they have full use of the House whenever they are in Toronto. Every possible courtesy has been extended to members of His Majesty's Forces in regard to visiting the House and attending the series of Sunday Evening Concerts held throughout the winter.

The care of Hart House and its welfare is, to a large extent, entrusted to the students themselves through a number of standing and special committees. It has been the aim of these committees to ensure in so far as is possible, the continuance of the normal activities of the House at a time when they are of even greater importance than usual for the stability they afford in the life of the students. This has not been an easy task because of the great demands on the students' time made by military training and the acceleration of certain courses as in Medicine and Dentistry. Nevertheless the committees have been instrumental in effecting many special occasions, arising directly out of the war situation, which have proven invaluable contributions both to the life of the House and to the war record of the University. But the amount of pressure being exerted on the student by his academic and military studies and his uncertainty as to his future plans, was reflected in the light vote cast at the annual Hart House elections this year. Moreover, the personnel of committees has been altered frequently during the past four years as members withdrew for active service.

HOUSE COMMITTEE

The House Committee are responsible for the general management and social activities of Hart House and deal with matters which make for the comfort and convenience of the members. The Great Hall, tuck shop, billiard room and barber shop come under their supervision. They are responsible to the Board of Stewards for maintaining the structure itself and all equipment in good repair. The House Committee are represented on the Board of Directors of the University Settlement and members of the committee entertain the men and boys of the Settlement in the House each year at Christmas-time. Arrangements for the All University Fall Dance, the first large informal dance of the year, are also carried out under their guidance. The members of the committee are likewise responsible for the management of the annual elections of the Hart House committees in March.

The members of the House Committee for 1942-1943 are: the Rev. G. B. Flahiff, Chairman; the Acting Warden; Mr. F. W. Fisher, graduate representative; the Acting Comptroller; S. F. Kennett, Ontario College of Education representative; G. H. D. Munro, Athletic Directorate representative; A. F. Allman, L. H. Chapman, T. N. Christilaw, D. A. Hamilton, D. E. Hibbard, A. E. Histrop, J. J. McCardle, G. M. Nixon, I. E. Rusted, and J. R. Coleman, Secretary.

LIBRARY COMMITTEE

In accordance with the idea of the Founders, the Library Committee have from the beginning been engaged in the building up of a collection of books such as might be found in a good private library and the room has always been a popular resort for all who like to spend their leisure hours in casual reading. Additions to the library are made at regular intervals and the activities of the committee are mainly centred around the selection of new books. At present there are over four thousand volumes on the shelves, about one-third of which are fiction, while the remainder are composed of biography, history, language and general literature. They are also making a valuable collection of private press books which are shown in a display case in the library. The committee are responsible, too, for the selection and supervision of the wide range of weekly and monthly journals in the reading-room.

The members of the Library Committee for 1942-1943 are: Professor A. E. Barker, Chairman; the Acting Warden; Professor J. D. Robins; Mr. D. C. Wells, graduate representative; H. G. Christie, Curator; S. C. Best, A. B. Campbell, D. Cappe, G. P. Dickinson, W. H. Feasby, J. J. Hurley, G. C. McRostie, G. H. Parke-Taylor, F. L. C. Stinson and V. G. H. Johnson, Secretary.

The Curator, Mr. H. G. Christie, left for active service in March and was succeeded by Mr. C. K. Johnstone.

MUSIC COMMITTEE

During the past year the Music Committee arranged eight Sunday Evening Concerts on alternate Sunday evenings, for which the following musicians of the city most generously provided the programmes: The Canadian Trio (Kathleen Parlow, violinist, Zara Nelsova, cellist, and Sir Ernest MacMillan, pianist); Margaret Parsons, pianist; Johanne Moreland, soprano, and Charles Jordan, baritone, with Weldon Kilburn at the piano; the Hart House Quartet; Scott Malcolm and Reginald Godden, duo-pianists; Gerhard Kander, violinist, with Hans Neumark at the piano; Lubka Kolessa, pianist; and the Hart House Glee Club. Madame Kolessa's programme was presented in a very definite war-time atmosphere in as much as it took place during a practice blackout of the city. Fortunately the artist was accustomed to playing with a minimum of light. The harvesting excursion in the fall of 1942, in which many students of this University took part, left its mark on the musical life of the House. Due to the absence of the men the committee were unable to arrange the usual series of informal recitals, given by students at the noon hour, until the Easter term, when four recitals were given by J. S. MacDonald, pianist; John Bates, baritone, accompanied by Howard Brown; P. H. Serson, violinist, accompanied by J. S. MacDonald; and Charles Armstrong, flutist, with Professor R. D. C. Finch at the piano. When the twentieth annual performance of the Bach St. Matthew Passion was given in Convocation Hall this year by the Mendelssohn Choir and the Toronto Symphony Orchestra the Music Committee were in charge of the ushering.

The members of the Music Committee for 1942-1943 are: Professor A. M. Wynne, Chairman; the Acting Warden; Professor I. R. Pounder; Sir Ernest MacMillan; Mr. F. R. MacKelcan, graduate representative; J. L. Asselstine, J. L. M. Bean, F. M. Blayney, P. R. Bryce, T. E. Downey, J. O. Lee, J. S. MacDonald, L. G. Phillips, G. Ruggiero, E. J. Wilford, and T. E. Hunt, Secretary.

ART COMMITTEE

The Art Committee were particularly active this year and two of the exhibitions held in the gallery were a direct result of the war. The first of these was the Canadian Armed Forces Art Exhibition in November. It was the first armed forces art exhibition to be held in Canada and it commanded so much attention that it was hung in the National Gallery in Ottawa in December and later was shown in camps and centres throughout Eastern Canada. A committee at National Defence Headquarters were deeply impressed by it and they are planning similar exhibitions across Canada next fall. It is also probable that the importance of drawing and painting as a recreation will be recognized in the camps and definite instruction be provided as well as special accommodation for art work. The second exhibition was that of the work of the late Sir Frederick Banting which coincided with the second anniversary of his death while on active service. This exhibition was also hung in the National Gallery in March. Other exhibitions arranged by the Art Committee included the work of Caven Atkins, Jack Nichols, Michael Forster, A. J. Casson, flower paintings by four women artists, the Undergraduate Exhibition, the Senior Members' Show and the work of the Art Class. There was also an exhibition of Russian war posters and photographs and one of Chinese embroidered hangings and gowns. An interesting schedule of exhibitions was likewise arranged in the print room. In February, Professor C. F. Comfort, faculty member of the committee, resigned to go on active service as an official artist for the army. At the same time Mr. Carl Schaefer, director of the art classes in Hart House for many years, joined the Royal Canadian Air Force as official artist. Mr. Caven Atkins took over his work for the remainder of the year.

The members of the Art Committee for 1942-1943 are: Professor R. E. Haist, Chairman; the Acting Warden; Professor C. F. Comfort; P. M. Gardiner, Keeper of the Prints; W. S. A. Dale, Assistant to the Keeper of the Prints; E. V. Abbott, L. E. Banks, W. R. Beny, L. G. Cowan, R. R. Crane, H. D. Graham, W. M. Nicholls, R. C. Tully, and H. E. Leyland, Secretary.

CAMERA COMMITTEE

The Camera Committee, which are a special committee of Hart House, are responsible for the management of the photographic rooms, the care of the paraphernalia, and the encouragement of photography among the members of the House. In the fall the committee explain to beginners the use of the valuable equipment in the rooms and give instruction in various phases of photographic work. Because of the decrease in leisure hours due to war-time conditions, the members this year found it difficult to devote much time to work in the camera rooms and the usual monthly shows, together with the annual show, were cancelled because of lack of material.

The members of the Camera Committee for 1942-1943 are: Professor A. F. Coventry, Chairman; the Acting Warden; Mr. J. R. Macdonald, graduate representative; the Acting Comptroller; A. J. C. Bates, J. D. Wray, C. H. Heys, G. O. Sutherland, E. H. Hill, and A. G. W. Lamont, Secretary.

SQUASH RACQUETS COMMITTEE

The Squash Racquets Committee felt the effect of war conditions this year to a much greater extent than formerly in that most of the out-of-town matches were made impossible by the Government's restrictions on transportation. The difficulty of obtaining squash balls also curtailed the activities of the players to such a degree that squash racquets was dropped from the Intra-mural Sports programme. To encourage interest in this game a number of balls as well as racquets were made available from the small stock on hand in the House to any undergraduates wishing them, not only beginners. This included men of the armed forces.

The members of the Squash Racquets Committee for 1942-1943 are: Mr. A. B. Fennell, Chairman; the Acting Warden; Dr. R. Richmond, graduate representative; the Acting Comptroller; C. T. Collins-Williams, R. J. Fitzpatrick, D. Fraser, S. Moses, and M. G. Jones, Secretary.

GLEE CLUB COMMITTEE

Although the membership of the Hart House Glee Club was lower this year than formerly, the brilliant leadership of Dr. Charles Peaker and the co-operation of all the members of the Club made it possible to continue with the usual programme of the year. The Club led the singing at the Armistice Day Service held by the Alumni Federation on 11th November and also at the Student Christian Movement Carol Service held in Knox College Chapel, in addition to their annual carol programme and coast-to-coast broadcast at Christmas-time. This year the broadcast was given in conjunction with the Warden's Christmas Dinner. The Club also gave a fine performance at the final Sunday Evening Concert of the year.

The members of the Glee Club Committee for 1942-1943 are; Professor A. M. Wynne, Chairman; the Acting Warden; the Rev. Dr. W. H. Grant, graduate representative; Dr. Charles Peaker, Conductor, the Assistant Secretary of Hart House; T. E. Hunt, Secretary of the Music Committee; J. L. MacDowell, O.C.E. representative; H. F. Brown, W. H. F. Kennedy, W. E. Swayze, W. J. Wilson, and R. W. Willoughby, Secretary.

GRADUATE COMMITTEE

The Graduate Committee are responsible for the activities of the senior members of the House, both faculty and graduate, which this year were considerably curtailed as a result of the war. The only regular functions were the Grad Sports Nights and the Revolver Club, the latter increasing in popularity and making full use of the enlarged capacity of the ranges. Temporary membership for members of the armed forces has been continued and honorary membership has been extended for the duration of the war to former members going on active service

The members of the Graduate Committee for 1942-1943 are: Mr. A. S. Burton, Chairman; the Acting Warden; A. S. Barber, F. L. Bartlett, A. B. Extence, R. H. Hillery, E. F. Hinch, N. F. Mallon, D. B. Murray, J. E. O'Brien; the Acting Comptroller, the Assistant Secretary of Hart House; and W. B. Burwell, Secretary.

BOARD OF STEWARDS

The Board of Stewards is the governing body of the House and is comprised of undergraduate, graduate and faculty representatives. The general supervision of the House is entrusted to the Warden, who is appointed by the Board of Governors of the University and is ex-officio chairman of the Board of Stewards; he is assisted by the Comptroller, the Secretary of Hart House, Mr. W. B. Burwell, Victoria College '39; and the Assistant Secretary, Mr. E. A. Wilkinson, Victoria '38. The Warden, Mr. J. B. Bickersteth, is on leave of absence for the duration of the war and is Director of Education for the British Army. The Comptroller, Mr. J. R. Gilley, S.P.S. '21, has taken over his duties as Acting Warden, and the Assistant Comptroller, Mr. W. R. Cowan, S.P.S. '24, is Acting Comptroller.

The members of the Board of Stewards for 1942-1943 are: Professor H. Wasteney, Acting Chairman in the Warden's absence; the Rev. Dr. H. J. Cody; the Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, representative of the Board of Governors; Professor K. B. Jackson; T. A. Reed, Financial Secretary of the Athletic Association; Professor N. E. Sheppard, Secretary of the Faculty Union; A. S. Burton, Graduate Committee; A. J. Norquay, Student Christian Movement; W. A. Quigley, Athletic Directorate; T. W. Nixon, Students' Administrative Council; J. R. Coleman, House Committee; V. G. H. Johnson, Library Committee; T. E. Hunt, Music Committee; H. E. Leyland, Art Committee; M. G. Jones, Squash Racquets Committee; and J. R. Gilley, Secretary.

THE STUDENT CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT

It is the prayer of the Founders that the members of Hart House might express "the spirit of true religion and high endeavour." The original impetus which gave rise to Hart House came from the need for adequate quarters for the Christian Association in the University, at that time the Young Men's Christian Association. The Student Christian Movement, which is a fellowship of Christian men and women of all denominations in the University, has its offices in Hart House, which serves as its main centre for work among men students. The Movement seeks to make real in the University the noble vision and prayer of the Founders of Hart House.

Holy Communion is celebrated in the Chapel of Hart House on the third Sunday of each month during term. The Rev. R. Davidson, Principal of Emmanuel College, the Rev.

H. MacMillan, Missionary Secretary of the Student Christian Movement of Canada, the Rev. R. Armitage, Principal of Wycliffe College, and the Rev. Arnold Nash conducted these services. Study groups were organized in the various colleges and faculties. A group of engineering students under the leadership of Mr. R. Scott of the Department of Electrical Engineering, met at noon each Thursday. This group also arranged a supper-party in the Great Hall for engineering students, after which Dean C. R. Young spoke on "Life is more than Livelihood". Both the senior and junior study groups for medical students met in Hart House. The senior group under the direction of the Rev. Arnold Nash discussed "The Christian Doctor in Society", each member of the group presenting in turn a paper on some particular aspect of the general topic. The junior group was under the leadership of Dr. Stanley Best, who was a member of the Board of Stewards of Hart House in 1940-1941. This group was privileged to hear addresses by Dr. R. D. Defries, Director of the School of Hygiene, Professor H. Wastenays, Head of the Department of Biochemistry, and Dr. J. A. Walters, of the Medical Faculty. A group of graduate students under the leadership of Mr. Nash met in the S.C.M. office to discuss the Relation of Christianity to Education and to undertake a critique of the modern liberal democratic university from a Christian point of view.

The generosity of the Massey Foundation made it possible this year to appoint the Rev. Arnold Nash as Chaplain to the Student Christian Movement in the University of Toronto. Mr. Nash brings to his new task a wealth of valuable experience gained in England, where he served on the staff of the S.C.M., and in the United States, where he lectured in theological colleges. During his first year at Toronto, Mr. Nash was ably assisted by Mr. John Coleman, who carried on the work of the Movement in the University of Toronto during the previous year.

DESPITE THE WHOLESAL EXODUS of over 100 of U.C.'s best to the wheat fields last October, the Royal College, behind Don Rowat's presidency, forged ahead in all departments.

After an intensified initiation week which ended with a dance for the freshmen, the first open meeting was held. Those males who remained, however, staged a successful joint meeting with the W.U.A. Then a few days after the westerners' return, the Follies again proved its great popularity. Under the greatest of handicaps the committee working with Social Director Jim Lillico turned out a really outstanding performance. To finish the fall term, the belated first year nominations were held at a Soph-Frosh banquet which was followed by a dance.

The spring term featured the combined Junior-Senior and Arts Ball into a new and stupendous Arts Ball. A "big name" band under Bob Chester's baton attracted over 500 couples and on top of being the best dance of the campus year it garnered 300 dollars for war charities. In March another Soph-Frosh dance was held and a second joint meeting. The annual nomination banquet, free for the first time, drew most of the College. At it Bryant Kassirer and Edgar Simon won the Robinette Debating Trophy and Don Rowat was elected winner of the Maurice Cody Prize.

Under very trying conditions the Undergraduate made its usual auspicious appearance. Ben Holdsworth's endeavour, apart from the high literary tenure, mirrored all sides of the activities of the College.

Functioning under four different athletic directors, due to enlistments, U.C. athletes nevertheless kept up their usually high standard. Finishing in a top spot in the Reed Race, being finalists for the Mulock Cup and winning the Spalding Cup for baseball and the Sifton Cup for basketball, the College brought home its share of the silverware.

The University College Women's Undergraduate Association

THE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE Women's Undergraduate Association is the self-governing organization of the College, to which every woman undergraduate belongs. The Executive Council is composed of the year representatives and representatives of various college activities. Members representing the faculty of Household Science and Physical and Health Education were added this year to the Council. Meetings of this body are now held weekly, every alternate week being a joint executive meeting with the Men's Literary and Athletic Society. The purpose of the Executive is to organize and supervise the activities of the College in all fields of College life.

Open joint meetings of the men and women are held three times a year, when skits are put on by the various years and organizations. The "Lit" and W.U.A. plan and manage all the social functions of the College . . . the Follies, the Arts Ball and the year dances.

The Senior-Freshie Houseparty took place this year during one day before the opening of term, when the freshmen were officially welcomed to the College and directed around the campus and college.

The W.U.A. subsidizes various University College activities, such as the Athletic Society, the Glee Club, Players Guild, the Student Christian Movement, the Debating Society, and the Undergraduate Magazine.

The W.U.A. helps to support the University Settlement School, sending workers there and giving a Christmas Party annually for the children. It has also contributed to the International Student Service, to the Aid to Russia Fund, and has sponsored the Book Harvest. Representatives were also sent this year to the University International Student Service Committee to help in the organizing of campaigns throughout the year, and to the Staff-Student Conference.

At the end of the year an open meeting of the W.U.A. is held, when the reports from the various officers are given, and nominations for officers for the following year and for the permanent executive are held.

With the Graduation Banquet, the activities of the W.U.A. are brought to a close.

University College Players' Guild

THIS YEAR THE PLAYER'S GUILD, with an expanded membership and a live-wire executive headed by Ken Peck, climaxed its most successful season with a production of Kaufman and Hart's satirical comedy "The Man Who Came to Dinner", which played to appreciative houses during its three-night stand in Hart House Theatre. Murray Davis and Meg McLaughlin shared top-honours as the irascible Sheridan Whiteside and his secretary Maggie Cutler respectively.

Earlier in the year a play written by Meg McLaughlin and entitled "Men are Such Children" was featured at one of the fall meetings. The closing of the Theatre in the spring put a crimp in plans to present a gala theatre night; and the influenza epidemic swallowed up the cast of one of the three one-act plays that were to be presented at the Women's Union Theatre in the spring. The presentation of the remaining two was successfully accomplished, with those concerned showing no signs of strain after the most hectic spring in campus theatre history.

The Undergraduate

THE UNDERGRADUATE this year has had a somewhat stormy career, but we feel that finally we have succeeded in putting out an issue that will be a credit to the college and to the reputation of the magazine. In each succeeding year of the war, it has become an increasingly difficult task for the Editorial Board to secure contributions of a suitably high quality of workmanship from literary contributors already hard pressed for time, due to the new activities of a University at war.

We have this year continued the policy of the past three years of issuing one number of the magazine, which attempts to cover the highlights of the College year, and in addition to give our budding authors a chance to try their powers. One especially notable feature of our magazine this year has been a series of articles by graduating students expressing their views on the post war world in relation to their own particular courses.

No account of the Undergraduate would be complete without acknowledging the ever-increasing aid and encouragement of Literary and Athletic Society and Women's Undergraduate Association, and we could not have published an issue this year without the sustained interest and help of the University College Alumni Association. The future of the Undergraduate still looks bright, despite the difficulties experienced by this year's Editorial Board

University College Men's Residence

ONCE AGAIN THIS YEAR the University College Men's Residence has taken a prominent part in every phase of University and College activity. The "Lit," U.C. and Varsity teams, Hart House Committees, even Whitney Hall, have all felt the impetus of enterprising "73" men. And yet they have found time, between bull sessions and bridge games in the wee small hours, to glance at their books long enough to maintain the unparalleled scholastic record for which "73" has long been famous.

For the first time in the history of the house, this year there has been no resident tutor living in, and the members, with the able guidance of Dean Cochrane, have "run their own show" with marked success. Another innovation in the past term has been the introduction of a constitution—a measure which has been the despair of President Gray Cowan at recent house meetings.

In the athletic field, "73" has made no small contribution. The house basketball team, organized only last year, was very successful, and individual members of the residence have been prominent on many College teams.

The Dance Committee was responsible for arranging five of the most successful "73" dances ever held, as several grads and non-residence men will verify.

A large freshman class came in this year to counter-balance the increasing number of men leaving to join the ranks of the armed forces. Since last September, Ralph Loffmark has gone down to Brockville with the A.S.C.C., and Jack Wilson and Jack Galway have enlisted in the R.C.A.F. Several more have similar intentions for the near future, and all look forward to some bright day when there may be a "73" reunion.

Victoria College Union

IN STRIVING TO FULFIL the ever-increasing obligations of student government in a university at war, the Victoria College Union has had unequalled opportunity in 1942-43 to demonstrate its functions of centralization, administration and representation of its members, the undergraduates of Victoria College.

Beginning with a record-shattering Freshman Weekend, the Michaelmas term was scarcely three weeks old when football and initiations were disrupted by the unprecedented harvest excursion to Western Canada. Throughout October the V.C.U. was active in organizing and carrying out arrangements for this on both the western and eastern fronts. Several such unusual occurrences overshadowed routine functions; but by no means forgotten were the financing of the Debating Parliament and the Women's Literary Society, the publishing of Acta Victoriana, the arrangements for graduation portraits, and general liaison between staff and students. This year has seen the V.C.U. office, enlarged by a lost-and-found bureau and a centralized college mail-box, firmly established as the heart of student life in Vic'. Due to increased academic and military burdens, a decrease in the number of mass meetings has been necessitated; but the importance of those held broke all attendance records as students thronged to discuss the harvest excursion, to cheer Vic's sixteen "ideal co-eds", to protest the exclusion of friendly aliens, and to hear election campaign speeches. Nor has social life suffered unduly, despite restrictions on time, service and accommodation. Four popular Scarlet and Gold dances highlighted the season, which reached a brilliant climax with the Vic At-Home in Eaton Auditorium.

This has been a difficult but challenging year; a year in which we have all thought deeply and matured rapidly; a year of doubt, suspense and hope, culminating in the conviction that we shall soon see once again a world searching ever for the truth that makes men free.

Annesley Student Government Association

THE ANNESLEY STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION is the result of a petition sent to the Senate of Victoria College in the year 1912. This petition expressed the feeling then prevalent among the students that it was highly advisable to assume individual and communal responsibility in the life and conduct of the Women's Residences. Such responsibility, it was thought, would make for the development of character and the promotion of loyalty to the best interests of the residences. The Association was founded upon an agreement between the authorities of Victoria College and the resident women students, which agreement entrusted to the latter the management of all non-academic matters pertaining to conduct while in residence. Annesley Hall was the first women's residence in Canada to adopt this system of self-government and with necessary modifications it has been functioning steadily and effectually since its introduction. Each woman student in the residences of Victoria College is automatically a member of A.S.G.A. and is subject to the legislation of the constitution. Representation on the executive from each of the four years is a factor in realizing the individual responsibility which each girl owes to the party she herself helped to elect. It is the spirit of active co-operation between executive and members which is one of the reasons for the many practical successes attained since the inauguration of the system. The other reason is the sympathetic support given to the Association by the Dean, Jessie Macpherson, and by the Dons as a body and as individuals. With such assistance A.S.G.A. may hope to accomplish even more in the future and show itself a greater power in the life of Victoria College.

The Seventieth Bob

"REPEAT PERFORMANCE!" was the hue and cry that followed the seventieth annual "gala" production of the Bob Committee of 1943. This "Smash Hit" produced a variety of entertainment. "Heart-rending drama", "spine-chilling" mystery, "side-splitting" comedy, "eye-opening" impersonations are but a few of the mutterings the committee members and cast are heard to be mumbling long after their "terrific" presentation.

Traditionally, the professors and frosh were barraged by exploding witicisms. The former were taken to task and presented to the frosh in their true humble shyness (which eradicated the frosh supposition that professors are the essence of intelligence and personality), and the latter, poor frosh, were severely brow-beaten and shown their lowly station of life on the campus.

The precedent-breaking third act created "howls" of approval. "Ballet Rustique" presented in that ancient art the story of "Harvesting Wheat in the West" as attempted by the Vic male population. The Hicklin-Coleman-Brown, written, directed, acted, and accompanied, version was the toast of the campus and translated into many languages for presentation to the engineers.

As usual, the Bob Quartet burst forth into melodious wit and humour on the activities of certain Vic personalities.

The sophs and froshs in their duel developed into unrestrained explosions, rocking the very foundation of H.H. To this day both sides are claimant to the victory of quality and quantity (mostly quantity) which the judges declared a draw.

Again a merry time was had by all, and after the show all and sundry congregated by the collection plates to Alumni Hall where the remaining capers were dutifully cut to ribbons (undoubtedly Scarlet and Gold).

Acta Victoriana

VOLUME LXVII OF Acta Victoriana is complete, and another year of successful publication is over. We who looked after this year's magazine are proud of its achievement: in spite of the multitudinous difficulties inherent in war-time publication, Acta has appeared with some regularity and its contents have been at least as good as those of any peace-time year.

This high quality has been made possible only through the whole-hearted assistance of the writers of Victoria College. Magazine publication must have its seven fat years as well as its seven lean; 1942-43 has, fortunately for the editor, been a year of plenty. And contributions have been almost uniformly good, a fact for which an editor cannot be grateful enough.

Working from two first principles, that thought should be taken now about the problems of post-war reconstruction and that University students are in a position of peculiar advantage to do this thinking, Acta has published monthly articles by the leading representatives of the overrun countries of Europe on this continent and in England. Names such as Henri Laugier and Josef Belina need no introduction to a world audience.

The last issue of Acta presented another innovation: Essays of the Year, published as a supplement. There has long been felt the need of some kind of recognition of the talent which many students show in class essays. Especially in the higher years, and particularly in honour courses, these essays may well be of a scholarship which should receive a wider circulation than is possible in their class form. Outside of this, however, the student receives an encouragement which cannot often be given him in his examinations. The present editor hopes that this innovation may become a tradition of the College.

Victoria College Music Club

FOR THE FIRST TIME in about fifteen years the campus this year missed the rollicking, carefree tunes of Gilbert and Sullivan. War finally caught up with the Vic Music Club and forced cancellation of what promised to be one of our best ever—H.M.S. "Pinafore."

With Thomas Crawford again as director, rehearsals were conducted all fall with an eager and able cast. About Christmas time, however, our misfortunes began catching up with us. First it was the closing of Hart House Theatre, which left us with a fine show but with the prospect of using the Queen's Park bandshell to put it on. Then the Government took a hand with an announcement of impending weeding out of Arts students. We could not as a result hold satisfactory rehearsals in our most crucial three weeks before the show dates.

Although our show was cancelled this year, the Club still carries on. Our Annual At-Home was held in Wymilwood on February 19, and already plans are being made for resuming production next year if it is possible then.

Victoria College Dramatic Society

"Vic's production of Shaw's 'The Devil's Disciple' is excellent . . . the best undergraduate production I have seen".—NEIL MACDONALD, The Varsity. "The Victoria students acquitted themselves very well indeed . . . a highly intelligent performance.—ROSE MACDONALD, The Evening Telegram.

THESE WERE TYPICAL of the enthusiastic comments which greeted the main offering of the year. Bernard Shaw's three act melodrama of the American Revolution. "The Devil's Disciple," played in Hart House Theatre on December 3, 4 and 5. The director was Earle Grey and he achieved the pinnacle in a series of successes for this Society which began three years ago with "Our Town" and followed up with "Family Portrait" and "You Can't Take It With You." From the viewpoint of ambition, the play has been unequalled since Gorki's "The Lower Depths" set this Society apart as the most enterprising group of its kind.

For the rest, there were two successful theatre nights in Alumni Hall at which original works by Vic undergrads appeared alongside such veterans as Sheridan. And then there was a night of Shakespeare. Well-known scenes appeared in modern dress to an audience which understood and appreciated the author himself and the timelessness of his writings.

The scope of these activities revealed the full import of undergraduate theatricals in Canadian drama. Experimentation and enthusiasm were the key-notes that dominated this season and kept the Victoria College Dramatic Society vital and progressive in a war year when so many other groups were folding up.

The Victoria College Debating Parliament

AS THIS BOOK GOES TO PRESS the Victoria College Debating Parliament is concluding a most successful year. Despite a bad setback due to the harvesting and a rather morbid tendency to discuss nothing but the war, we have had a most worth-while year characterized by large attendances at the debates and considerable interest among students and staff. The Parliament convened on Nov. 18th with the government setting as its policy the dictum that "Victory Abroad means Revolution at Home". The resolution being defeated, the government tendered its resignation to the Lieutenant, W. T. Brown, and since that time has been the official Opposition.

The second session opened on an All-Varsity debate in which Marg Albright, of Vic, and Bryan Kassirer, of U.C., teamed together to shade a decision over Jean Vale, of Loretto, and Don Rohr, of St. Mikes, on the topic "Resolved that India is ready for complete independence." Notable at this debate were the speeches from the floor contributed by two or three Indian students attending the University.

At the first meeting of the new year the Government upheld Victoria's motto, "Resolved that abeunt studia in mores". Despite the learned Latin quotations from Messrs. Coleman and Hicklin and their rather doubtful translations, the House was facetiously convinced that students are absent from studies only in death, that study does develop character, and that morals are absent in students.

Victoria has sent two teams to other debating societies on the campus: Vic Butts and Barb McNabb served as missionaries to carry the light of the Art to school, and Charlie Scott and Bob Sedgwick from Law visited Osgoode and denied that "the Allies should open a Second Front in Western Europe" (October, 1942).

On February 8th, Queen's University visited Toronto and debated against Vic Butts and Royce Frith on the topic "Resolved that the present Federal Control of the War-time Economy should be retained after the War."

Most notable of all was the faculty debate which every year packs Alumni Hall to the doors with two hundred people or more.

In spite of the many extra activities due to war-training the Parliament has been well supported this year. Norm Sisco and Ralph Hicklin both took time off from their V.C.U. duties to speak, and Marg Dillon, Phyllis Mackenzie, Harold Good, Bill Robinson and John Dales have also spoken, and many others have all spoken at one time or another. Behind the scenes, Prof. Havelock has been an enthusiastic supporter and adviser.

Trinity College Board of Stewards, 1942-43

THE BOARD OF STEWARDS is the central student executive committee of the College. Its membership consists of a faculty member who acts as chairman, the head of College ex officio, and eleven representatives elected from the three senior years, the graduate students and the four main student societies. With the addition of representatives from the Review and the graduate students this year, the Board can now claim to represent every important section of student opinion. The Board has general jurisdiction over inter-society relations and transacts all business affecting the undergraduate body as a whole, leaving to the different societies matters concerning special aspects of student activity. It is responsible to the College Meeting for its conduct of the affairs of the men of College.

The Board has worked smoothly during the past year. This is not to be taken to mean that there have been no controversial problems, but rather that those which have arisen were resolved quietly and efficiently. Mindful of the dangers of interruptions in executive continuity, due to the high proportion of enlistments in a relatively small college, the Board has taken steps to preserve reports and memoranda for the information and guidance of future incumbents of the various executive offices. In this way, the Board hopes to preserve intact, as far as possible, the traditional organization of Trinity undergraduate life.

Trinity College Literary Institute

THE PRIME OBJECTS of the Institute throughout its ninety-one years of existence have been to foster public speaking, and to lend encouragement to Literary pursuits by a regular system of debates and by reading matter contributed to the Common Rooms.

The Institute consists primarily of a Permanent Executive of six members, a Government comprising some eight offices, and an Opposition of five members. The constant endeavour of the Opposition is to discover some inefficiency in the Government's discharging of its duties, and it is the task of the Government to see that nothing reproachable will be found in their administration.

It is the duty of the Government to manage the care and procuring of reading matter and periodicals for the Common Rooms.

The Government may exist only so long as it continues to win debates, and discharge with some efficiency its duties. If in the course of its term of office the Government Council is defeated in two successive debates, it is the privilege of the Opposition to succeed to the post as Government. Again, if a vote of want of confidence is carried against the Government, the Opposition may succeed forthwith as the new Government.

The Institute conducts meetings every second week on Friday evenings, a restricted programme of debating in order to cope with the more important demands of war time.

The Institute also supervises the Trinity College Conversazione, recognized by many as the finest annual entertainment on the Campus.

The Trinity University Review

THREE YEARS HAVE PASSED since the amalgamation of the St. Hilda's Chronicle and the Trinity University Review under the name of the latter. The experience of these three years has proved the wisdom of that step; the management of the magazine has been more efficient and the editorial boards have been more diligent and more effective in stimulating undergraduate interest in the magazine. The character and contents of the magazine have reflected this general improvement.

The Review has adhered to its original aims: it encourages the development of literary, poetic and artistic ability by rewarding those who persevere and excel and provides the medium whereby these talents may be expressed. In addition, it provides news of current interest to both graduates and undergraduates of Trinity College.

Despite the fact that the male registration of the College has dropped considerably, and consequently the quantity of material submitted from that part of the undergraduate body has been reduced, the quality of these contributions has been excellent. Then, too, it might be noted that a new critical and analytical spirit has developed within the College and The Review has been privileged to make this spirit articulate. This is merely another instance of The Review's peculiar fitness to promote the discard of traditions which have overstayed their usefulness and to guard those which help make Trinity an institution of character and distinction.

THE ST. HILDA'S COLLEGE HOUSE COMMITTEE is comprised of the Principal, Mrs. Kirkwood, the Head of the College, and the Heads of the three lower years. These Heads are chosen by their academic standing.

The House Committee meets to discuss house rules and activities which are usually further considered at college meetings. The Head of College is automatically President of the college meeting, Head of Third Year is the Secretary, and Head of Second Year is the Treasurer.

St. Hilda's is not just a residence, but a college, and as such has its own institutions. The W. A. sponsors social service work, and an annual bazaar, the proceeds of which are given to missionary work. The Literary Society brings interesting speakers to the College and promotes inter-year debating and dramatics.

Meetings are held twice a month on Monday nights. Each year produces a play, and alternative meetings are devoted to debates in which the years compete against each other. The awards for these competitions are presented at the Annual Dinner.

In addition to its regular programme, the "Lit" held a debate with the Trinity College Literary Institute. At a joint meeting of the "Lit" and the Trinity College Dramatic Society, three one-act plays were presented, the "Lit" producing one.

Wycliffe College Literary Society

WHAT A YEAR THIS HAS BEEN! Labouring under the handicaps of a minimum of time and an unprecedented number of outside interests, the Literary Society again assumed an important place in the lives of its members. Despite the strain of increased parish responsibilities, military parades, and an overwhelming number of Freshmen who had to be coached in the traditions and customs of this sacred institution, a successful year ended with the Annual Meeting on March 5.

The first regular meeting of the present academic year was held on Friday, October 2nd. The Speech from the Throne was read by His Excellency the Senior Student, John R. Flagler. The leadership of the government was in the able hands of Mr. Roland Hill at first, but unfortunately those hands became paralysed (figuratively speaking) because of outside activity, and it was necessary for the Opposition, under the leadership of Mr. Rolf Stanley, to attempt to salvage the remnants of the Society ere it passed into complete oblivion.

The Annual At-Home this year was informal and took the form of an "Arctic Night." Much credit is due to the Social Director, Mr. George Lark, and to all those who assisted him with the decorations and gave unstintingly of their time and energy.

The Election of Permanent Officers of the Society for 1943-44 were held on Thursday, February 25th. The honourable member from Lac la Biche, Mr. Norman Green, was elected President of the Society. The newly created permanent executive office, Secretary of State, was filled by Mr. G. Philpotts. The positions of S.C.M. Chairman and Treasurer were filled by acclamation, Mr. John Coneybeare and Mr. John Jeffries respectively being the only nominees. Mr. G. W. Lark, the member from Garden Bay, was unanimously acclaimed Social Director for the second consecutive year.

Emmanuel College Student Society

THE EMMANUEL COLLEGE STUDENT'S SOCIETY is the organization which controls the extra-curricular activities of the students of Emmanuel and is the official body through which student opinion on matters pertaining to College and Church life may be expressed.

The Society functions through the following committees. The Vice-President's Committee promotes the contacts between church students in Arts and the men in Theology. The Worship Committee, with the valuable help of the staff, plans for regular chapel services in the College each morning and for house worship in the residence in the evenings. It also plans for monthly celebrations of Holy Communion and an annual Autumn Retreat. The Missionary Committee promotes missionary education and organizes the raising of an annual Missionary fund for the bringing of an oriental student to the college and for general missionary purposes. The Residence Committee is the body through which the Emmanuel College Musicales are arranged and which gives student government to the life of the Residence.

The Theological Society is affiliated with the E.C.S.S. This year its night meetings, noon forums, and participation in the Theological Union of the University have reflected the rising concern with evangelism and practical reform.

The student body expresses to the members of the staff of the College its appreciation for their continued interest in the individual students and the various activities of the Emmanuel College Student's Society.

Medical Society, 1942-43

THE UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO MEDICAL SOCIETY has been best known this last year for its inauguration of an Arts and Letters Club. This club was established by the Society, with the assistance of the CAMSI committee, to provide extra-professional use of leisure time. Already it has become a campus feature. The weekly meetings provide an opportunity for invitation of divers speakers and discussion of many subjects.

The able leadership of Gordon Bell, as president of the Society, has proved especially valuable. Vice-President George Culnan, Treasurer Stuart Robinson, his assistant Bob Crompton, and Year Councillors Ted Campbell, Bill Hanley, Henry Barnett, Bob Wood, Alex McIntyre and Eric Elliott, Helen Grady, M.W.U.A. president, and Douglas Best, president of Athletic Association, busily discharged the duties of the Medical Council.

Stuart Robinson and Stanley Best were sent as delegates from Canada by the Society to the International Student Assembly held in Washington, D.C.

CAMSI Committee

THE TORONTO COMMITTEE of the Canadian Association of Medical Students and Internes has, during the past year, been primarily with data digging. The work of sub-committees on co-operative book and instrument purchases, on a study of the curriculum, on internships, etc., has resulted in preliminary reports, a book exchange, and a sound foundation for future expansion of interest and endeavour. Chairman Stanley Best, Vice-Chairman Murray Acker, Treasurer "Casey" Jones, and the other members of the Committee have had an encouraging and productive, if somewhat tedious, year of it.

The 1943 National Executive is to be composed of Torontonians: President, Stuart Robinson; Vice-President, Howard Hazell; Secretary-Treasurer, Douglas Dalziel, and National Interne Chairman, Stanley Best.

The Medical Society

THIS YEAR'S EXECUTIVE came into office January 1, 1943, and expects to carry on a number of activities until the end of June. The highlight was the Med's At-Home on February 25th under the chairmanship of Henry Barnett.

The Soph-Frosh Dance was held January 29th in Hart House, with the Modernaires in attendance.

The Graduation Banquet will be held May 25th in the King Edward Hotel. The Arts and Letters Club has had a successful year with a full programme of interesting speakers, and meetings held every Tuesday evening in Wymilwood.

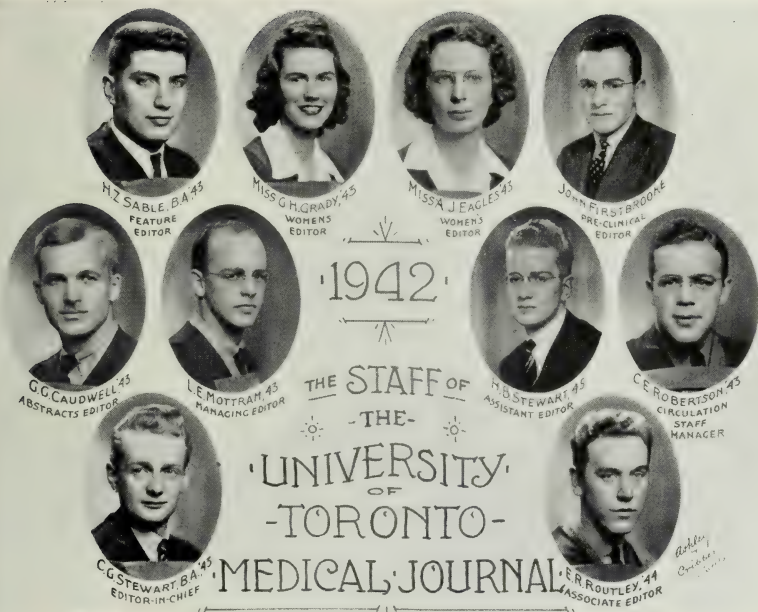

Medical Society Social Functions

THE ACADEMIC YEAR beginning in April, 1942, was one of the most successful of recent years. In spite of the absence of football games and the increased academic load, all of which, it was feared, would hurt the Faculty's esprit de corps, four major social events were planned and executed very successfully. George Culnan was chairman of the committee which arranged these events, ably assisted by Ted Campbell.

To relieve the monotony of spring at school, an informal dance was held at the Royal York Hotel, and nearly 200 couples danced to George Hooey's music. Dancing remained popular, and a few weeks later a moonlight cruise was organised. On a warm night in June the S.S. Northumberland cruised along the lake front, a few miles offshore, from Long Branch to Scarborough and back again, while 300 people danced on the slightly sloping floor, again to George Hooey.

When studies were resumed in September, we drowned our sorrows at a corn roast, held on Algonquin Island, at the Queen City Yacht Club.

The highlight of the year's activity was the at-Home. In accordance with the President's request and with our own better judgment, the at-Home was informal. This change in no way affected its popularity, as over 1,000 people attended. The ghost of happier days walked the boards, in a skit, directed by Tom Dixon, in which some of our favorite professors were lampooned, with the aid of The Outline for History Taking, and the Dean's raccoon coat. Then came the final exams, and the annual social event known as the councils—but that's a state secret, so we can't tell you about them.

University of Toronto Medical Journal

THE UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO MEDICAL JOURNAL is an undergraduate publication brought out six times a year from November to April by the Medical Society. The Journal is published by the students for the students. There is an advisory staff of six members of the Faculty. The editor holds an office on the executive of the Medical Society. The students pay $1.00 for the six issues.

The Medical Women's Undergraduate Association

THIS ASSOCIATION is a subsidiary of The Medical Society and has an annual membership of about sixty-five women in medicine. The president of the association represents the medical women on The Medical Society and S.A.C.—these positions being ably filled by Helen Grady in 1942 and Beth Harrison in 1943.

The Medical Women's Athletic Association

THIS ASSOCIATION has been active in several interfaculty sports in the past two academic years, particularly tennis and basketball. Agnes Eagles and Janey McLeod have done splendid work as presidents of the 1942 and 1943 executives, respectively.

Engineering Society Meetings

October 6th

The first Engineering Society meeting was opened with an interesting address by Mr. A. E. Byrne of the Canadian General Electric Company. A capacity crowd enjoyed an illustrated discussion on "plastics".

November 2nd

A debate between Victoria College and School was featured at this meeting. The subject before the house was: Resolved: "That an Arts man is more valuable to society than an Engineer".

November 19th

Mr. T. H. Millar of the Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester, spoke on "Popular Photography" illustrating his discussion with technicolor films.

December 1st

The speaker on this occasion was Mr. Otto Holden of the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission. Mr. Holden discussed the Commission's "Decew Power Development" showing slides of the project at different stages during its construction.

January 11th

Mr. P. H. Take of the Canadian General Electric Company. With the aid of slides and motion pictures in colour. Mr. Take's subject "Win the War with Welding" was particularly well received by the second year students.

January 21st

This was the occasion of a joint meeting of the Engineering Institute of Canada and the Engineering Society. It was the annual students' night of the Engineering Institute at which members of the Engineering Society presented papers.

January 26th

The guest on this occasion was Mr. Beattie of Anaconda Copper and Brass Company, who presented motion pictures on "Copper at War".

February 15th

The Bell Telephone Company's Mr. Geiger was the speaker. His address on the Nature of Speech and Music illustrated with slides and sound was of a very practical nature and was particularly well received by the electrical and engineering physicist undergraduates.

February 23rd

The annual "Election" meeting was held this year in Convocation Hall. Candidates for office during the 1943-44 session presented themselves.

AND SO ANOTHER SHIP sails into the home port, this time carrying as its precious cargo the members of the Class of 4T3. But its stop here will not be long. There is a job to do and it is the duty of every one of us to help finish this job as soon as possible, so we shall go forward, carrying into battle the collective knowledge of four years' study and experience.

Unfortunately, all of those that started are not with us at the finish, due to accidents along the way. Some of them have missed their year, while others have answered the call of their country and are now serving in different capacities in different parts of the world. These are the ones to whom we wish godspeed and good luck and send the message—More are coming!

Although our social activities have been successively curtailed from year to year, highlighting those that remained were the remembrances of intercollegiate football and hockey in first year, curtailed in second.

Yearly annual elections, parades, soph-frosh dances, club activities and, to climax all these, we now look forward to the Grad Ball and the Kipling Ritual.

And so I give you a motto that well might come handy in the years before you—

53rd Annual School Dinner

IT WOULD BE MORE THAN DIFFICULT—nay impossible, to visualize a year at School without the tradition of School Dinner. In recording another such event on the pages of history it is equally difficult to find words to express the grandeur, the traditional formality and the startling originality that went to make up the 53rd annual School Dinner.

On November 19th, despite the rationing of essential foods, Hart House chefs prepared their best meal of the season, featuring succulent Swiss steaks for six hundred and forty Schoolmen. Waitresses were recruited from the ample supply of experienced girls in the Arts Colleges and worked willingly to serve the hungry men.

The Dinner programme was opened by the head table guests' procession, preceded by a boar's head borne on a litter carried by Schoolmen in traditional engineer's garb.

Following the meat course, the house lights were suddenly dimmed and to the tune of the National Anthem a large Union Jack was unfurled over the head table, and under spotlight was activated by several electric fans, presenting a spectacular background for the toast to the King.

Toast to the University, by Gerry Heffernan, was returned by President Cody and followed by the presentation of the scholarships to the "Honour boys" in the School by W. C. Miller, President of the Association of Professional Engineers.

Feature of the evening was the guest speaker, Dr. W. E. McNiell, B.A., M.A., Ph.D., Vice-Principal and Treasurer of Queen's University, whose fame was outlined in the souvenir Toike Oike programme.

Following Dr. McNiell's address the Dinner guests relaxed with some light entertainment provided by "Bob Hope" and Ken Van Wyck, a third year "Sam Small."

Mr. MacDonald, Chairman of the Board of Governors, presented the Gold Keys to the graduating members of the Engineering Society Executive. Jim Dickie, fourth year president, toasted the School and Dean Young replied.

The President of the Engineering Society then thanked the gathering for their attention and the dinner was brought to a close in the traditional manner by a lusty "Toike Oike."

School At Home

ONCE AGAIN SCHOOL HAS LED THE WAY to saner organization of student activities and one again her decision has been acclaimed a success. This year, Schoolmen, with their inborn economic instincts, again made the School At-Home a social financial success.

Thursday, January 14th, saw that well known rendezvous by the lake, the Banquet Hall at the Royal York, transformed to a place of rhythm and beauty, while five hundred loyal Schoolmen and their ladies danced to the music of Canada's finest, Mart Kenney of the Brant Inn at Burlington.

Feature of the evening were the individual corsages for all the ladies, presented with the compliments of the committee.

Of course, the architects showed their ability by decorating the hall in the most unusual of fashions. Time being a factor for the boys, they papered the walls and affixed large crayons to the paper and let every man do his (or her) own decorating. Sufficient to say, the results were amazing.

Adding to the enjoyment were the 10 spots dance, the ping-pong balls dance, all with prizes, some thirty in number.

At 2.30 a.m. the sweet music faded away and with a lusty "Toike Oike" the weary Schoolmen wended their way homeward and elsewhere.

The distinguished patrons and patronesses were: President and Mrs. H. J. Cody, Dean and Mrs. C. R. Young, Professor and Mrs. R. W. Angus, Professor and Mrs. J. W. Bain, Professor and Mrs. R. R. McLoughlin, Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. W. S. Wilson, Professor and Mrs. W. J. T. Wright, Professor and Mrs. A. R. Zimmer.

School Nite

ON FRIDAY NIGHT, FEBRUARY 5TH, schoolmen hung the S.R.O. sign up at Hart House. The yearly presentation of the School Nite Review was a sell-out with over 1,100 engineers and their fair partners present at the festivities.

Due to war-time restrictions, the Revue was absent from the programme this year. But in its stead two skits were presented in the Big Gym and the Great Hall during intermission. The capable management of the Aykroyd Freres—Maurice and Pete, ensured its success. Many thanks are given to all those who helped to perform and produce the skits. Suffice to say that the quality of the skits was up to the usual School standard.

As in the past, variety was the key-note of the night's entertainment. Six orchestras were scattered over the building; the Mermaids performed in the pool; and moving pictures (ably spelled by a magician) were shown in the theatre. Movies of survey camp life and a musical short were well attended by the assembled throng.

Morgan Thomas performed for the dancers in the Big Gym, and the Modernaires in the Great Hall. Charlie Hannigan with his two bands, Mell Hamil, and Fred Evis were also in attendance. Add to this the "Record Men" in the Orderly Roo mand you can see that the musical notes were fairly jumping all night. The music ranged from sweet and soft to hay in the loft.

To present this year's entertainment, the committee was faced with, but overcame, many war-time restrictions. The loss of the theatre for the presentation of the Revue, the ban against serving food, rules concerning lighting, and the shortage of help combined together to give the committee a few sleepless nights. But in the face of all these things the show went on, and at a lower price than before.

So, to the committee as a whole, to the Aykroyd brothers, to the men connected in any way with the skits, and to all those who were responsible for a perfect night's entertainment, thank you—it was tops.

The distinguished patrons and patronesses who added to the occasion by their presence were: President and Mrs. H. J. Cody, Dean and Mrs. C. R. Young, Professor and Mrs. R. W. Angus, Professor and Mrs. J. W. Bain, Professor and Mrs. W. M. Treadgold, Professor and Mrs. W. J. T. Wright, and Professor and Mrs. A. R. Zimmer.

Architectural Club

SO HERE WE HAVE COME to the rather melancholy business of retrospection. First the dear dead days of Gull Lake, sketching and loafing about in September sunshine 10 per cent. and rain 90 per cent. And we recall with nostalgia that famous "first night" performance of the Gull Lake Follies when caricatured members of staff and students had their souls laid bare to make a Roman holiday for the assembled camp.

On our return to this seat of yearning, we were met by the largest class of freshmen in our course since Cheops draughted up his pyramid. Under the guidance of "Daddy" Carswell and the vim of our new staff acquisition, Mr. Adamson, the boys are rattling down the bumpy road of design in fine style.

To help ease these and other sundry bumps, the Club indulged in a grade A large fall barn dance for which, in the grand manner we rented an entire country hall, an oscillating street-car and a symphony ensemble of three pieces.

As usual we busied ourselves with every dance and entertainment of large size that the School held. This seems to have become one of our traditions but involves a lot of hard work. However, we crawled gracefully from under the burden of this year's At-Home decorations by letting the guests do their own.

Our serious activities have been well represented this year, with such highlights as an argumentative meeting on the "Architect in the Post War World," led by Fin McKenzie and Bob Fairfield and much staff student consultation leading, we hope, to less noise in the draughting room, etc., etc.

The peak of the Club's activities was the famous "Why Do Our Cities Stink?" meeting held in Hart House theatre. The meeting was well attended by civic dignitaries, town planning authorities, members of the profession and interested bystanders. Inside the theatre—three excellent movies, an excellent address by Professor Coventry (to whom we extend our thanks), three superb addresses by Bob Fairfield, Fin McKenzie and, I might immodestly add, yours truly, all ably chairmanshipped by Chuck Worsley; in the lobby, an exhibition of student work, arranged by Laing Baker, your Club chairman for 1943-44.

Civil Club

FOR THE FIRST TIME in the history of the Civil Club every undergraduate of the Civil Department became a member of the Club—thanks to the inauguration of compulsory club dues. With this as a beginning it is not surprising that a very good turn-out was received for every function.

The chief objective of the executive this year was to create a friendliness throughout the different years which would develop itself to such an extent that a few years hence the memory would not dim itself to obscurity. In this respect mild success may be acclaimed.

Club activities have in some ways followed the general pattern. October 9th saw the freshmen initiated amidst song and laughter at the annual stag.

An insight was given to the workings of civil engineering on November 10th by the presentation of a sound film on the "Building of the Abitibi Canyon Project."

This year the Club dance was forsaken for a sleigh ride, which was held on January 29th.

As this book goes to print, two dinner meetings of the Club will be taking place. The first, on February 22nd, will produce a film, donated by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario. The second and final meeting will take place on March 11th.

At this time the executive wish to acknowledge the wholehearted co-operation and support of the members of the Club.

Toike Oike

THE Toike Oike, which is published to celebrate each momentous occasion in the life of an embryo engineer, has seen another successful year. Each edition brings Schoolmen up-to-date news on the current events of School, as well as keeping them abreast of the School Sports World in its column Sportoike. For this reason it comes out "every now and then."

At the beginning of this 1942-43 session, Toike Oike took the unwary Freshman by the hand and led him through his Initiation and then introduced him to his Senior Schoolmen at the Freshman Reception.

Toike Oike then stepped into the ranks of the large journals and appeared at the School Dinner dressed up in an especially designed cover, devoting its pages, 14 in all, to the history and amusing events of School from the time of the first School Dinner down to the present. As well as providing the menu and programme of the evening, there were articles on the Engineering Society, the Alumni and Sports, thus it presented itself as a momentum of School.

Next the Green Issue, or Christmas Edition, appeared followed by a colorful School-At-Home and a riotous School Nite Edition. The dates of the election and Graduation Ball, being side by side, turned Toike Oike into a daily paper and kept the staff going day and night in order that the very latest news on these events might be brought to every Schoolman.

The year has passed quickly, but we want to pause here and thank, most sincerely, all those who contributed to Toike Oike and, at the same time, to wish future Toike Oike Staffs the best of luck for bigger and better papers.

Transactions and Year Book

WE ARE STILL UNDER THE MENACING SHADOW of war and its effect has become more and more noticeable; old friends appear in uniform one day and are gone the next. Those of us who are left, as well as our departed friends, seem to feel more strongly than ever the need for a "School Spirit", and that camaradie for which School is famous.

For this reason our Year Book may help in forming the ties that will bind our widely spread membership.

We have tried to include an accurate account of all our social academic, sports and military highlights. In addition, many items of lighter vein are reported. As we expressed in our Editorial, there are many omissions due to time and space available.

As graduates and undergraduates read Transactions our hope and prayer is that it will keep the memory of S.P.S. forever fresh and bright in their minds, and that it will help to keep our Alma Mater to the fore in the world of tomorrow.

Debates Club

THE S.P.S. DEBATES CLUB exists for the promotion of the ability to think on one's feet about the undergraduate student body. It operates on a grant from the Engineering Society and all the undergraduates are automatically members, although far too few of them partake of its advantages. During the course of the year it offers prizes for debating, for public speaking, and for impromptu speaking. It is on the whole run fairly informally and discussions after the debates, in which all may join, have proven especially stimulating.

In the fall Jim Henry and Dick Muller tried to decide whether the Engineer should be forced to take drill on the campus and found that he must.

An innovation this year was a debate held before the Engineering Society at their regular meeting on November 4th. The debate was between Victoria and S.P.S. on the subject "Resolved that Artsmen are more useful members of Society than Schoolmen," and the affirmative was upheld by Miss Barbara McNabb and Victor Butts, of Vic., and the negative by Ron Scott and George Noxon, of School. This was the first time for a number of years, as well, that School had ventured into the interfaculty debating field.

The most enthusiastic meeting of the year was, as usual, the Annual Impromptu Speaking Contest. This was held in Hart House on December 3rd and six prizes were given in all.

ELECTRICAL CLUB EXECUTIVE

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Electrical Club

ORGANIZED SOME YEARS AGO for undergraduates in Electrical Engineering, the Electrical Club has grown from something less than fifty members to more than two hundred. Its primary purpose is to provide sociability between the students of the four years of the course, and to broaden their ideas upon the less technical aspects of electrical engineering. Members also gain experience in public speaking, either during the meeting or in the discussion which usually follows.

Through the Class representatives, the student opinions and ideas are applied to the programmes, so that the wishes and suggestions of the majority are met with. One regular activity per month is planned. This may take the form of a smoker, dinner or field trip to some local industry.

The Club programme opened in October with a Freshmen investiture, following which some of the Fourth Year men gave advice on summer employment by relating some of their own interesting experiences. Professor L. Joslyn Rogers gave an unusual talk on the application of scientific methods to the detection of crime at the November meeting. A Mock Parliament varied the usual procedure at the December meeting, in which speakers from all years attacked or upheld a bill on the education of an engineer. Before the debate a "technical mission" presented the results of their findings in a short drama.

The winter term opened with a joint meeting with the Toronto Section, American Institute of Electrical Engineers, where Fourth Year men presented technical papers for prizes which were offered. Modern trends in industrial electricity were the subject of a talk by L. E. Marion, of the General Electric, at the February smoker of the Club. The season was terminated by a very successful dinner at the end of February, when R. B. Steele, a communications engineer, spoke on the science of telegraphy and telephony. Prizes, favours, and entertainment also contributed to the enjoyment of this final meeting.

The Executive feel that the Club has had quite a successful term, which was largely due to the enthusiastic co-operation of all the members.

Engineering Physics Club

THE ACTIVITIES of the Engineering Physics Club for this session began early in the fall of 1942 with the Annual Freshman Dinner, held in Hart House. The guest speaker of the evening was Dr. Satterly, of the Physics Department, who addressed some timely hints to the freshmen in particular and to one and all in general. Following the formalities of the evening the great and noble ceremony of initiation was performed on the freshmen. With an eye to the future of sophomores it is hoped that the freshmen classes do not increase by such large amounts each successive year; for some day these green tie freshmen are going to take a quick census and find that they outnumber the other three years all combined.

The second meeting of the year was solely on undergrad effort, with many of the Club members giving short informative addresses on the type of work they had been employed at during the previous summer.

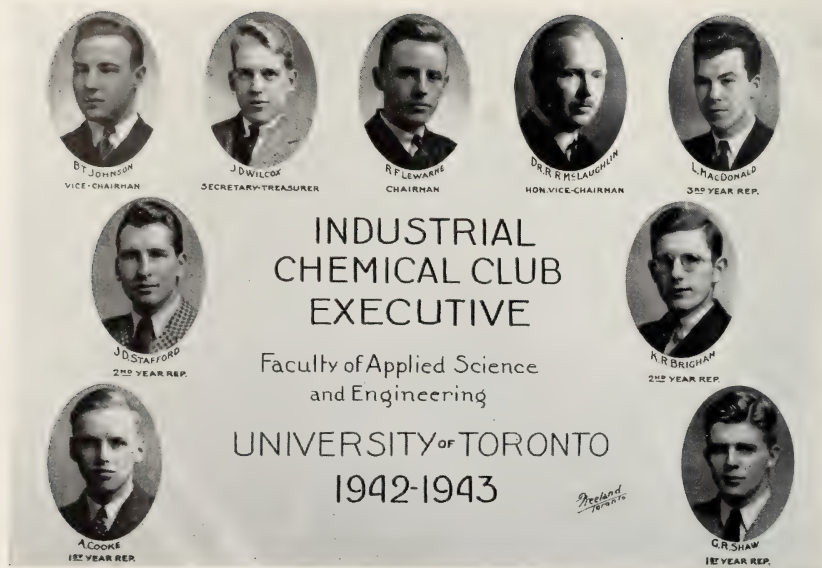

The final meeting of the first term was featured by an illustrated address by Mr. Kent Duff, of the H-E-P.C., on the "Fundamentals of Frequency Control." Following this meeting the rather small turn-out adjourned to satisfy their appetites for refreshments sufficient for twice their number, and once again a good time was had by all.

The Club, having had its fill of "sitting" meetings, staged a very successful dance just prior to the Christmas holidays. The attendance at the dance was good considering that only a couple of freshmen found time from their exam. studying to attend, and the whole affair paid for itself with just a little to spare.

The spring term meetings were opened with the showing of two motion pictures, "Frequency Modulation" and "Colour Magic," through the courtesy of the Canadian General Electric Company. Two of the fourth year men from the electrical option presented summaries of their greatest efforts in four years, their thesis.

A final dinner meeting was held before exam. time rolled around and the Club's activities for the year were brought to a standstill.

In closing, your chairman would like to thank his executive for their fine show of co-operation, and Dr. Gilchrist for his kind assistance, and the Club members for their fine show of spirit. May it ever be thus.

Industrial Chemical Club

FOR THIRTY-FIVE YEARS the Industrial Chemical Club has played an active part in the life of the student chemical engineer. Through the functions and activities of the Club the student was brought into contact with many of the phases of the Chemical Industry which might otherwise escape him.

Club activities, insofar as field were concerned, were seriously curtailed this year due to war-time restriction, both on travel and in the matter of obtaining permission to visit various plants. However, in early January some forty members of the fourth year received a first-hand lesson in brewing methods and practice, as carried out at the Canada Bud Breweries in Toronto.

The other club meetings, with the exception of the Freshmen Reception which took place in a downtown hotel, took the form of dinner meetings in Hart House. Prominent chemical engineers, such as Mr. John Buchan of the Bakelite Corporation, and Mr. Harold Watson of the Dominion Synthetic Rubber, addressed the Club after the dinner.

Those responsible for the operation of the Club this year would like to take this opportunity of wishing all the graduates of '43, and especially the graduates in Chemical Engineering, all the health, wealth, and happiness possible for the years to come.

Mechanical Club

THE OBJECT OF THE MECHANICAL CLUB is to bring the student in contact with men who are practising engineering, so that they may gain from them an insight into what their profession demands.

To do this the Club holds technical meetings at which engineers address the members on some particular phase of engineering. The Club has tried to do this in a most informal way, as free and easy as possible without the formality of everyday lectures, to learn something, because it is of interest and to have a good time besides.

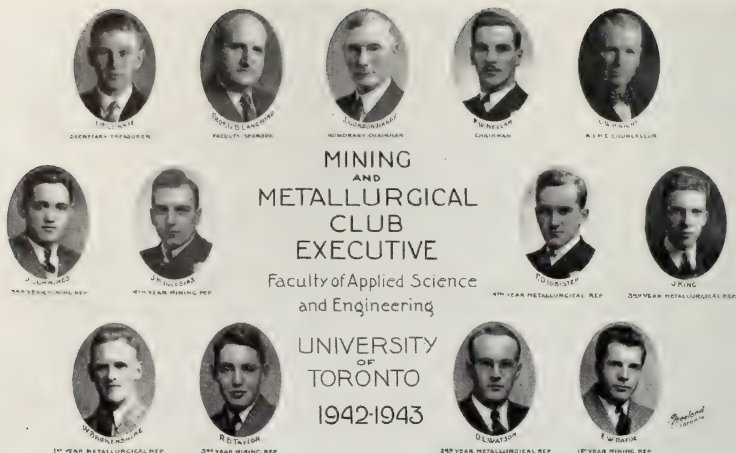

The Club has held such meetings this year. The October meeting was addressed by Professor L. J. Rogers, who gave a talk on "Glass Making at Research Enterprises Ltd."

In November, Mr. M. N. Vuchnich, of the Lincoln Electric Co., gave an address on the "Future of Arc Welding."

In January, a joint meeting was held with the student branch of the A.S.M.E. Mr. W. A. Osborne, of Babcock-Wilcox and Goldie-McCulloch, gave a talk on "X-Rays in industry."

Besides the technical side of our student activities the Club endeavours to provide a social night. This year we had our own departmental dance at the University of Toronto Schools' gymnasium, at which refreshments and entertainment were provided. This gave an excellent opportunity for all years to get together.

Finally, the activities of the Club closed with the customary annual dinner, which was held at the Granite Club. Mr. A. C. Blue, our honorary chairman and Mechanical Engineer of the Polymer Corporation, was speaker, and the Mechanical Club season terminated in royal style.

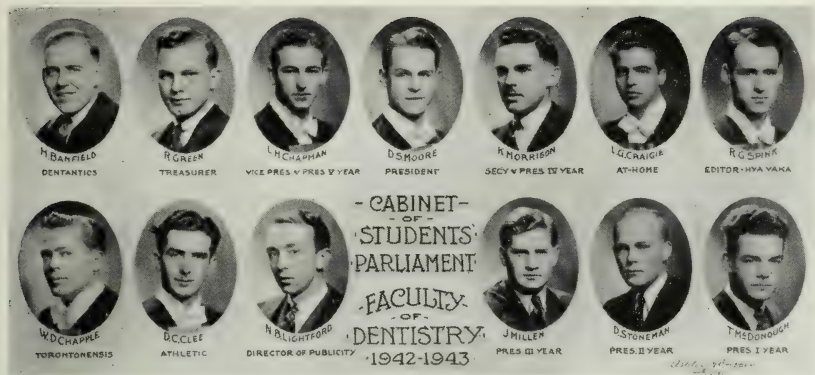

Mining and Metallurgical Club

A RECORD MEMBERSHIP and good spirit of the students has done a great deal in making this year a successful one. Too little stress has been laid on the importance of having every member feel that he has an important part to play in the Club's activities. This type of association leads to a more active society and it is our duty to carry it out to the fullest extent to make the Club a better one with each passing year.

We were indeed fortunate in having Mr. J. Gordon Hardy, President of Falconbridge Mines, as our Honorary Chairman. Mr. Cyril W. Knight ably acted in the capacity of Counsellor to our association with the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers. Once again we are indebted to Professor G. B. Langford, our Faculty Sponsor, who seems to be an essential part of the Club's life.

Our activities for the year began with the Annual Freshman Reception. This was followed by two luncheons at Hart House, at which Mr. G. S. Mallet, of Anaconda American Brass, and Mr. Hardy spoke respectively. The Annual Dinner, held at the Engineer's Club, completed the year's activities. Dr. F. E. Keep was the speaker at this function and his very interesting talk was the highlight of our evening.

The annual field trips to Hamilton and Orillia were not held this year, due to transportation difficulties.

Dental Students' Parliament

UNDER THE BRILLIANT LEADERSHIP OF D. S. Moore, this year's Students' Parliament has again proved its worth to the student body of the Faculty of Dentistry. All student affairs, financial, social and otherwise, are conducted by this group. It provides representative administration of all undergraduate contact between the student body and the Faculty Executive.

This year's Cabinet has provided a new scholarship, available to all years, and subject to popular vote among the members of each year. Steps were taken to obtain two new chesterfields and a ping-pong table, and it is to be hoped that a larger and better common room will be made available for the student body in the near future.

Dentantics

THE DRAMATIC COMMITTEE has for its primary object the production of the Annual Dentantics Show in Hart House Theatre.

Owing to this year's accelerated course it was deemed necessary to produce Dentantics in December rather than in February. The committees under the guidance of H. Banfield are to be highly commended for their efforts in producing a very entertaining and profitable show. Surplus profits from this year's production were used to buy a new radio for the Men's Common Room.

Hya Yaka

THE Hya Yaka has served as the official students' publication of the Faculty of Dentistry ever since 1903. The words "Hya Yaka" have no significant meaning in themselves, though some believe the name arose from a corruption of a Fourth Year student in surgery saying: "Hy you Yank awhile!" This, however, is entirely erroneous, for we extract, not yank.

The organizers, editor and staff, in 1903 and the following years, were an enthusiastic and energetic group, for they originally published the Hya Yaka as a quarterly; then, for a brief time, as a monthly. To-day, with the accelerated war course, and the difficulty of obtaining advertisers, it is a task to publish annually.

The Hya Yaka gains favour with the students mainly because it is the students' book. Student contributions are encouraged, and pictures of campus activities are eagerly sought. Professional and informative articles, by Faculty members, produce a well-balanced, personal year-book of college days.

As editor, I, Roy G. Spink, wish to thank P. R. Macfarlane, my business manager, for many of the new ideas incorporated in this year's issue. And to express my gratitude for the co-operation and patience of all those who worked with me. Our advertisers, too, must be given recognition for making this publication a reality. Thanks, every one.

Veterinary Students' Administrative Council

SELF-GOVERNMENT BY THE STUDENTS of the Ontario Veterinary College is established in the form of the Student's Administrative Council. It is composed of eleven members, three seniors, three juniors, three sophomores and two freshmen elected annually.

The Students' Council promotes student activities, oversees student functions and acts as a means of communication between the faculty and the student body.

In handing over the reins of office to the Council of 1943-44, the present Council does so with a feeling of the most sincere gratitude to the faculty and the student body alike for the hearty co-operation with which its efforts were met by these bodies.

O.C.E. Student Society

THINGS BEGAN QUITE NORMALLY in September, with an enrolment of 140, some 75 less than last year. No time was wasted. Lectures, qualifying examinations and practise teaching were accelerated for one good reason. Teacher shortage in the province was acute and O.C.E. was the natural place to seek aid. By Christmas, more than 30 students had permanent positions, while those remaining gained invaluable experience through supply work, in and around the city.

Therefore, our activities in University affairs were curtailed. In our own faculty we were successful in promoting interest and co-operation in informal social gatherings. Such functions, however, were placed in the background, the Student Society deciding to devote its future efforts to contributing, in some small way, to local war reliefs, and, for something more lasting and useful, to leave behind the nucleus of a student-loan-fund.

We close, stressing the fact that the nation looks more and more to its youth for a well trained striking force. We will have the opportunity of directing their training but our ranks are depleted; we need reinforcements.

FIRST ROW: Evadne Traill, President II; Isobel Sinclair, President I; Ruth Thomson, President, Undergraduate Association; Miss H. Levesconte, Honorary President; Grace Hill, Secretary.

Occupational Therapy Undergraduate Association

OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY is a University Extension course and therefore does not afford the benefits of affiliation with a college. The Undergraduate Association helps to compensate for this lack. It acts as a unifying agent and strives to make the recreational facilities of the University available.

This year's program included a welcoming luncheon to the first year students, an initiation party, a supper dance, undergraduate meetings, a bridge, the Formal Dance, and a Senior Dinner. A special effort was made this year to foster intercollegiate spirit by entertaining the senior years of S.P.S. at an informal dance in the fall. Through the efforts of the Association, students enjoy competition in interfaculty meets.

PHYSIOTHERAPY UNDERGRADUATE ASSOCIATION EXECUTIVE

Physiotherapy Undergraduate Executive

THE PHYSIOTHERAPY UNDERGRADUATE ASSOCIATION was organized four years ago in the hope of uniting the members of the course into an affiliated body which would provide for the girls a programme of activities for the year which would develop character in a three-fold manner—socially, physically, and academically.

This has been fulfilled by having guest speakers at occasional meetings—by social activities which have included a tea, class parties, a sleighing party and the annual dance at the Royal York. This year particularly the girls have taken an active part in intercollegiate sports and have proven themselves no mean hand at the "game."

The association has continued to grow each year and particularly has it gone ahead since the war. Very high hopes are held for the future of this comparatively young organization.

The George M. Biggs Trophy

THIS TROPHY, of sterling silver, placed in the gymnasium corridor, is awarded annually to the undergraduate who has contributed most to University Athletics from the standpoint of leadership, sportsmanship and performance. It was presented by Mrs. Biggs in honour of her husband, George M. Biggs, Med. '04, a prominent athlete during his college career.

In 1942 it was awarded jointly to Sub-Lieut. D. G. Finlayson, R.C.N.V.R., Applied Science '42 and Lieut. J. H. Mullett, C.D.C., Dentistry '42, both of whom have served the University with distinction.

1893—Forty-ninth Unparalleled—1942

ON THE SITE OF THE ATHLETIC WING OF HART HOUSE, forty-nine years ago last fall, University of Toronto students celebrated the official opening of the original University Gymnasium and Students' Union. There had been gyms of a sort before 1893, but this building marked the introduction of organized athletics and was erected as a result of student enthusiasm and endeavour. Simultaneously with the erection of the building, which heralded a new era in men's athletics, was the establishment of the Athletic Association to control all athletics of the University. Through the ensuing decades many changes took place. This building was torn down in 1911 to be replaced by Hart House, magnificent gift of the Massey Foundation. The University expanded from a registration of 1,281 in 1893 to a registration of over 7,000 this year. World War I flamed for four years, the "plentiful twenties" and the "depression thirties" came and went, and now war has returned to the campus after over twenty years of peaceful activity; and as a result the responsibilities of the Athletic Directorate have increased manifold.

1942-43 marked the third season in which intercollegiate sport has been suspended, but strangely enough the athletic facilities of Hart House underwent the greatest strain of their existence as a stepped-up physical fitness programme was stressed. For the first time on record members of the C.O.T.C. in first and second year were required to take physical training. Thus, with nearly 2,000 men taking physical training, plus the record-smashing intramural participation in all sports, problems arose which created a nearly insurmountable task, but the facilities and staff of the Athletic Association proved capable of meeting the situation.

This year also marks the passing of all but one of those privileged individuals associated with the glamour of past athletic contests, the First Colour Holders. Jim Paton, Don Clee, Jack Plaxton, Bob Copp, Maurice Clarkson, Doug. Best, Jim Baldwin, Jim Tapsell all graduate in 1943, but Hugh "Beefy" MacMillan is still with us, to graduate a full-fledged M.D. in 1944. Except for these rare and honoured individuals, only haunting memories and Varsity files remain of those colourful days when intercollegiate rugby drew 18,000 rabid fans to Varsity Stadium to witness a gridiron classic against the "Big Red" team from McGill, the "Tricolour" of Queens, or the powerful Western "Mustangs." Those were the days when special student trains were chartered to carry the loyal student populace to the enemies' haunts to root the Blue and White to victory; and Ace Bailey's Varsity hockey team made transcontinental jaunts to far-distant California where the Blues habitually defeated the Golden State's teams from the University of Southern California, and Loyola University. Star members of that team included such legendary pucksters as Captain Jock Maynard, Don Dunbar, Cam MacLachlan, Jack Quigley, and Bobby Copp, who this year became the first Varsity player to ever play with an N.H.L. team while still attending the University. A silent reminder of the keen competition in intercollegiate track meets is still to be seen at the east end of the gymnasium, where a huge notice board faithfully informs one of the record-smashing achievements of Blue and White competitors in these once-annual events.

But war changed that picture. Members of this year's graduating class, who have spent the entire four years of the present conflict at the University, have witnessed the transformation of the University's athletic life with the spotlight on its extensive and glamorous intercollegiate activities in 1939, to the self-contained form in which it now exists. Curtailment of intercollegiate athletics left a void difficult to fill, but into this breach stepped the Athletic Directorate to provide a government-approved war-time athletic programme that stressed Physical Fitness, Recreation and Athletics for all. Exhibition matches with various service teams provided some outside competition during the fall and winter. These all-star teams were selected from the vast intramural athletic programme of the Athletic Association which in the fourth year of war-time operation saw little curtailment in any of its 20 sports activities. Lack of transportation forced skiing to the side lines "for the duration" and lack of equipment resulted in the same fate for Squash Racquets and Badminton.

These activities were not seriously missed, however, in a programme where every college and faculty co-operated so splendidly in the University Athletic Association's stepped-up programme of competitive contact sports which was aimed to increase physical fitness among those who would soon be taking their places in the Armed Forces.

In the nine team sports sponsored, two hundred and forty teams played over seven hundred and fifty games. Basketball topped the list with sixty-three teams composed of over six hundred and fifty players. Close to two hundred games were played in this league.

The Faculty of Applied Science, with a registration of nearly 1,400, larger than ever before, annexed a majority of the awards. In the Fall Term the Lacrosse and Swim League championships went to the "Little Red Schoolhouse" and, due to weather conditions, a joint Soccer award was shared with Trinity College. Victoria College was successful in winning the Mulock Cup, emblematic of the Rugby championship, and to finish the fall term activities Dents finally emerged victorious in the forty-five team Volleyball League.

The Hockey series for the coveted Jennings Cup proved the highlight of the Spring Term activities. Before Jr. S.P.S. finally emerged with the crown, many thrillers had been played on the Arena ice. These included a long overtime play-off game between St. Michael's and University College and the third game of the final series in which a sparkling goal in the second ten minutes of overtime won for the S.P.S. "youngsters" and relegated Sr. S.P.S. to the runner-up position.

School of Physical and Health Education brought the colours of U.C. to the finals of the Basketball series, with Jr. S.P.S. supplying the opposition. The two Saltzman brothers, Alec and Bill, pitched U.C. and Dents to the finals of the Baseball marathon and the representatives of Sr. Meds. and Vic. emerged as top teams in the Water Polo. All six finalists were of championship calibre, but "to the victor goes the spoils." The championship series in all cases were close and well contested. When the decks were cleared P. & H.E. were Basketball winners, Dents the Baseball and Victoria dominated the Water Polo league.

To Varsity Track Coach "Hec" Phillips and an enthusiastic committee headed by Bob Delaney of Meds and Tom Barnett of Wycliffe, goes the credit for the best tournament efforts of the year. Meets were held in Senior and Junior Harrier and Senior, Junior, Relay and Indoor Track; the indoor season being spread over nine weeks of competition. Three hundred and forty-seven contestants participated in all for a most successful season. S.P.S. again led the championship parade in this activity, taking the honours in the Senior, Junior and Indoor Track as well as the Senior Harrier. Meds won the relay meet and Trinity the Junior Harrier.

Seventy-four contestants battled for the Junior and Senior Boxing and Wrestling crowns. U.C. broke the Engineers' monopoly on these titles by winning the Junior Boxing. Meds proved their ability with the foil as well as the scalpel by annexing the Fencing championship.

S.P.S. added further to their long list of successes by winning both Senior and Junior Swimming titles. P. & H.E. again represented U.C. to win the Gymnastics. Vic won the Tennis, both team and individual, and Trinity took what will probably be the last Golf championship "for the duration."

The T. A. Reed Trophy for the Intramural all-year high-point championship will, after the lapse of one year, again bear the name of the Faculty of Applied Science. Due to increased registration and other factors the point allotment of the Engineers was cut to fifty per cent. last year. This only served as a challenge and spurred the Schoolmen to greater effort and increased enthusiasm and participation. The result was a point total still well over the fifty-five hundred mark and a comfortable lead over their ancient rivals, the Medicals. Don Grosskurth, President of the S.P.S. Athletic Association, and Fred Sansom, Intramural Representative, as well as the managers, deserve a large share of the credit for this complete success.

Bob Delaney of Meds and Bill Rawlinson of Trinity, Intramural representatives for their respective faculties, share the honours for the best promotional work of the year. Meds and Trinity staged one of the closest races to date for second place and it was only in the last week of the season that Meds were finally victorious. This is the first time on record that Meds have been in the top bracket in the T. A. Reed Trophy race, chiefly due to the enthusiasm of Delaney. Rawlinson of Trinity has the distinction of leading the only faculty or college that finished the year without a default or a fine of any kind for a breach of the regulations. As a fitting climax to the season, Bob and Bill were elected to next year's University Athletic Directorate.

The Intramural Sports Committee handled the multitude of details involved in the operation of the programme. This committee was chaired by Don Clee of Dents until he graduated and took up active duties with the Canadian Dental Corps, and then by Bill Rawlinson of Trinity.

This has not been an easy year to operate to the satisfaction of all. Numerous emergencies arose, many unforeseen. Harvest leave, C.O.T.C. parades, staggered hours, evening games, etc., all added to the problems encountered. All faculties and colleges, athletic associations, managers and participants co-operated throughout. For this the University Athletic Association and its staff extend their thanks.

Fall Exhibition Games and Meets

The first team visitors to appear on the campus was the R.A.F. Rugger squad from Clinton on October 24th, which successfully overcame a Varsity fifteen, 8—0. On subsequent Saturdays, other R.A.F. teams from Picton and Mount Hope provided the competition. The season was a winless one from the Varsity standpoint, chiefly because their competitors included many top-ranking stars from the Old Country. The final game on November 22nd against R.A.F. Mount Hope severed the last link with the intercollegiate championship Rugger team of 1939, as "T" holders Hugh Ford and Eric Robertson played their last game for the Blue and White.

Following closely on the heels of the first Rugger contest was a track meet between Hec. Phillip's talented Varsity squad and guest teams from the Ontario Agricultural College and Number 31 E.F.T.S., R.A.F., stationed at Kingston. Outstanding in the Blues' overwhelming triumph was Trinity's Cam Burgess' accomplishment of capturing the 100 yard dash, low hurdles, shot put, javelin, and coming a close second in the 220 yards. This was the only invitation track meet of the year. The Junior Harrier was run in conjunction with a dual meet against Number 31 E.F.T.S., R.A.F. Hec Phillips is to be congratulated on the interest he has taken in both track and harrier. His enthusiasm has done much to place track in the important position it now holds in University athletics. Despite the lack of intercollegiate competition more people are participating in track than in the pre-war years. The victory of freshman Phil Shackleton was the feature of the race as Varsity men captured the first, third, fourth and fifth positions, with U.C. winning the junior gonfalon. The following week a thrilling victory (28-29) was earned over a visiting Buffalo State Harrier team. Although trailing for the top two positions, the Blues grouped closely behind Roy Foulis in third place and the victory went to the Varsity team. The Senior Harrier championship was run off at the same time, with S.P.S. earning a decisive victory. The following week saw the harriers defeat a strong Royal Norwegian Air Force team to end a most successful season.

Two successful games against Service teams were the highlight of the local Soccer season. Led by two members of the '39 Intercollegiate champions, Don Clee and Jim Paton, and consisting of all-stars from the interfaculty teams, the Blues captured their first win against No. 2 District Depot by a 2—0 score at Exhibition Park. Two weeks later on the back campus they overcame a clever passing R.A.F. team stationed at Port Albert, by 5—2, with Art Boyd notching two of the Blues goals.

Athletic Nights

With the coming of winter a period of metamorphosis set in while the autumn athletes prepared for winter sports and 1942 passed into the discard. With the arrival of the new year came the third edition of Warren Stevens' Athletic Nights. Proof of their popularity lies in the steady increase in attendance over the three-year period; from 5,274 in 1941 to 6,991 last year and then a new high of 7,273 this year, as more and more students discovered the fun to be had. These figures are all paid admissions and do not include the hundred or more performers who contributed to each night's entertainment. Student contribution to War Charities as a result of the Athletic Association turning net proceeds over to the British War Victims' Fund, the Red Cross, etc., has now reached the impressive total of three thousand dollars.

P.H.E. were hosts at the Third Athletic Night.

The function of Athletic Nights is two-fold. Primarily they are offered as a substitute for the suspended intercollegiate sport. They have succeeded in uniting the University as no other campus functions have been capable of doing, and also providing an opportunity for Varsity athletes to represent their Alma Mater which they might otherwise have been denied. Their second function is, perhaps indirectly, more important. In these times our social activities, to quote President Cody's recommendation, should be "simple, inexpensive and informal." That the Athletic Nights have filled these requirements with no loss in their entertainment value has been demonstrated by their popularity.

Athletic Nights made an auspicious debut in 1943 as co-hosts University College and Victoria welcomed the student body on January 23rd. Fourteen hundred enthusiastic students surged into the Athletic Wing to witness the campus debut of the Varsity Basketball team, which was presented as the "centre-ring" attraction. The Blues responded nobly, with a 61—32 triumph over the Manning Depot Air Force team, led by the sixteen-point scoring thrust of Don Gibson. At half-time in the big game, Charlie Zwygard and his cohorts entertained with their ever-fascinating demonstration of gymnastic prowess. For those who arrived early, the Senior and Junior teams of the two Colleges played exhibition games, while the pool was active all evening with two Water Polo games and a diving exhibition. The small gyms were likewise employed to provide additional entertainment for the huge crowd, and table tennis, a geographical exhibition of Toronto and its suburbs in plaster, and a psychological exhibit were all to be found in the rooms off the main corridor. A special feature of the evening was the sale of tags for the Aid-to-Russia Fund which netted $103.66. In conjunction with the tag sale a lucky number draw was held with the winners receiving double tickets, ranging in distinction from the Royal Alexandra and the Vic At-Home to the local Queen Street Opera House. Round dancing in the main gym to the latest recordings and square dancing in the upper gym occupied the attention of all until 11:45 p.m.

Trinity and Dents were hosts the second night and provided a varied high-class programme to suit all tastes. In the cage contest, the Varsity Blues suffered their first loss of the season at the hands of a dazzling University of Rochester quintet, conquerors of Cornell and Ohio State. In the tank, S.P.S. outclassed all opposition to capture the Fitzgerald Trophy, emblematic of Intramural swimming supremacy. For the devotees, the Junior interfaculty Boxing and Wrestling championships were held in the upper gym. Throughout the evening there was the traditional table¹ tennis and small games, a movie "Inside Fighting Russia," and a demonstration by the St. Hilda's girls showing the University A.R.P. organization and equipment. The feature of the evening in the lighter vein was the famous Dentantics Band.

The following week the School of Physical and Health Education did the hosting with the feature attraction being the Green and Gold Tartars from Wayne University. The Tartars lived up to their advance publicity and presented the Blues with their second consecutive defeat, 62-44. As a preliminary attraction an exhibition of girls' Basketball was provided by second and third year P. & H.E. women. This third Night also saw the debut of an All-Varsity swim team led by Northwood and Sansom, which swamped No. 1 I.T.S., R.C.A.F., in the Hart House pool. In the upper gym the Varsity Boxing squad successfully disposed of a visiting group from Central Y. In the Boxing room interesting batteries of tests, used extensively in the field of Physical Education, were offered to measure athletic prowess in such fundamental skills as strength, agility and coordination. A general knowledge test on Health Education held the interest of hundreds. Dancing finished up the evening.

As the Athletic Nights swung into the last half of the schedule, the Engineers were hosts for the evening. A basket with ten seconds remaining in an overtime session kept the Blues off the win sheet for another week, as the Trenton Flyers edged them by a slim 43—41 margin. Before the big game, a team of Varsity alternates disposed of an All-Star S.P.S. aggregation composed of individual stars from their far-flung farm system. Revenge against the Flyers was obtained by the championship Swim team which chalked up its second victory against outside competition by submerging the Trenton swimmers 52—14. After the Swim meet and an exhibition Water Polo game had been presented, a display of ornamental swimming was offered by the Mermaids who had been imported for the occasion. While these activities were commanding the lower gymnasium and pool, the upper gymnasium was the scene of the annual Senior Assault. As usual, the evening was concluded by the hoe-down artists upstairs and round dancing in the lower gym.

As the season neared its close the host committees always found new ideas, and the thousand odd students each Saturday were never disappointed. Assumption College's Basketball team and O.A.C.'s Boxing and Wrestling squads were the guests for St. Michael's Night, on February 20th. The Blues, after leading 25—14 at half time, faded in the second half and dropped the verdict 60—46 to the Assumption team. In an exciting pre-game warm-up, the Varsity alternates overcame an O.A.C. team, 38—35. Upstairs, honours were fairly evenly divided as the Varsity Boxers captured three of the four Boxing matches but lost four out of seven matches to the O.A.C. Wrestlers. In the Fencing room, coloured movies of the 1938-39 Varsity-Western and McGill-Varsity Rugby games were presented for the edification of the lower years at the University. St. Mikes introduced the first All-University swing orchestra for the swing and sway session.

As a fitting climax to the series, the Medical committee announced that the sixth and final Athletic Night was to be a "sweater night" at which all possessors of athletic colours were to appear appropriately adorned in the spirit of the proceedings. To start the evening, Gordie Wallace, with 23 scoring points, led the Blue Basketeers to an impressive 68-33 victory over No. 1 Manning Pool. While this was going on, School of Physical and Health Education men were enjoying a successful evening in the upper gym, where they scored an overwhelming victory to take their second consecutive Interfaculty Gymnastic title. A select half-dozen of the University's top milers ran an exhibition race at half-time, with Roy Foulis being chased across the finish line by Phil Shackleton to a new University indoor record of 4.36.6. Other track events included a high-jump demonstration, won by Art Jackes who cleared six feet, and a three-lap relay race, captured by the Meds trio. The women's Interfaculty Swim finals occupied the pool for the evening and resulted in a close triumph for U.C. over Victoria and P.H.E. In the fencing room, upper year Medical men presented a demonstration blood clinic and performed blood grouping tests on all volunteers. The evening's dancing brought to a close the most successful season yet.

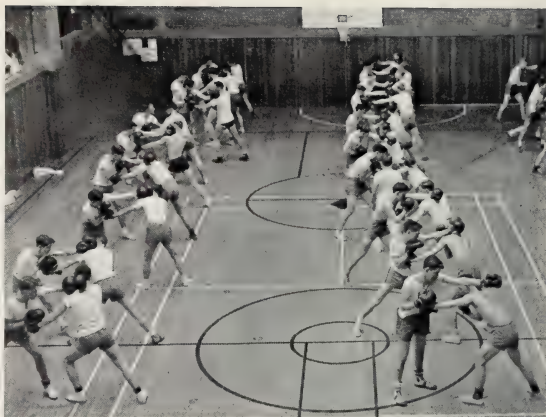

Viewing in retrospect the war-time contribution of the Athletic Association one is justified in feeling a sense of satisfaction in an important job well done. Most certainly the men of the University have not suffered physically by the suspension of intercollegiate athletics. Due to the exigencies of war an even more intensive programme of Athletics and Physical Training has been developed which is reaching the majority of men students in the University. Capable, understanding instructors of the calibre of Charlie Zwygard, Hec Phillips, Charles Walters, Bill Winterburn, Chesty Martin, Mel Gionna and George Daly taught the value of combativeness, endurance, leadership and courage while they were promoting the specialized skills of their particular sports. Now the men they have instructed are either already overseas or on the way. Their country has been enriched by their training. Simple regulations, such as the freshman swim test, assume an important significance when upon the ability to swim depends the success or failure of a mission—the matter of your life or death.

Of the thousands of men who have passed through the Athletic Wing, a small number sufficiently distinguished themselves athletically to be awarded the first "T". Scores of these "T" winners are in the Services and have seen action. The government was quick to recognize the value of this ideal combination of advanced education and athletic ability and the result has been that a great majority of the men have been awarded commissions. Four "T" winners have already justified this faith by receiving decorations for their contributions in the present struggle.

Flight-Lieutenant Larry Skey was awarded the first decoration to a Toronto flyer for gallantry in action. The details of the specific action for which he was decorated have been withheld by the R.A.F., but it is probable that it concerned coastal reconnaissance since that was his command for a considerable time. While at University, Larry was an outstanding athlete for Trinity, playing both Basketball and Rugby, and earned his 1st colour as a member of the '33, '34 intercollegiate championship crew. In his final year he was elected to the Athletic Directorate.

Flying Officer Albert Houle won the D.F.C. over El Alamein for his "tenacity and determination in pursuing a formation of enemy dive-bombers far over the enemies' lines and in the rapidly failing light engaged and destroyed at least two of the hostile bombers." At University, while in his final year at S.P.S., he won the Canadian Intercollegiate Wrestling championship in the 145 pound class in 1936. For two years after his graduation he remained on the campus as a demonstrator in electrical engineering.

Lieutenant Nels Earl earned the counterpart of Skey's award, the D.S.C., as a member of the senior service. To quote the official communique: "For meritorious services before the enemy. During a long attack which resulted in the destruction of an enemy U-boat this officer was in charge of the anti-submarine organization of his ship, and by his devotion to duty and quick thinking contributed in a large measure to the success of the action." Nels graduated in '41 from Victoria and earned his "T" both as captain of the Varsity swimming team of '38 and as a member of the water-polo sextet which in 1939 captured the Herschorn Trophy from its perennial resting place in the McGill trophy room.

A contemporary of Houle's, but not so fortunate, was Captain Allan "Bunny" Graham, who has been a prisoner in Italy since July, 1942. The same year he was awarded the Military Cross for "Distinguished service and gallantry" on the African war-front. While acquiring his M.D. at Toronto, he found time to battle his way to the senior Intercollegiate 165 pound Boxing championship in 1937.

At one time or another, every man in the University must pass under the jurisdiction of the Department of Athletics and Physical Training, by far the largest department on the campus. In the past year approximately 2,800 individuals utilized the athletic facilities of Hart House, of which 1,800 were enrolled in the compulsory Physical Training classes, and the remainder were men of all years who participated in interfaculty sports and voluntary activities of their own choosing. These figures assume a marked importance as Canada's need for men like Larry Skey, Nels Earl, Al Houle and Al Graham increases with the prosecution of the war. History may record the University of Toronto as the Canadian Eton, as Varsity athletes make further and greater sacrifices to the Allies' victory. In such eventuality the contribution of the season 1942-43 will loom large in the final reckoning as it enters the athletic annals, in size and importance—unparalleled.

The Trinity College Athletic Association

YES, EVEN THE "SALT OF THE EARTH" can change. Though we were formerly known as the Trinity College Amateur Athletic Association we have bowed to the advancement of the age and, without changing our status, we now allow ourselves the familiar nomination of T.C.A.A.

The T.C.A.A. is composed of all the undergraduate students of Trinity College, the Theological class, and students of other faculties resident in Trinity College. The control of the affairs of this Association is vested in the T.C.A.A. executive. A key man in the athletic programme of Trinity College is the Manager of Athletics. He must acquaint himself with the position of Trinity in Intra-Mural sports and be responsible for keeping the Executive and the College informed of all developments in that field. He represents the Association before the University of Toronto Athletic Association and on the Intra-Mural Sports Committee.

It has been the policy of the Association this year to stress not the mere winning of trophies but the fact that it is the duty of every student to attain his best physical condition that he may be better fit to serve his country on the battlefield of war. It may seem a far cry from a pigskin ball to a sixteen-inch shell or from the flying pucks to flying bullets; but it is only a "back-stage whisper" from the spirit which is displayed on the playing field to that which must be displayed on the battlefield. This Association, despite the set-backs which it naturally feels in times like this, is carrying on with the idea that the first common-to-all-arms training that a soldier gets is in the realm of sport, and as long as it is within human ability it shall carry on this training.

Wycliffe College Athletic Association

THE WYCLIFFE COLLEGE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION has been fighting a grim battle for existence. One by one the veterans have been leaving in answer to the call from King and Country. But for the loyal support of men from S.P.S., Meds., U.C., Soc. Science, and O.C.E. who have found places in our residence, the battle would have been lost long ago. As it was the casualties were heavy. Lacrosse, water-polo, swimming and baseball were the most severe, "Missing, presumed prisoners for the duration." The track and harrier meets were the first to show that there were few athletes left. However, in spite of that, our harrier team ran a great race over the High Park course and finished in second place. Three of our men, Tom Barnett, Geoff Parke-Taylor, and John Jeffries placed on the U. of T. harrier and track teams and by their efforts upheld the honour achieved in this field by other great Wycliffe men of the past. For some time the volleyball team played its games with one or two men short. Eventually, however, it won the group, and in the play-offs gave Senior School a real scare.

The rest of the story is brief. The soccer team fought hard. Period. Term One ended.

Term Two began. The basketball team turned out to be large enough to split into two. The "A" team lost only to Knox. A single front line, which worked like all possessed carried the hockey team to the top of its group, managed to beat S.P.S. "V" but were stopped by none other than Jr. School. Term Two ended.

Those of us who scraped up enough time or stole enough time to play anything, have no regrets, except that circumstances which have no bearing on athletics prevented further effort. The very time we stole has given us that much more stamina to get on with the job.

Emmanuel College Athletic Association

EMMANUEL ATHLETICS this year have been a credit to the College at a period when our term is shortened and time is limited. An enthusiastic freshman class has contributed noble support along with the other years.

Emmanuel "Bear Cats" began the season well, by reaching the semi-finals in soccer. We feel this is a real achievement. The swimming team tried hard and our two volley ball teams were enthusiastic and played well. House league volley ball was enjoyed by other men in the College as a recreational activity. Credit should also be given to the honest efforts of our harrier team. The winter sports programme has produced a fighting hockey team, while our basketball and baseball teams will do their best.

The activities this year have been well supported and real credit is due to all who have upheld the name of the Emmanuel "Bear Cats."

Medical Athletic Association

IT HAS BEEN THE POLICY of the Medical Athletic Association for many months to obtain more enthusiastic participation in all divisions of the Intramural sports programme. The number of team entries has been increased, largely in non-contest sports. The Association has endeavoured to gain more efficient management of teams.

Due to the increasing difficulty in securing equipment, it was decided that, in fairness to future executives, sweaters should be returned by the players, so that teams next year will have uniforms. Plans for a new colour system to replace the old "M" by possibly a bronze M, 1st M and 2nd M, are being completed.

Finally, regardless of any changes in plans or hopes in the future, the Association feels that the response and co-operation has been increasingly gratifying on the part of the students of the Faculty of Medicine.

School of Practical Science Athletic Association

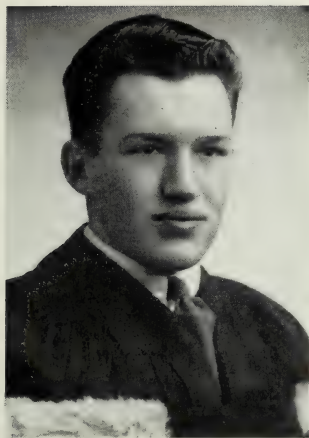

THIS ASSOCIATION is composed of every undergraduate male student enrolled in the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering. The government of the Association is in the hands of the executive elected each year by the students at the annual "School" elections.

The executive consists of a President from fourth year, a Secretary-Treasurer from third year, a Vice-President from second year, and a representative from each of the four years. The members of the executive choose a publicity expert from one of the four years.

Once again this Faculty has enjoyed a very successful year. A greater percentage of undergraduates from School are participating in the various interfaculty sports than ever before in its history. Baseball and basketball especially are well represented by this Faculty with thirty teams entered in each sport.

With the last-minute loss of the T. A. Reed trophy last year a determined effort has been made to again bring home the bacon to School this year. At the time of writing S.P.S. is enjoying a 600-point lead in the much coveted race.

Congratulations, men of S.P.S., for the manner in which you gave your time and effort in the greatest interfaculty competition on the North American continent.

Bronze S

THIS YEAR S.P.S. HAS AWARDED to Don Grosskurth its highest athletic honour, the Bronze "S." This coveted award is presented each year to the Schoolman who, during his career at S.P.S., has displayed outstanding athletic ability leadership and sportsmanship.

Don's interest in School sport has been evident since the first year. In that year he was elected as athletic representative, the following year as Vice-President, then Secretary-Treasurer, and finally President of S.P.S. Athletic Association.

Don has been active in a great variety of sports. During his four years at S.P.S. he took part in rugby, hockey, baseball, basketball, lacrosse, golf and wrestling.

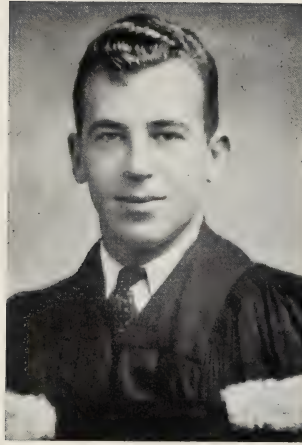

In his first year, Don was captain of the S.P.S. rugby semi-finalists, a member of the Junior S.P.S. Championship Hockey Squad, and a member of the lacrosse and wrestling teams.

In his second year he again was captain of the Junior S.P.S. Championship Rugby Team, a member of the Junior Baseball and Junior Hockey and Wrestling Teams.

In his third year, Don took part in all sports for which he could possibly make time.

In his final year he again played with a vast variety of School teams and, as President of S.P.S. Athletic Association, showed his worth as an organizer.

Schoolmen of all classes say "Well done, Don, may your success continue in the future as an athlete and as an Engineer."

Phene Memorial Trophy

THIS YEAR WEED QUITTENTON was awarded the Phene Memorial Trophy. Voted the holder by his fellow Senior School Rugby teammates.

Weed has played a prominent roll in S.P.S. rugby, giving his full time and energy.

He is a great sportsman and leader and his chatter along the line kept the Senior Team in there plugging when things looked darkest.

Congratulations Weed, may your leadership and spirit carry on at Brockville and wherever you may be as a member of the Royal Canadian Engineers.

Dental Athletic Directorate

THE DENTAL ATHLETICS are under the control of the Dental Athletic Directorate, composed of the managers of the various sports in which the Faculty participates. The Directorate is presided over by the Athletic Director, chosen from the Directorate by the members of the latter.

This year has again proven the athletic ability of the dental students. Both the rugby and soccer teams reached the play-offs. The volleyball team, for the third consecutive year, won the interfaculty championship.

At this time the baseball, hockey and basketball teams appear very strong, and should provide stiff competition for the interfaculty loop. Teams were entered in lacrosse and water polo, but due to conditions, skiing, squash and badminton were dropped this year. Credit goes also to the B. W. and F., and golf representatives, who supplied splendid individual efforts.

With the graduation of Fifth Year goes one of the strongest classes in athletics in the Faculty

May we thank the members of the Directorate and the student body for their excellent support throughout the year, and wish the incoming Directorate much success in dental athletics next season

Women's Athletics 1942-43

ONE YARDSTICK by which the success of an athletic programme may be measured is that of numbers participating. By this method 1942-43 is undoubtedly the most satisfactory season ever experienced in University of Toronto Women's Athletics. The better division of championships also was a cause for satisfaction as in the previous year the combined University College and Physical and Health Education teams had carried everything before them.

The first scheduled competition was the golf tournament held this year at St. Andrew's Golf Club on October 9. There were about thirty contestants and Mary Barrie of School of Nursing emerged the champion with a gross 90. As a college, Trinity won the meet, having the two low net scores and winning the approaching and putting.

The College tennis tournaments produced six teams of six players each to complete in the University meet, Meds. and Nurses combining and P.H.E. and the four colleges each entering a team. Betty Hungerford, Trin. III, was the Club President and she had the responsibility of what was probably the longest tournament on record, due to bad weather conditions. Finally, on November 16, Virginia Rappell MacLeod, Vic. II, won back the championship she lost last year to this year's other finalist, Virginia Kitto, P.H.E. II. The team laurels, based on points, went to P.H.E.

The big increase in competitors came in basketball, for the record number of seventeen teams took part in the intramural schedule. Too much credit cannot be given to the Club President, Ruth Virtue, Vic. III, who took over at short notice and kept the complicated schedule running smoothly. U.C., P.H.E., Vic. and St. Hilda's all entered three teams each, while St. Michael's, O.T., Physio., Meds. and Nurses each entered one. After a series which started November 5 and ended December 14, the Senior and Junior P.H.E. teams were left to battle it out. The teams were coached by those old intercollegiate teammates and later coaching rivals, Helen Gurney and Bobbie Macdonald, and the greater experience of Helen's Seniors proved too much for the courageous Juniors who were downed 43-32 on the round

The hockey season also was most successful under Club President Aileen McNally, St. M's. III. Six teams played through the series until the end of February when Vic. and St. Hilda's emerged as finalists. One tie game was played and in the second game Vic. won out by a single score, making them champions for the first time since 1937.

The Badminton Club, under the presidency of Shirley Geldert, U.C. III, had several handicaps to overcome, among which were lack of courts and lack of birds. The former was solved by the permission of the School of P.H.E. authorities to use their courts certain afternoons, and a general salvage and "good neighbour" policy relieved the bird shortage. A singles and a doubles tournament were arranged, with Betty Allan, P.E.H. III, winning the singles and Ruth Carleton, P.H.E. III, and Mary Keir, P.H.E. I., winning the doubles. The team championship, of course, went to the School of Physical and Health Education.

The Swimming Club, with Pat Austin, P.H.E. III, as President, also had a most successful season under the new swimming instructor, Miss Winifred Baxter, who herself had been an intercollegiate champion and Club President as an undergraduate. Several College meets were held and teams chosen for the intramural meet. This was arranged as one of the attractions for the Hart House Athletic Night held on Saturday, March 27. This proved to be a most popular move and the contestants were cheered on by hundreds of spectators instead of the handful who have been present in the last few years. The team championship could not have been closer, U.C. and Vic. tying for the lead up to the last event, the free style relay. As U.C. placed second to P.H.E. in this event, the team from that college automatically won the championship. The individual champion was Barbara Hinchcliffe, Vic. I.

Bowling again proved a most popular recreational sport, well over a hundred students taking part. The Midtown Alleys were rented by the Athletic Association under the Athletic Fee plan and the students who participated were required only to pay a small supplementary fee for which they were entitled to 20 games.

Skiing was one sport which suffered badly from the affects of the war—transportation being almost a minus quantity. Individual skiers managed to get away for the odd weekend but it seemed impossible to arrange for competitors to be transported to suitable grounds and the meet was abandoned for this year.

Volleyball, while not formally sponsored by the Athletic Association, was recognized as an approved sport and a successful series of games was played with four teams competing. P.H.E. won out in a close final game against Vic.

The difficult problem of dividing the strength of the combined U.C. and P.H.E. athletes was taken care of by the decision of the two groups concerned, with the approval of the Athletic Directorate, to enter separate teams in all sports, and, in the case of P.H.E., to enter year or Junior and Senior teams whenever possible. Even with this arrangement, P.H.E. won three out of the five regular championships.

The Athletic Directorate this year decided to award special Senior Colours to several students who had never had the opportunity to take part in intercollegiate competition because of the war, but the calibre of whose play was such that they were outstanding in their particular fields.

University College Women's Athletics

THE COLLEGE ATHLETICS are under the direction of an Athletic Council, comprised of an Athletic Director, an Assistant Director, and representatives for each sport in which the members of the College participate.

In an attempt made to maintain keen interfaculty competition, University College entered twice the number of teams of previous years in each sport. As a result of this step, necessitated by the affiliation of the Physical and Health Education Course with U.C., the number of participants in college athletics was greatly increased.

Following the arrangement of the two preceding years, the Interfaculty Golf Tournament was again sponsored by U.C. under the capable management of Anna Mirette Campbell. The tournament was a success since the invitation extended to the other faculties to enter resulted in a good representation.

Under the new arrangement P.H.E. and U.C. had separate tennis tournaments organized by Ruth Carleton. The finalists were Virginia Kitto, Ruth Carleton, Barbara Greenleaf and Betsy Mosbaugh, and the winners are to be decided in the spring. The members of the P.H.E. tennis team gathered enough points in the Interfaculty Tennis Tournament to bring the cup again to the U.C. Union.

U.C. entered six teams in the Basketball competition under the direction of Zoe Christie. Of these, four were represented in the Interfaculty finals. This is the first time in the history of intramural women's basketball that this situation has occurred and for the third time the two finalist teams represented the same college. As happened on the two previous occasions, the Senior U.C. team captured the Interfaculty Cup. The final games between the evenly matched P.H.E. Seniors and Juniors produced girls' basketball at its best. These two teams, coached by Helen Gurney and Bobbie MacDonald, two former U.C. and inter-collegiate stars, played an exhibition game at a University athletic night which resulted in a tie score.

There was greatly increased interest in volleyball, which was introduced into College athletics for the first time last year. The College was able to recruit a team from U.C., managed by June Andrews, and also one from P.H.E., managed by Betty Davis, president of the Volleyball Club. A series of games were arranged with Victoria and St. Hilda's.

The Badminton Club, under the presidency of Shirley Geldert, U.C., obtained the Margaret Eaton School courts, which was a much improved arrangement over last year.

Hockey received such enthusiastic support that the coach, Kuddie Faber, had difficulty in choosing a team from the large turn-out. The P.H.E. team was coached by Dudley Wilcox. Betty Verity managed this sport for the College.

It was impossible to hold the usual Ski Meet this year. Bowling continued to be a popular recreational sport directed by Mary Savage.

For the first time there were three swimming teams in the College, of which one was U.C. and two P.H.E. Pat Austin, P.H.E., president of the Swimming Club, made arrangements for the Interfaculty Meet to be held as one of the events on the sports calendar of an Athletic night. Joan Vanstone ran the U.C. Meet at which Audrey Lyons was the high point winner. Pat Austin won the P.H.E. Meet, which was managed by Jeanne Stinson.

The College had a successful year, especially from the standpoint of increased active participation, and the year's activities closed with the presentation of awards at the Annual Banquet.

O. T. and P. Athletic Association

THE OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY and Physiotherapy Athletic Association was formed in the fall of 1939 in an attempt to organize the athletic activities of the two courses and to win recognition in inter-faculty competition.

The association, aided by the assistance and co-operation of the Undergraduate Association, has been successful in its work. Teams now take part in basketball, badminton, swimming, hockey and bowling, and only last year four of its members received Junior T's as symbols of their sportsmanship.

This year the Association has shown more activity than ever with each course entering a basketball team of its own, instead of a combined one.

There is no doubt that the future undergrads of O. T. and P. should continue to receive more and more recognition in the athletic field.

The Service of Free Men

In the front lines—on land and sea and in the air—in the production field—Canadians are doing a mighty job to rid the world of aggression.

In every department of war endeavour our University graduates will be found. This bank pays tribute to the prominent part Varsity's sons and daughters are playing in this "all out" fight for freedom.

CALCULATING with A.C. POWER Slide Rule!

The 4 components of A.C. Systems generators, transformers, transmission circuits and live load have been successfully represented in a Network Calculator built by Westinghouse.

First of its kind in Canada, this A.C. Calculating board helps the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario to analyse the electrical labyrinth of existing or projected power networks.

A.C. CALCULATING BOARD
